In Memorial: Walter Harlan Beadling III, Belle Mead, NJ – 71 – Passed September 28, 2021

Walt was a CJCUC steering committee member from 2011 to his passing in 2021. It was, and is, with great sadness for us and his wife Jan and his children Walter the IV, Charles and Alicia, that he is no longer with us.

Walt was a patriot that loved America. His many contributions to Montgomery Township and the CJCUC are far too extensive to be contained in this program.

He last attended our CJCUC annual picnic in 2020 and was asked to speak during the segment honoring our veterans and Walt recited President Lincoln's Gettysburg Address.

Walt doesn't get too excited about much – but for this, he was honored and ecstatic. He picked the version that he thought was most accurate and he read with a passion that only a man of letters such as Walt could do.

Thank you, Walt, for all that you have contributed to our Country, Montgomery Township and the CJCUC. May you rest in peace.

Rev. Marion Sanders

Rev. Sanders was ordained in the United Methodist Church in 1994 and has served churches in Mercer, Somerset, Hunterdon, and Warren counties.

She currently happily serves as pastor of the small, historic East Millstone United Methodist Church in Somerset, NJ. She conducts traditional worship and preaches Biblically grounded sermons on the life of faith, Christian doctrine, and discipleship.

She had a “political conversion” in 2008 after being a life-long voting Democrat and after reading alternative media and rejecting the extreme left-wing lurch of the Democrat Party.

Rev. Sanders has been married to her dear husband, Ed since 1987 and they have a son, Kieran.

Mr. Ray Dijon, Singer and Songwriter

Ray is not only a patriotic singer but, a songwriter as well having written a song in favor of President Donald Trump titled – “RESPECT IS CALLED UPON.” A YouTube music video was also made with this song.

Many other Ray Dijon original songs are contained in his 2018 CD album titled - “WE ARE ALL THE SAME.”

Ray’s singing our national anthem and other patriotic songs can be enjoyed throughout the conservative community when he appears at rallies, flag waves and conferences.

In Memorial: Robert Hrasna – 63 – Passed April 20, 2022

Robert Hrasna left this earth two months ago after a short illness. He was a Point Pleasant native and career Coast Guard serviceman with a lifelong love of the ocean.

He graduated from the new Seminary in NY, was ordained an interfaith minister in 2004 and served as a board member of A World Alliance of Interfaith Clergy from 2008-2010 as Chairman, then until 2014.

Ms. Patty Hoch, Singer

Patty's love for music began early in life singing through Catholic Grammar School, High School and Georgian Court University. Her talent reached Yankee Stadium where she sang the National Anthem.

She comes from a military family. Her father, Edward Baiano, was a WWII soldier who received the Bronze Star and her daughter served in the National Guard.

Recently, her Great Uncle, St. Justin Russolilo, was canonized on May 15, 2022.

Mr. Gregory Quinlan, Founder, President – The Center for Garden State Families

Gregory Quinlan left the homosexual lifestyle in 1992. Greg was a gay activist for 10 years lobbying in Washington DC & Ohio for the homosexual agenda. As an LPN and then Registered Nurse he watched over 100 of his friends and acquaintances die of AIDS. He has shared his testimony on the 700 Club, TBN, countless radio programs and has been quoted in USA Today, The Wall Street Journal, The New York Times, WorldNet Daily among others.

He has a compelling testimony of leaving homosexuality and boldly stands in the public square proclaiming that “Homosexuality doesn’t have to last a lifetime, Ex-Gays prove change is possible.” In February 2016 Greg’s testimony is featured in Charisma Magazine and in the 2015 video Light Wins.

Currently, Greg Quinlan is a minister and has been passionately debating the gay and anti-family and traditional marriage in 27 states including the district of Columbia.

Greg Quinlan is founder of the Pro-Family Network, was president of PFOX (Parents and families of Ex-Gays) and President of Equality & Justice for All). During the last 8 years, Quinlan worked as Director of clergy & governmental affairs for the New Jersey Family Policy Council.

He is co-founder of the NJ Living Free Ministries of NJ, where he assists those seeking to leave the homosexual lifestyle and offers support for families and friends who have been affected. Reverend Quinlan is a licensed minister with Solid Rock International Church, and today he serves in Mountaintop Church Assembly of God in Mt. Olive, NJ where he is minister of visitation and where most recently is pursuing his credentials with the Assembly of God.

Mr. Quinlan has more than 35 years of experience of lobbying and governmental matters and is a fierce proponent fighting for the natural family since 1992. He now seeks to serve the Lord through the Center of Garden State Families.

Ms. Karen Anderson – Local Mom – Montgomery Township, NJ

Karen has lived in Montgomery Township since 2001. Raising 2 children in this township over a 20-year span, she has seen how the school district has changed, and not for the better. Karen moved to this area because of its beauty and community offerings – and was very surprised that everyone else moves here for the education.

She learned this while attending a single school board meeting in the mid 2000's - a Montgomery school board member touted "well we know why everyone moves to Montgomery – for the school district!" Ironically, this year she now attends school board meetings monthly, along with many other parents, to be a voice against the assaults that are taking place on religious values, the under-analyzed requirements of masking children, the new sex-ed curriculum being forced into our NJ school systems and Montgomery school district's support of "Drag Queen Story Time" on school premises. She invites everyone to attend their local school board / BOE meetings.

"This is not solely about "my" kids or even "our" kids. This is a fight against a concerted effort to indoctrinate our future society; and your tax dollars are paying for it.

RIGGED The Zuckerberg Funded Plot to Defeat Donald Trump - 2022

The 2020 presidential election left more questions than answers. Over 10 million more Americans voted for President Donald Trump in 2020 than in 2016, yet the president lost. Today, an overwhelming number of Americans say democracy is under attack.

Rigged The Zuckerberg Funded Plot to Defeat Donald Trump investigates Facebook CEO Mark Zuckerberg's role in the election. Rigged looks at the nearly $400 million Zuckerberg spent nationally in voter operation efforts, particularly in the battleground states of Wisconsin, Arizona, and Georgia. 42,000 votes in those three states are the reason Joe Biden is president.

Featuring exclusive interviews with President Donald J. Trump, and many others, Rigged follows the money and uncovers the startling facts behind Election 2020 in order to answer the question once and for all: What happened. And to insure it never happens again.

Mr. Jeffrey Grant, Central Jersey Conservative Union – Co-Founder, Steering Committee Member

Jeff is one of several steering committee members and a founding member of the Central Jersey Conservative Union. Since his having “woke” in 2010 to the infringement by government on our freedom, he has been part of helping our group's outreach out to fellow citizens so that by informing everyone of government excesses to help stimulate meaningful action to retard government overreach.

After attending Center for Self Governance programs (www.centerforselfgovernance.com) he has completely reformulated his understanding on what government is, how it works and how it is supposed to function. In an effort to help rejuvenate the Republican Party with a meaningful clarity of purpose, Jeff, and a team of faithful, family and freedom loving supporters, competed in the 2021 GOP primary race for Senate District 16, garnering 36% of the votes. See www.jeffreygrant4statesenate.org

Jeff has lived in Montgomery since 2005 with three children and is a graduate of Tulane University with a BS in mechanical engineering and Rutgers University with a master's in business administration. He is a licensed Professional Engineer ("PE") in NJ and PA.

Jeff's is an energy expert and served thirteen years on the Somerset County Energy Council.

Darius Mayfield, for America Congress NJ-12

Darius Mayfield, Congressional candidate in New Jersey's 12th District, has a journeyed past that brings him to this pivotal point in today's political landscape. Bringing his fervor of people and doing right by them is one of the major reasons why he chose to run for office. His motto of "Not Black. Not White. American." is more than a belief but a way of life; placing collective goals of citizens and residents ahead of special interest groups. He is a self-made business strategist, political commentator and political visionary who has partnered with CEOs, executives, and solopreneurs to grow their personal and professional brands, human-to-human, team-to-team.

He attributes his humble beginnings of living in Section 8 with his mother and sister as his motivation to achieve success, not only for himself, but for all ambitious Americans. As a result of the lack of school choice, Darius brings this matter to the forefront of his campaign; willing to make a change in the education system that benefits the student, rather than the machine. Thusly, he entered the auto industry at age 17, became the youngest sales manager of a Top 25 US auto group, and became the first Black general manager in the third fastest growing auto group in the US for 2019.

A proponent of lowering property and business taxes, Darius' conservative values ring true in his belief of accountability, success through hard work, family foundations, and having strong ties to the community.

As the Chief Executive Officer of Marvel US Management, a boutique strategy and marketing firm, Darius has managed talent who have signed with major music labels, featured in blockbuster films, changed the real estate technology dichotomy, partnered with innovative, inclusive, and diverse startups and established companies alike, to move the conversation forward in fashion, business, and the nonprofit sector. In addition to his extensive business and political experience, Darius's philanthropic endeavors have seen him cofound Heart A Cause, an event series dedicated to annual marketing and fundraising efforts for local organizations with causes close to his heart and American Cleanup, a volunteer community effort cleaning up underserved neighborhoods, one at a time, across America. He has also partnered with personal tax service giant, H&R Block for the rollout of a multi-state fundraising and food bank donation partnership with the Salvation Army.

Darius has received a multitude of awards including Google 5-Star Rated Dealership, Generation Best Sales Manager for Outstanding Performance and was a Chief Marketer of the Future Nominee. Darius has been featured on CNN, Comedy Central, Fox News, Fox Sports, HGTV, BET, Gateway Pundit, Newsmax, local news outlets and political junkets and roundtables with Senator Ted Cruz, esteemed lawyer, Anthony Pope, Conservative commentator/strategist Rich Valdes and Republican strategist, John Burnett.

A proud New Jerseyan and patriot, Darius foresees a bright future ahead where exemplifying the change we want to see is second nature.

Patricia (Pat) Johnson, for NJ Assembly, 14

Mercer County native, Patricia Johnson was raised by hardworking middle-class parents. After putting herself through school, she began her nursing career in the critical care unit at Fox Chase Cancer Institute.

She has since gained a wide variety of work experience due to her entrepreneurial spirit. Patricia has owned and operated a successful family childcare business out of her home. Her passion for children led her to address Senators and Congressman in support of Bill 549 Chaired by Senator Vitale and Co-Chaired by Senator Shirley Turner.

Other ventures include the creation of a medical feeding device and working as the Vice President of Product Development at a medical start-up. Patricia is passionate about the determinants of quality of life and working to create meaningful change. Throughout her life, she has committed endless hours to volunteer work with various community organizations.

Her latest project has involved overseeing a team of 30 in making and distributing approximately 7,000 face masks during the coronavirus pandemic. In honor of her hard work, Patricia has received awards, letters, and Challenge Coins from the Trenton Police Commissioner, Trenton Fire Departments and Homeland Security which are among her most treasured possessions.

“...it is easily recognized that when I believe strongly in something, it becomes my passion to fight for what I believe in.” – Pat Johnson.

Michael Havardansky, for South Brunswick Mayor

Mike and his wife Kathy of 26 years have lived in the Kingston section of South Brunswick for the last 25 years along with two sons, Michael and Alex who are 24 and 20, respectively. My older son went through South Brunswick schools and the younger son went through Catholic school at St Augustine's and St. Joe's.

Kathy and Mike are the Republican committee people for South Brunswick Legislative District 3 and Mike is the Vice President and Controller of an apparel company located in Bristol PA.

As a member of St Augustine of Canterbury Church, Mike is active in the Men's Cornerstone ministry and a member of the Knights of Columbus.

Community activities throughout his parenting years were coaching little league, flag football and basketball when their boys played. And up until a few years ago Mike played in the adult ice hockey leagues in at Pro-Skate in Somerset.

Mike chose to run for South Brunswick Mayor to bring to bear his accounting expertise to ensure efficient application of taxpayer dollars and eliminate the current lack of financial transparency.

Also, South Brunswick's roadway and traffic infrastructure's decline can no longer be ignored. Roadway conditions and traffic jams have failed to keep up with a doubling of population growth over the past 25 years let alone the fact that the South Brunswick section of Route 1 has since its inception, reduces the three lanes north and south of town to a two-lane bottleneck.

A growing town can be a good thing, but not when this growth occurs at the expense of the community as gathering options such as roller-rinks, restaurants and movie theaters give way to warehouses and stoic retail strips centers. For South Brunswick to thrive again, we will begin afresh in intelligently developing the community infrastructure needed to restore the spirit and character of South Brunswick.

An American Credo, by Don Feder – May 28, 1999 – Jewish World Review

"I am an American. I was conceived at Plymouth, born in Lexington and Concord, and reached maturity at Philadelphia.

I went through the fires of Shiloh, Guadalcanal, the Chosin Reservoir, Khe Sanh and a thousand other battlefields, and emerged rededicated to the ideals on which America was founded.

I am an American. Ever ready to defend my liberty and independence, to make any sacrifice and bear any burden - still, I seek no quarrel.

I march to the sound of the guns out of necessity alone. I fight not for glory or territory, or to make others bend to my will, but to vindicate my rights and preserve my freedom.

I am an American. I'm proud of my past. Words like Valley Forge, Gettysburg Address and Pearl Harbor -- names like Washington, Jackson, Lincoln and Teddy Roosevelt -- make my blood stir.

Glancing behind me, I see generations of men and women who labored and struggled, lived and died to let me stand where I am today -- who cleared the land, planted the crops, built the factories, raised the cities and made the discoveries that created a civilization which all the silent, suffering ranks of slaves, serfs and subjects who came before them could never imagine.

I am an American. While recognizing the errors that were made in nation-building (has a nation ever been built exclusively on light?) - I proclaim America's past glorious indeed, a boon to humanity, and consider myself among the blessed of the earth to share this nation's destiny.

I am an American. Liberty is my birthright. To speak my mind, choose my leaders and legislators, defend my home and family, and worship the Creator in my fashion -- these are not privileges, but God-given rights. Governments can respect or deny them; they cannot change them.

I am an American. I have no rulers. Those who make, interpret and enforce our laws are servants. When they no longer recognize that verity, their authority loses legitimacy.

I am an American. My rights are a sacred trust to be exercised in the cause of justice and virtue. They are not the playthings of a spoiled child or mechanisms of self-indulgence.

I am an American. English is my language. Our ancestors arrived on these shores speaking everything from Chinese to Yiddish. It was English that united us, that allowed us to overcome age-old antagonisms.

From the Mayflower Compact to the latest piece of legislation introduced in Congress, our history and heritage are written in the tongue of the Magna Carta and the King James Bible.

I am an American. I have no distinctive race, religion or ethnicity. I am black, white, yellow, brown and red -- Catholic, Protestant, Jew and Hindu. I came here from the hamlets of Old England, the bogs of Ireland, Napoli's sunny shore, the Pale of Settlement and the villages of Vietnam.
American isn't a color or creed, but a state of mind.

I am an American. I welcome immigrants who are here to work and build, who identify with our past and ideals, who were spiritual Americans before they landed. Broken English is fine, as long as faith remains unbroken. An American speaks with the heart as much as the lips.

I am an American. My ism is Americanism. I reject all dogmas and ideologies. Collectivism, racism, militarism and imperialism have no place here. The rot that's eaten away at the soul of so many nations and cultures must be fiercely resisted.

I am an American. I recognize only one loyalty higher than allegiance to our flag -- faith in God. I acknowledge that America and God, the physical and the spiritual, are inseparable. America was founded by people of faith and grew to greatness by His grace. I pray that we will always be the instruments of His will.

I am an American. I weep over the fact that American history is no longer taught in our schools. In its place is a worldly, cynical skepticism inculcated by authors and educators at war with our basic values.

I am an American. I cringe at the collection of connivers, cowards, clowns and quacks that passes for our political leadership. I wonder that so many of my compatriots have no idea what America means and show no gratitude for the blessings that are theirs.

I am an American. My ranks grow thin; the night closes in. Whether I will be the last of my kind or the vanguard of their resurgence, only time will tell.”
