Around the World in 18 Ways

Hello, Goodbye

ABOUT THIS BOOK

Read along and learn some polite ways to interact with children all over the world. Whether you travel abroad with your children or stay right at home, a few key words could be the ticket to understanding others. Come along on the journey as we follow the map around the world and learn how to say Hello, Good-bye, Please and Thank You in 18 languages. Around the World in 18 Ways is a delightful jumping off point to teach children about other countries, languages and cultures.

SALES & MARKETING POINTS

- Teach children how to pronounce 4 polite phrases in 18 languages.
- Open dialog with children about other cultures.
- Take a visual journey around the world even if we are stuck at home.
- Help children to connect to people of different cultures in their own neighborhoods.
- Suitable both for children who travel and those at home due to the pandemic.
- Place an emphasis on polite ways to greet people.
- Profits go to the Oak Clinic for Multiple Sclerosis.

MARKETING AND PUBLICITY

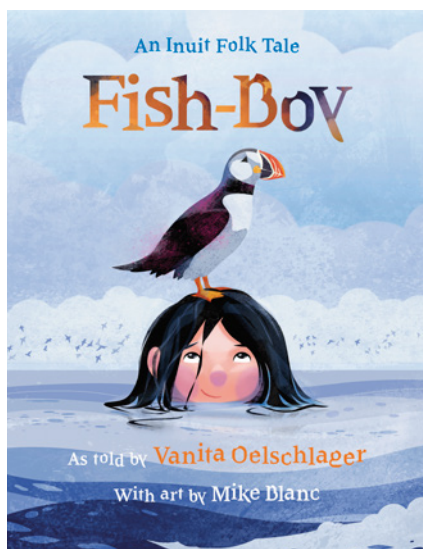

- Ads in book journals.
- Promoting high quality reviews on NetGalley. Participating in their promotional programs.
- Reviews from our general list of over 100 children's book reviewers and bloggers. We continue to solicit reviews from librarians, reviewers, bloggers and moms.
- Visiting schools for readings and art displays.
- Signings at local and chain book retailers.

About the Authors

Vanita Oelschlager has written 30 books for children and adults. Prior to her publishing and writing career, Vanita taught school for 19 years and then helped her husband with his company, Oak Associates. She is a mother of two daughters, stepmother to a son and daughter, and grandmother to ten. She and her husband Jim received a Lifetime Achievement Award from the National Multiple Sclerosis Society in 2006. She was named National Volunteer of the Year by the MS society in 2008. She was honored as 2009 Woman Philanthropist of the Year by the Summit County United Way. In May 2011, Vanita received an honorary Doctor of Humane Letters from University of Mount Union. Vanita and her team help young budding authors and illustrators write and illustrate their own books with the LeBron James Foundation's Promise Authors program. In 2014 she was named one of the Women Trailblazers by the Multicultural Center at the University of Akron. She and her husband Jim were honored with the 2016 Bert A. Polsky Humanitarian Award.

Lynda Durrant has published seven award-winning historic fiction novels. Her local historical society published a novel about the first family to live in her 1850 farmhouse.

Edward Field. In the 1960s he was asked to translate a book of Inuit Eskimo poems for a teaching program. He received many honors for his poetry and toured the country reading at universities as well as The Library of Congress. He lives in New York City with his blind partner with whom he has collaborated on several novels under their pseudonym Bruce Elliot.

About the Illustrators

Kristin Blackwood is a teacher and frequent illustrator of books for children. A graduate of Kent State University, Kristin has a degree in Art History. When she isn't designing or teaching, she enjoys being a mother to her two daughters.

Robin Hegan has many artistic talents, but enjoys illustrating children's books the most. She is a graduate of The Pennsylvania State University with a degree in Integrative Arts. Robin resides in Pennsylvania with her husband and three children.

Mike Blanc is an award-winning illustrator of children's literature. Titles include The Gandy Dancers, Postcards from a Wax, The Pullman Porter, and Bonyo Bonyo, created with associate artist Kristin Blackwood. In 2016 he wrote and illustrated Cimarron Girl, The Dust Bowl Years of Abigail Brubaker.

Joe Rossi is an Illustrator and Graphic Designer originally from Youngstown, Ohio who currently works in Akron, Ohio. He graduated from Youngstown State University with a Bachelor of Fine Arts and a Minor in Art History. He is the recipient of numerous Addy Awards and has artwork published in the Official Michael Jackson Opus, by Kraken Opus.

Mike DeSantis creates puzzles and illustrations for children's books and magazines. He attended the Cleveland Institute of Art and received a BS in Management from Case Western Reserve University. Mike lives near Cleveland with his wife, three wonderful children, and two barking dogs.

Aloha

VanitaBooks publishes books for children ages 3-12. Stories are told in the classic fable style: short tales teaching a moral or value, often through animals as the main characters. Many titles present a dilemma or fear that a child may have, and resolves those issues through the loving and reassuring guidance of a parent, or through the plot of the story itself.
