POTENTATE'S MESSAGE

We had a busy February, starting off with the installation of the playground equipment, TSA Mid-Winter in San Antonio, the Jeeps Blood Drive, and the College Classic in Arlington. March looks just as busy with the Nobility Ball, Clown Mid-Winter, TSSSA Mid-Winter, and TASOB Mid-Winter. Please be careful in all of your travels. Daylight Saving Time begins on March 9th, so we'll finally get some longer days.

The Imperial Session is in Atlanta, GA this year. This will be the closest it will be for the next three years, at least. If you can afford the time off, it promises to be a good time. Competitions are on Saturday, June 28th, the Shrine parade is on Sunday, and business sessions are Monday through Thursday. Please make plans to attend if at all possible.

Thank you, Nancy Kelly, for organizing the beginning of the Nobility Ball. Lanita and her crew really stepped up and made the event a huge success. We all had a great time. Lady Lisa and I can't express our appreciation enough. Thank you to everyone who came out to celebrate with us.

If you have any suggestions for things that can be improved or need repairs, please reach out to any of the Divan members or the office.

Happy Spring, y'all!

Mike Cowan

BEHIND THE GLASS
BY CRAIG HUGHES
WORKING SINGLE HANDED:

As part of our ongoing efforts to keep our temple financially sound, we have taken on numerous additional responsibilities. In addition to the Shrine itself, we now have a venue for hire, run a storage facility, and operate a U-Haul rental business. On top of these, we also organize various fundraisers, activities, and large events throughout the year. For this, we have two employees, one of whom is part-time. While each of these ladies does an outstanding job, the situation can become overwhelming when one of them is out on vacation, sick, or dealing with other contingencies.

This has recently been the case for the very happy reason that Stacie's only daughter has recently graduated from basic Marine Corps training and will soon be heading to specialty training in aircraft and engine maintenance. We are all very proud of this smart and tough young woman and are happy that her parents can be with her at her graduation. Still, this leaves Kim alone in the office, which can and does make for some very hectic days.

I ask that, on these and similar occasions, members requiring services from the office be patient. We assure all members that it is our highest priority to fully meet the needs of the membership. We will certainly address your issues as quickly as possible, but we do have limited resources. I, too, have been remiss in this regard, and I will, in the future, attempt to make myself more available in the office during times when we are short-staffed.

This situation is likely to become even more acute as we approach TSA here in Tyler this June. I am sure that each of you, like those of us involved in the office, wants to make the best possible impression on Texas Shriners at TSA. Your help and understanding in achieving this objective will be greatly appreciated. With your support, we anticipate a year we can all be proud of here in East Texas.
