

Are you interested in hosting a class instructed by Code 2 K-9 & Law Enforcement Training Services?

Here's what you need to know!

Q: What type of seminars does Code 2 offer?

A: Code 2 offers seminars of varying lengths covering a multitude of topics including:

- Criminal Interdiction
- Criminal Patrol in Rural Areas
- Rural Patrol Tactics
- K-9 Problem Solving
- K-9 Supervision
- Courtroom Testimony
- Organized Motorcycle Club & Street Gang Investigations
- Talk-the-Talk: Effective Street Gang Communications
- Search Warrant Preparation
- Terrorism in the U.S.
- Developing and Sustaining Interdiction Teams
- Busting Bad Guys 101
- Evidence Collection and Preservation
- Crime Scene Investigation
- Understanding a Crime Lab
- Crime Scene Awareness for First Responders
- Fire Scene Evidence Collection
- Marijuana and Hemp
- Opioids and Naloxone

Q: What's required to host a class?

A: The hosting agency is responsible for arranging a suitable-sized venue equipped with audio & video equipment. If no audio & video equipment is available on-site, Code 2 can provide it. If the class is going to be hands-on, a parking lot or indoor garage/shop will be needed.

Q: How much does it cost to host a class?

A: The question you should be asking is, "What's in it for us?" When you decide to host a class with Code 2, your agency WILL receive free seats! The number of seats you receive free-of-charge is dependent on the size of the class and the number of paid seats. Contact us so we can work out the details!

Q: Are your instructors experts in their field?

A: Yes, ABSOLUTELY! All Code 2 instructors "practice (or have practiced) what they preach"! Not only that, but all Code 2 instructors design their own curriculum and teach their own material – so you get it FIRST HAND!

Q: If necessary, are your instructors prepared (and able) to provide expert witness testimony in court?

A: Again, YES! This, unfortunately, is often overlooked when it comes to attending training. If the instructors aren't willing to back-up what they teach in a court of law, is the training really worth attending to being with? While there would be additional expenses for this service, each Code 2 instructor stands ready and prepared to defend their curriculum! That being said, we won't testify on your behalf if you do something contrary to the way you're taught by our instructors!
