Ask Us Questions

Come, Lord Jesus, as us questions,
stretch us in our thought on you.
Challenge us to ponder deeply,
leading us toward life anew.

Jesus: "Who do the crowds believe the Son of Man to be?"
Disciples: "John the Baptizer, or maybe Elijah,
or maybe someone like Jeremiah."
Jesus: "Who do you say that I am?"
Disciples: [Silence]

Silence like the calm of Genesis One,
moments before creation was begun.
In that stillness the Spirit had stirred,
and then the gracious Word was heard:
"Life abound! Let it be done!"
Now the Spirit stirred Peter's heart,
filling him with stunning thought:
"You are the Christ, Anointed One,
the living God's begotten Son!"

Come, Lord Jesus, ask us questions,
stretch us in our thought on you.
In the silence send your Spirit,
make our minds forever new.

Written for Sunday, August 23, 2026

© 2026 Joseph J. Scholtes, Jr.