WRCNU's 7th Annual Wildlife Baby Shower and Open House (April 28, 29 & 30th)

Each year our event continues to grow—hundreds participate and we hope you will join us! We have amazing sponsors and lots of support from businesses and individuals promising to make this year the best yet.

A Few of the Awesome Auction Items and Activities from Last Year!

Kids' Crafts and Raptor Presentations

Our Annual Open House allows the public to meet our volunteers and staff, view parts of our facility, and through one-way viewing and Closed Circuit TV you may get a glimpse of any wildlife babies we have in our care.

Enjoy our education animal ambassadors, light refreshments, crafts and games for children as well as many sponsored silent auction baskets and items for "the big kids". This event is a big step to starting us on the right path for the coming "Baby Season."

Many of our 2017 Business Supporters (as of this printing):

Ways To Support Your WRCNU "Baby Shower"!

FIRST! Please attend during one of our three Open House days (Friday, Saturday or Sunday) April 28, 29, or 30th. Of course, you can come all three days if you wish and many do—FUN for the entire family!

SECOND! Please Bring a "Shower Gift". Our event is free, but after all, it is a Baby Shower and we just LOVE "STUFF". For ideas of items we really need, please go to www.wrcnu.org and click on the "Ways To Help" Tab.

THIRD! You get COOL STUFF and we get cash! Help us convert our many incredible sponsor baskets into much needed "Cash for Rehab". We always need cash for vet bills, medical supplies, specialty animal foods and more.

FOURTH! If you absolutely can't afford a gift, then we would still love to have you come and see our Center, our staff and amazing volunteers and animal ambassadors; just promise us you'll come to enjoy yourselves and learn as much as you can about reducing the impact of living with nature whether in your backyards or elsewhere.

FINALLY! If you'd like to come, but can't (we will be really 😞 sad) but please check out the many ways to support WRCNU on our website's Donation Page: www.wrcnu.org

2017 is Gearing Up to be a Record-breaking Year!

WRCNU has treated over 16,200 wildlife patients since 2009. In 2016, we treated 2,484 wild animals and so far in 2017 we are already at an all-time high for this time of year. We CANNOT do this without YOU on our team; PLEASE JOIN US!

The Final Chapter: remember “Galileo” the injured Short-eared Owl from 2016? We are more than pleased to report he was approved for transfer to our own SLC HawkWatch International’s (HWI) education program where he will no doubt be a huge hit. Although we are all sad he was not able to be released back into the wild, we know that HWI will provide Galileo with a great home and future where he will help teach their conservation, environmental and natural history lessons to the local communities of Utah. Special thanks to Ron Dudley for allowing us use of his photographs of Galileo.

Did You Find a Baby Animal on the Ground? Please call a licensed wildlife rehabber BEFORE picking it up; most often it’s just a fledgling being fed by its parents and learning to fly; keep pets away for 24-72 hours and it will be just fine. Wildlife parents always do a better job. If it doesn’t have all its feathers, it may have fallen from the nest too soon—call us and we’ll help you make the right decision. You can also go to our website’s Wildlife Resources section at www.wrcnu.org for our “I Found a Baby Bird” Flowchart.

Left: a “Nestling” is a baby that is naked or without “true feathers”, this one belongs back in its nest.

Left: a “Fledgling” is a young bird with true feathers learning to fly and find food while supervised by parents—give them 24-72 hrs to “figure it out”. Stay away, keep pets indoors, and watch from inside your house as the parents feed and care for their baby; you may hear parents and baby call to each other.

CHIPMUNK CLUB SUPPORTERS!

The Youth of today will inherit whatever we adults leave them—will it be a world of beauty or disaster? Many of our determined Youth will not stand idle and wait for the uncertain times, they step up today and take charge of their futures. Thankfully, WRCNU is often the recipient of the amazing work and generosity of our inspiring Youth. In recognition of these amazing young leaders, WRCNU came up with the “Chipmunk Club” to thank those who each year support us through supply drives, donations from their “allowance”, Boy and Girl Scout award Projects, and much more.
