ALAMEDA, Calif. — Local entrepreneur Jaime Galindo is redefining vehicle care on the island with the continued growth of Alameda Auto Spa, a fully mobile auto detailing service dedicated exclusively to serving Alameda and Bay Farm residents.

Unlike larger out-of-town operations, Alameda Auto Spa was built with a local-first approach — providing personalized, high-quality detailing services specifically for the Alameda community.

“I’m from Alameda. I work in Alameda. My goal has always been to provide residents with a dependable, professional detailing service that genuinely cares about the community and the quality of work being delivered,” said Jaime Galindo, owner of Alameda Auto Spa.

Alameda Auto Spa offers a range of detailing and restoration services including complete interior and exterior detailing, paint protection treatments, waxing, stain removal, headlight restoration, maintenance details, and more — all performed on-site for customer convenience.

The business has become known for its transparent pricing model and personalized customer experience. Vehicle owners can simply text interior and exterior photos of their vehicles to receive accurate pricing before service, eliminating surprise costs upon arrival.

Operating seven days a week, Alameda Auto Spa serves customers throughout Alameda and Bay Farm with a strong emphasis on professionalism, reliability, and consistent results.

As Alameda continues supporting local small businesses and community-based services, Alameda Auto Spa aims to become the island’s trusted name in mobile vehicle detailing.
