HALLOWEEN FICTIONAL CHARACTER DRACULA

As bats flap through the musty castle, a coffin lid creaks open and an ashy white hand gropes for the cover. The lid slides off and a caped figure rises in the gloom – Dracula is on the prowl!

Vampires have enthralled generations of readers and moviegoers; and the most popular ‘vampire’ is the fearsome Count Dracula of Transylvania. Dracula is a fictional character created by writer Bram Stoker. If you want to watch a movie with Dracula in it try watching Hotel Transylvania!

HALLOWEEN RIDDLE

I'm tall when I'm young,
I'm short when I am old,
and every Halloween,
I stand up in Jack O' Lanterns.

What am I?

A Candle

DID YOU KNOW?

Jack 'O Lanterns were originally made from turnips!

MUMMY DOGS

Ingredients

- 1 (8-oz.) can Crescent dough
- 3 slices American cheese
- 12 hot dogs
- 2 tbsp. melted butter
- Dijon mustard

Directions

- Preheat oven to 375° and line a large baking sheet with parchment paper. Separate crescent dough into 4 rectangles, pinching together seams as necessary. Cut each rectangle lengthwise into thin strips.
- Cut each slice of American cheese into 4 strips.
- Place a hot dog on top of a piece of cheese, then wrap with crescent dough to look like bandages. (You'll need about 4 pieces of crescent dough per hot dog.) Repeat with remaining ingredients.
- Place on prepared baking sheet and brush with melted butter.
- Bake until crescent dough is golden and cooked through, 12 to 15 minutes.
- Using a toothpick, dot mustard onto each hot dog to create eyes.
