AIM-TN partners with Siemens to address food insecurity

Brownsville Brooklyn, NY, May 12, 2020. With schools closed throughout New York because of the COVID-19 pandemic and food insecurity skyrocketing, AIM-TN partners with Siemens to help in addressing this challenge facing communities. 900 food bags large enough to provide multiple meals were distributed to deprived families in Brownsville Brooklyn. AIM-TN facilitated food acquisition and the distribution resources necessary for the successful execution of this community initiative. A special thanks to the five New York Alumni Chapters of Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity for their partnership in providing the local manpower needed for food bag assembly and delivery.

AIM-TN's mission is to empower communities through strategic youth development programs, health and wellness initiatives and community service events, while partnering with the corporate community to effectively generate change.
