ABOUT US

What is our mission statement?

We exist, "To offer the bread of life, by providing works of charity to address various forms of poverty within the society".

The existence of the foundation is aimed to address the harsh reality of our neighbour's misery anguished with extreme material, cultural, and spiritual poverty.

Under the patronage of the Noble Peace Laureate, St. Mother Teresa of Calcutta, the foundation strongly believes that "Service to mankind is service to God". And thus, the B.O.L. foundation holds firmly, nearly and dearly to its heart, the principle of common good. The common good indicates "the sum total of social conditions which allow people, either as groups or as individuals, to reach their fulfilment more fully and more easily". (CCC 1906). The B.O.L. foundation takes pragmatic steps to fulfil the common good of the society by recognizing that the indigent neighbor who is to be loved is everywhere and everyone in the "society" irrespective of caste, creed, color, culture, race, sex, etc.

What is our vision statement?

"To allow people, to reach their ultimate fulfilment more fully and more easily."

What are the objectives of the foundation?

The core objective of the B.O.L. foundation is to 'exercise the works of mercy' (Punyā kārya or Dayā kārya), which are charitable actions by which the foundation comes to the aid of our neighbor in their bodily and spiritual necessities. The core objective is divided into seven corporal, and seven spiritual objectives.

Each of the below seven corporal works of mercy remedies a deficiency in our neighbour's bodily need:

1. Feeding the hungry
2. Giving drink to the thirsty
3. Clothing the naked
4. Sheltering the homeless
5. Visiting the sick
6. Visiting the imprisoned
7. Burying the dead

Each of the below seven spiritual works of mercy remedies a deficiency in our neighbour's spiritual need:

1. Counselling the doubtful
2. Instructing the uneducated
3. Admonishing the sinners
4. Bearing wrongs patiently
5. Forgiving offences willingly
6. Comforting the afflicted
7. Praying for the living and the dead

The B.O.L. foundation will come to the aid of our neighbour in their bodily need, where he or she experiences, consistent lack of resources, whether internal (food, thirst), or external (cloth, shelter), or suffering (diseases, imprisonment and burial). Not only bodily, but human persons suffer deficiencies in their spiritual dimension too, to which the spiritual works of mercy respond, either by imploring the help of God (prayer), intervening by instructing or advising others (treats deficiencies through teaching, provide counselling), comforting (in suffering and sadness), or by reacting to the disorders of their action (admonishing, forgiving, bearing with them). The spiritual works of mercy are therefore more valuable than material aid, although there are situations in which the latter is more urgent (Noye, 1980).

All of the above works of mercy would be exercised and provided, without charge, to people regardless of their religion, gender, social caste, creed, color or nationality. These works of mercy will serve as a testimony of the preferential love for the Poor. It is needless to say that these works of mercy for the indigent are not an optional or an “extra”, but rather its very core, since “God shows the poor ‘his first mercy’” (Evangelii Gaudium, 198).

This option and preferential love for the poor involves a perception and understanding of the different kinds of poverty to which the corporal and spiritual works of mercy refer. It can be observed that the listings of fourteen works of mercy – seven corporal and seven spiritual – corresponds to four kinds of poverty (Kasper, 2013):

1. Physical, or economic poverty: The most basic, poverty of such as having no food, or drink to satisfy hunger and thirst, no roof, no clothes, no shelter, to which could be added unemployment and serious illness or disabilities. This poverty is attested to in the first four corporal works of mercy.
2. Cultural poverty: Physical poverty is followed by cultural poverty, with illiteracy at its root, along with the absence and lack of education opportunities, and, ultimately, the lack of future with the social and cultural exclusions it carries. This poverty is met by the first three spiritual works of mercy,
3. Social and relational poverty: This poverty stems from solitude and withdrawal, the death of a spouse, the death of family members and close friends, external and internal difficulties of social communication of all kinds, discrimination and marginalization, to isolation by imprisonment and exile. This poverty is addressed in the fifth, sixth, and seventh corporal works of mercy and the fifth and sixth spiritual works of mercy.
4. Spiritual poverty: Spiritual poverty means disorientation, inner emptiness, distress, and even despair about the meaning of one’s own existence, moral and spiritual confusion, self-abandonment, the absence or marginalization of the religious dimension, apathy or overwhelming indifference. This poverty is attested in the sixth and seventh (comforting and prayer) spiritual works of mercy.

Obviously, the corporal and spiritual works of mercy need cross-fertilization to ensure that the indigent need not remain in a permanent state of dependency, but to progressively become a “help for self-help” (Kasper). Hence it is important to take comprehensive approach to the works of mercy that is cognizant of the different dimensions of poverty. Finally the B.O.L. foundation embraces the Catholic Church's teaching as her own, about the relationship between charity and justice: "When we attend to the needs of those in want, we give them what is theirs, not ours. More than performing works of mercy, we are paying a debt of justice..." [1]

OUR HISTORY

How was BOL FOUNDATION formed? Who formed it and why?

The BOL Foundation came into existence as a result of a religious vision experienced by the founder Gaurav Joseph Patole in the year 2012. While participating in the 4:30 PM CST Mass at St Ann's Church, Coppell, TX, USA, during the consecration of the host, Gaurav experienced a religious vision where he saw the crucified image of Jesus juxtaposed over the Eucharistic host. This vision was so vivid, it left Gaurav in a state of awe and weeping. This life changing encounter with the Eucharistic Lord would then inaugurate and sow the seeds of the future BOL Foundation. Jesus's biblical mandate to carry the 'works of mercy' for the poor would soon become the foundation's own mandate and objective. As time went along, the foundation started shaping by the ardent support and guidance of Joseph John Patole, Shobha Joseph Patole, Amit Joseph Patole & family.

OUR VALUES

ALTRUISM

The essence of care is service; and such 'service to mankind is service to God'. We care for the poor and the vulnerable by practicing 'Preferential love of the poor'

RESPECT

All humans especially the neglected ones have the right to be treated with respect and dignity. So, we recognize that the thoughts, feelings, and backgrounds of others are as important as our own.

TRANSPARENCY

Transparency implies openness, communication, and accountability. We operate in such a way that it is easy for others to see what responsible actions are performed.

OUR CULTURE

FRUGAL

Impacting more with less available resources is a necessary condition for the existence of the organization. But frugality, is not only necessary to bring greater impact with less resources but also paves the way for innovation towards our growth.

INTEGRITY

Integrity is within our DNA, which helps us to choose right actions and take right decisions even when no one is around us.

DIVERSITY & INCLUSION

Diversity refers to our cultural trait and characteristics that make us unique and inclusion refers to the behaviours and social norms that ensure people feel welcome.

With the advent of COVID-19 our ability to go above and beyond was put to test...

- Joseph John Patole | Chairman & Co-Founder

Similar to last year, it was such a blessing to witness this year's impact that our generous supporters have brought. This year gave continued to give us all a huge surprise with the continuation of COVID-19 variant, which tested our ability to go above and beyond. We as an NGO organization are presented with the toughest of the challenge to feed the poor, give drink to the thirsty, and help the poorest of the poor people. I render my personal thanks to all our benefactors who gave their sacrificial offerings for the good cause. Your gifts are much appreciated by the receiver. We pledge to you to bring your impact and stories in a compelling way so that we transparently showcase your work towards our foundation. God bless you all!

It is quite overwhelming to write an opening remark for this year's annual report. With the continuation of the pandemic, many lives were shattered and put on fence. Everybody looked up to our Govt authorities to come for aid with vaccination drives to its peak. As moral obligation we at BOL Foundation too had to be actively involved in fulfilling our duties towards the people in need. Feeding the hungry, providing water to thirsty, clothing the naked and all other corporal and spiritual works of mercy was the need of the hour. With the blessings of our donors and benefactors we could prevail the time to bring various aids to the indigent in our society. We are immensely humbled by the impact our donors have brought to the needy in our society. COVID-19 and its variants still is nothing short of a catastrophic calamity, but our focus was clear and hence we could continue to triumph in providing timely help for the needy. Next year of 2022, too looks quite challenging for us, but we are determined to do our best. Thanks again, to all our supporters, well-wishers and benefactors. God Bless You!

Sharing is caring, ‘random acts of kindness’ continue to be the key adjectives for us to achieve the impact...

Amit Joseph Patole | Co-Founder & Chief Volunteer

Sharing is caring and random acts of kindness were the key adjectives for us to achieve the impact our benefactors brought forth during the year 2021. We are proud to come to the aid of the indigent people within our society by executing on various projects including “Providing Food”, “Clothing the Naked”, “Providing Water to the thirsty”, etc. The support of our benefactors keeps us constantly motivated towards doing what is right for the needy people. It was not an easy journey, with COVID-19 being the single most challenging factor. However, the support of our donors and contributors stood the test of time and here we are proudly presenting the work brought to you by you.

Our Impact Stories

Because transparency is our core value, and you have a right to know the impact of our grassroots work; Please spend some time to get influenced as you witness our top impact stories for FY21.

During this year, B.O.L. foundation has come to the aid of the needy in their bodily need, where he or she experiences, consistent lack of resources, whether internal (food, thirst), or external (cloth, shelter), or suffering (diseases, imprisonment, and burial). Not only bodily, but human persons suffer deficiencies in their spiritual dimension too, to which the spiritual works of mercy respond, either by imploring the help of God (prayer), intervening by instructing or advising others (treats deficiencies through teaching, provide counselling), comforting (in suffering and sadness), or by reacting to the disorders of their action (admonishing, forgiving, bearing with them). The spiritual works of mercy are therefore more valuable than material aid, although there are situations in which the latter is more urgent (Noye, 1980). So the org impact for FY21 is around corporal and spiritual works of charity.

Feeding the Hungry

Helping with COVID-19 grocery kits

I am Mr Anil Shankar Shinde. I am disabled since childhood and lost my fingers. However, disability does not stop me. I have completed my 10th std studies and I am struggling to find a stable job. Yes, I try my best...", says Mr Anil, a struggling father and husband of a spouse, who too supports her family by earning daily wages by cleaning utensils. Things are very unpredictable as the constant struggle to support the family lies on the hinge of the pandemic lockdown and the state of hunger.

Helping widows with sarees

BOL Foundation engaged in a Christmas drive by bringing moments of joy to the widows of six villages within Ahmednagar's vicinity. During this drive, 'Grocery Kits' along with Sarees (Traditional Indian women's attire) were distributed free of cost to the widows of around six villages including Aagadgaon, Ratadgaon, Ghatdevulgaon, Tokewadi, Khandake, and Bhingar.

Comforting the afflicted

Helping to self-help

We need to strive towards helping the disabled to be one among equals, restoring their dignity and identity within the society. Helping them to be self-abled and less dependent on others. Rooted in the belief, BOL Foundation engaged in yet another works of charity and social justice. Meet Mr Balu Madhav Bede, a disabled person since childhood staying in Bhingar.

Instructing the uneducated

Educating & feeding hungry kids

Recognizing the importance of Children's day, BOL Foundation spent quality time organizing special celebrations with the kids of Indiranagar, a slum area located with 150 households in the surrounding city of Bhingar, Ahmednagar. The BOL Foundation team distributed more than 300+ snacks (cream roll) to 150+ kids along with a smile. While having the snacks, kids eagerly heard a motivation talk given by the Director of BOL Foundation, Mr. Joseph Patole. The talk surrounded the theme of Children's Day and the importance of children within society.

Feeding the poor

Helping flood affected blind families with grocery kits

To bring moments of joy to the visually impaired, BOL Foundation took steps to collaborate and help a community of 40 blind families residing in Chengalpattu, the small town of Chennai in Tamil Nadu. The need was put forward by a budding good samaritan, Jasmine Sathyanathan, a young 17-year old college-going girl.

Giving water to the thirsty

Helping to provide clean water & food

It is late afternoon, and you notice some destitute people are anxiously gazing to have someone serve them a one-time meal. What would be the most opportune occasion for you to fulfil their desire for food? In fact, would you really wait for an opportune time to extend a helping hand to the needy? Not really!

Comforting the afflicted

Helping to self-help

With the numb eyes full of worries, "I'm Gayabai Mahadev Palve. Yes, I'm 80 years old with no one to look after me. No, I'm not here to beg, but to earn a living. Yes, I sell pickle, door-to-door to earn 50 Rs/day.", says this old, aged widow staying in Mehakari town in Ahmednagar. Things are very unpredictable for this old lady, but she has not lost any hope. She continues to travel door-to-door and sells her home-made pickle to earn some money. She travels miles using public transport with the hope to earn something for herself.

Random acts of kindness

In an attempt to find the true meaning of 'Happy Diwali', a 10-year-old lad did something remarkable. Master Aarush Amit Patole studying in 5th grade literally took it on the streets to find the true meaning of Diwali. Instead of bursting crackers with friends on the streets, Aarush decided to spread the true light of Diwali among the poor and needy by distributing food packets.

Random acts of kindness

The young 8 year old, BOL Foundation volunteer, Master Gabriel Patole had a unique way to celebrate the Republic Day 2021, by taking a small step toward fulfilling the "Fundament Right to Food" for some of the most indigent members of the society within the premises of Ahmednagar village.

A father's economic struggle | Pandemic & Child's Dengue

"The work of BOL Foundation is inspiring. Mr. Patole are always trying to help the needy. They work for the poor orphans on the streets. Food and clothing are provided for them. They bear the cost of the hospital for corona sufferers. They provide PPT kits, sanitizers, groceries to the needy at their own expense. During the Corona period when my financial situation was dire, my youngest son fell ill and I needed financial help to pay for his hospital expenses. I got information about BOL Foundation from my friends.

The Patole's called me and they assured me of help. Then their father came to visit Hospital and he examined the patient and credited the hospital expenses to the hospital account. At that time BOL Foundation came to my aid. I am very thankful to them for their help. Best wishes from me and my family for your social service .....", was the joyful testimony from Mr. Balu Kharat.

The BOL Foundation approach

Preferential option for the Poor | Rooted in deep Catholic social teachings.

St. John Paul II

“Love for others, and in the first place love for the poor, in whom the Church sees Christ in himself, is made concrete in the promotion of justice.” St. John Paul II

CCC 2448 "In its various forms - material deprivation, unjust oppression, physical and psychological illness and death - human misery is the obvious sign of the inherited condition of frailty and need for salvation in which man finds himself as a consequence of original sin. This misery elicited the compassion of Christ the Savior, who willingly took it upon himself and identified himself with the least of his brethren. Hence, those who are oppressed by poverty are the object of a preferential love on the part of the Church which, since her origin and in spite of the failings of many of her members, has not ceased to work for their relief, defence, and liberation through numerous works of charity which remain indispensable always and everywhere.

CCC 2444 "The Church's love for the poor . . . is a part of her constant tradition." This love is inspired by the Gospel of the Beatitudes, of the poverty of Jesus, and of his concern for the poor. Love for the poor is even one of the motives for the duty of working so as to "be able to give to those in need." It extends not only to material poverty but also to the many forms of cultural and religious poverty.

Understanding the relation of Charity and Justice

Charity goes beyond justice, because to love is to give, to offer what is “mine” to the other; but it never lacks justice, which prompts us to give the other what is “his”, what is due to him by reason of his being or his acting. I cannot “give” what is mine to the other, without first giving him what pertains to him in justice. If we love others with charity, then first of all we are just towards them. Not only is justice not extraneous to charity, not only is it not an alternative or parallel path to charity: justice is inseparable from charity, and intrinsic to it.

Caritas in Veritate \(“In Charity and Truth”\), Pope Benedict XVI, 2009 #6.

It begins with charity and ends with justice, but from start to end it's an act of love.

- Gaurav Patole, Founder
