Principles For Trusted Elections

MY PRINCIPLES FOR TRUSTED ELECTIONS PLEDGE

I respect the checks and balances defined in the United States Constitution, and I support the electoral processes that protect the freedoms, liberties, and opportunities assured by our democratic institutions and norms. Elections must be conducted according to the rule of law – in a transparent, unbiased, and secure process. I am guided by the Principles for Trusted Elections that uphold five core norms of democratic elections: integrity, nonviolence, secure voting, responsible oversight, and trusted outcomes.

MY ENDORSEMENT

Monica Alponte

Libertarian Candidate for Congress in Arizona, District 1

"To help break the uniparty monopoly and make way for America First, pro-peace and freedom candidates: NO KINGS!"

THE FIVE SHARED STANDARDS

The Principles ask each of us to uphold five shared standards:

1. Honest Process: Follow election law and address credible concerns through evidence and lawful procedures.
2. Nonviolent Campaign: Compete vigorously while rejecting violence, threats, and intimidation.
3. Secure Voting: Protect elections against fraud and interference while safeguarding every eligible voter's right to participate.
4. Responsible Oversight: Support transparency and accountability while respecting the lawful roles of election officials and observers.
5. Trusted Outcomes: Resolve disputes through lawful processes and uphold certified results once all lawful challenges are resolved.
