MEMOIR

A man after God's own heart. Marlon loved the Lord. On any given day, you could find him listening to his favorite station, Caribbean Power Jam Radio early in the morning. He texted his cousin often about the Word and love sharing stories about what he learned. He loved to sing praises to the Lord. He was excited at the thought that friends or clients would come and see him sing. One of his favorite moments was witnessing Isreal Haughton from the choir stand as a proud member of the Male Chorus. Special thanks to Brother Ken for encouraging Marlon to join.

Marlon juggled many commitments to make it to fellowship and you could see his beautiful shiny bald head and pearly whites a mile away.

"MY WIFE"

It was a warm day in September. "The Settings Lounge " where Marlon met the love of his life. He was dancing and enjoying himself, while she was looking to escape the thrust of a stranger. She noticed a different dance which was later identified to be a "wind" and so she decided to move towards him. He never touched her with his hands but he stole her heart. He didn't have any "rap" and she couldn't really understand his accent but he showed his Professional Boxing ID card and while she was unimpressed it was his quiet vibe and a profound biblical statement that made her want to know more. He proposed one year later. On 9/30/2000 in an intimate wedding, two became one flesh and on 1/10/2005 a prodigy was born. Madison Taylor Haynes is their only child. They became Earth, Wind & Fire.

YOU LOVED ME...

Oh, what a privilege it was to serve you. The gaze into your eyes to understand your silent grace. I am humbled to rub my head for you and to bring you a drink of water every time you needed it. The ice chips were the best.

I loved to wash your feet. I love to push you in the wheelchair with Madison and buy you a lot of ice cream.

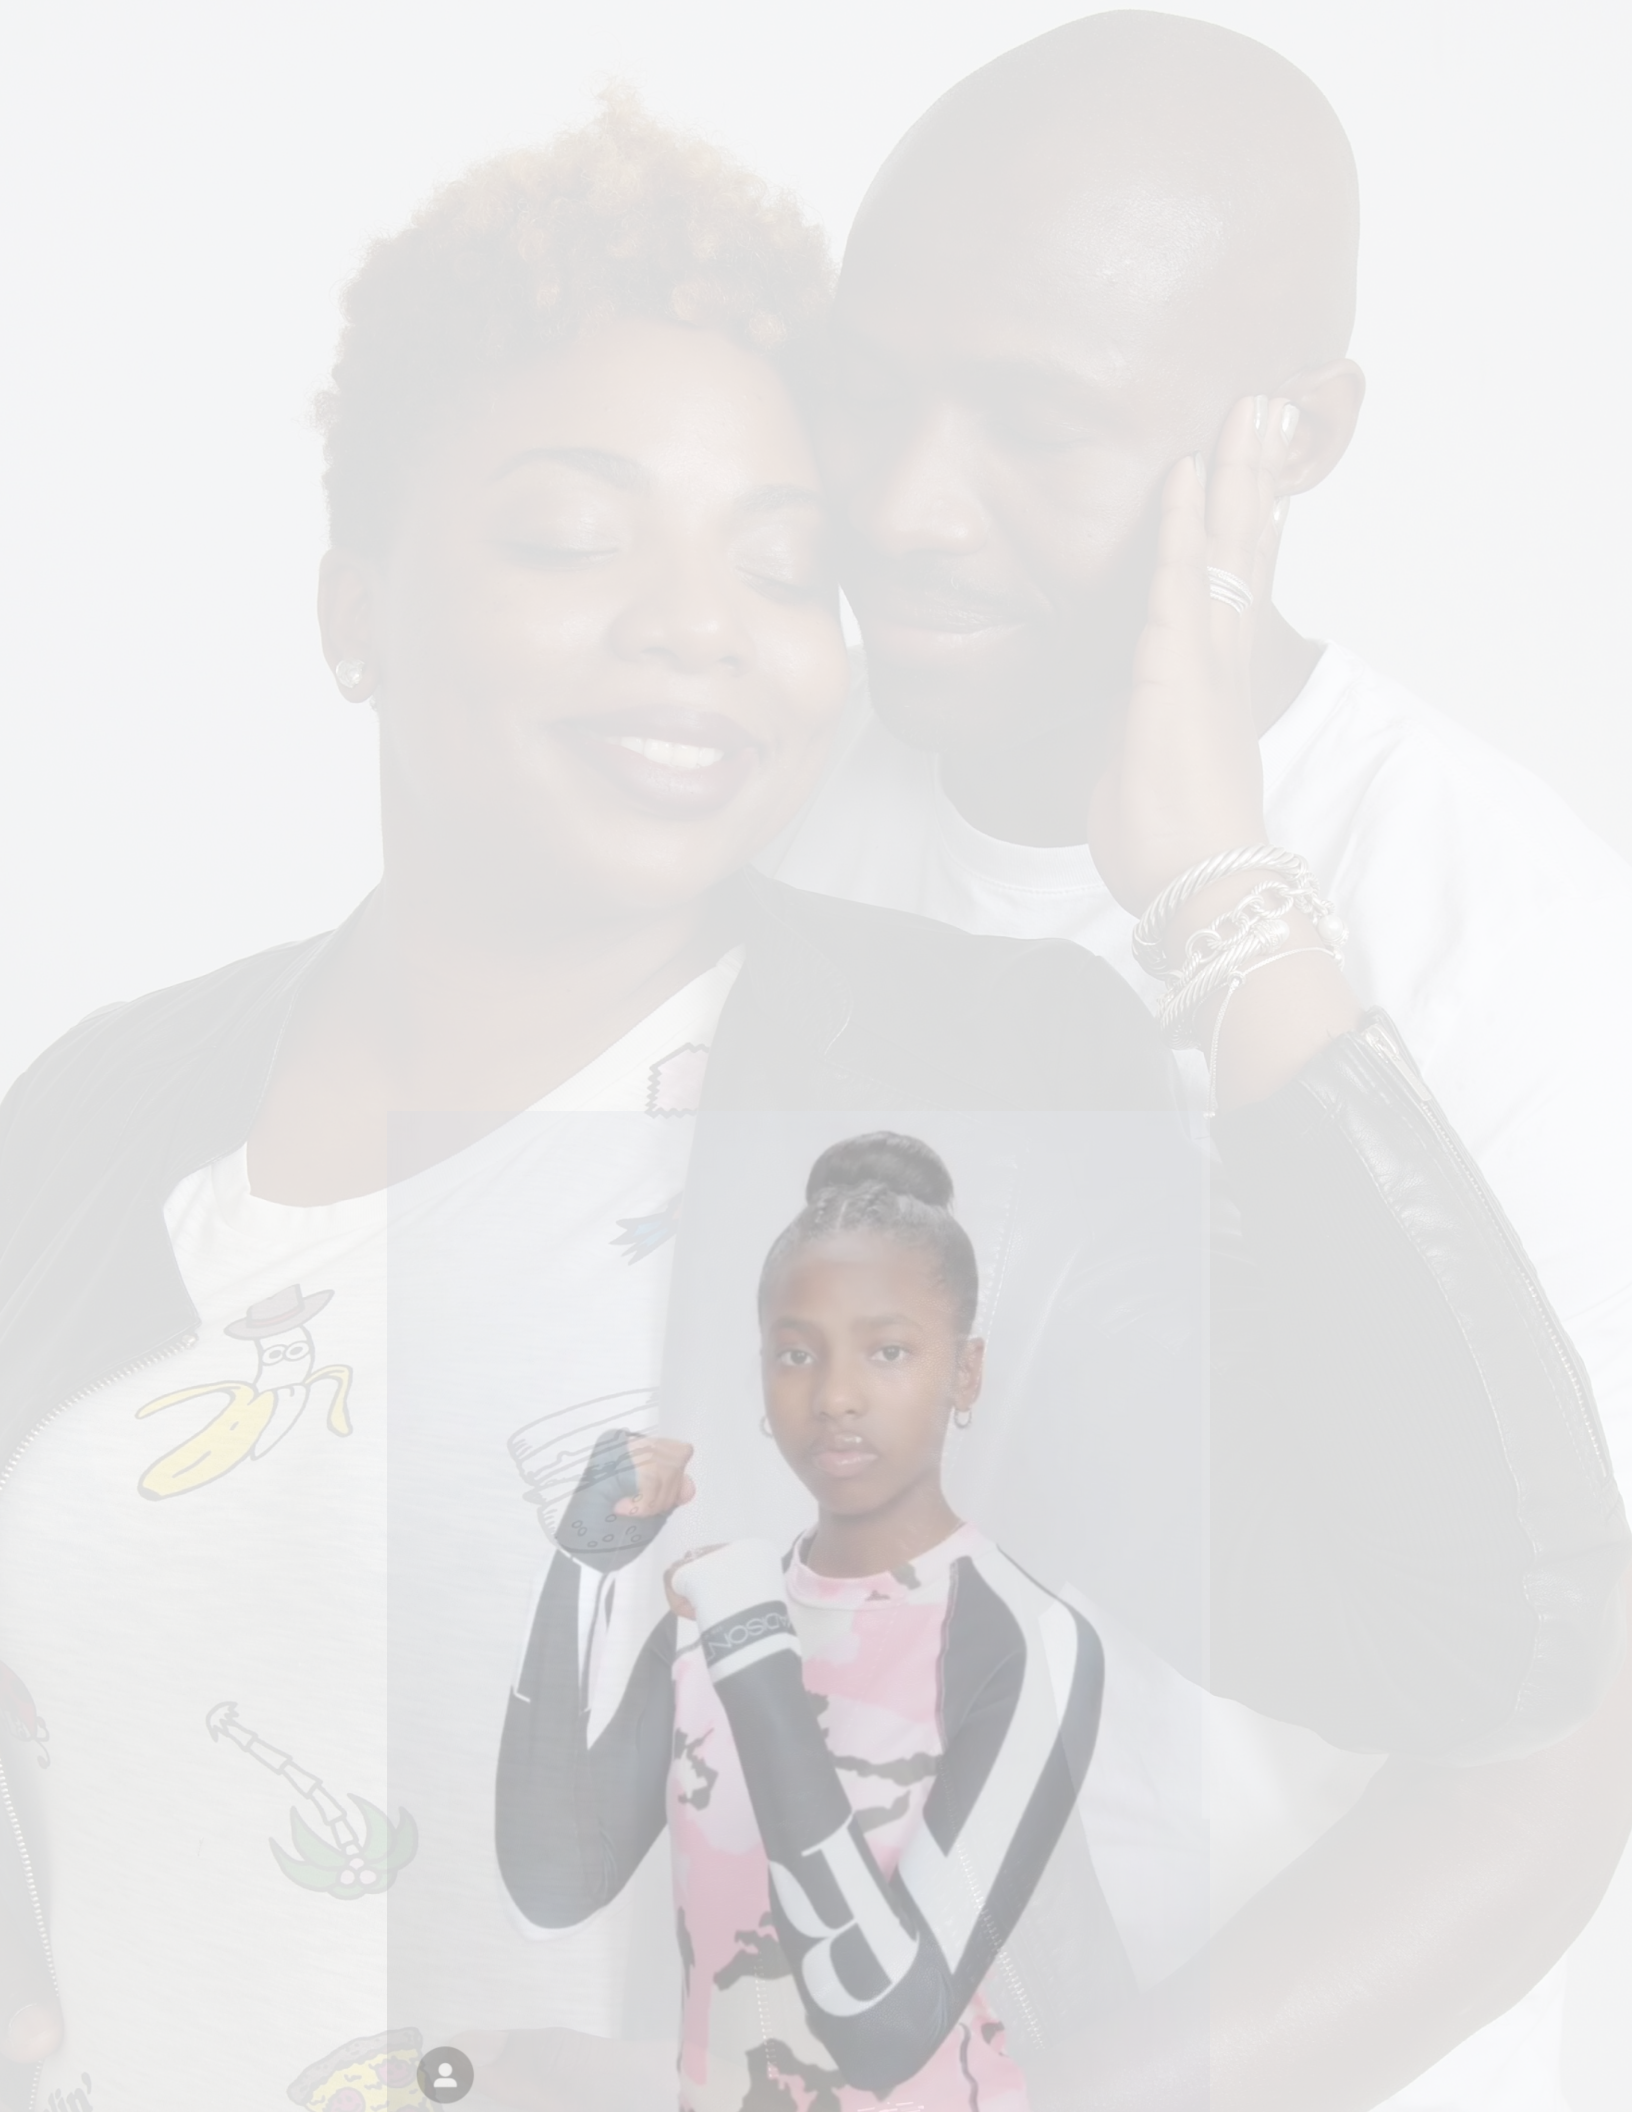

God's generosity has given us intimacy. It was romantic. You said I did a good job. That's all needed to hear Marly. I obeyed you and I am not ashamed. What a wonderful life to serve a KING like you. Every breath, every challenge, you took without a complaint. You said there was no Test without a Testimony. Marly! You passed the Test. Marriages are restored and Men are revered. I was looking forward to another round, we were almost 21, but you are taking territories and that is fine by me. I'll see you in Heaven.
