

The Dream Books

My Books are unique in that they are written from dreams and are connected to one another. The primary connecting thread is interactive prayer with God. We all desire for our prayers to be answered. The power to answer prayer is in God's hands. What if we asked Him what He wants, then requested His desire? What we would be doing is praying into God's will rather than guessing and hoping for the outcome. We would have surety of the answer. This is precisely what I have done when I published all of my own books and grew a company; I asked God for His desires, then prayed into them. He made them to happen because, after all, He's God. That is when miracles happen.

Let me give you some insight into the degree of miracle He has done through me; In 2001 I received the baptism of the Holy Spirit. After that, I would spend several hours a week in the desert praying and seeking the presence of God's glory. I began to have dreams and visions which could be related to specific Scriptures in the Bible. What I recognized was that I was actually receiving coded messages, which were the answer to my prayers for guidance to find the presence of God and experience His true glory. I took the dreams and visions back to Him in prayer asking for the answers, then I filled in the blanks to the questions which I had asked in the first place. It was never my intention to write books related to the subject of prayer. What happened is that, because I copied the dreams at night and they were messy to read, I began to transcribe them into the computer. After about a year of doing this, I was given a dream with clear direction to put the collection of dreams with their instructional interpretations into a book.

After prayer and fasting, one book was put together. That first book was called Miracle's. The title was given to me in the form of a spirit language called "tongues". The interpretation of the title was also given to me. What the word says if you pronounce it slowly is 'mirror accolades'. What it means is that when we allow God to show us who He really is, then He will also show us who we really are. Only then will we see how we are to glorify Him; then we will be honored like a knight receives an honor from a Queen. As we kneel before the presence of who He is as He shows it to us, and embrace that vision, He will put a sword to our shoulder and declare us to be an honored part of His Kingdom. Then, we will fulfill the name 'Miracle's' because we will, by His power working through our lives, become walking, breathing miracles.

After more fasting, this book was divided into four books. It has become like bread in a basket for me in that, each time I reach my hand to share with others, more bread is produced. So in essence, I only have been given one book, but by being willing to share, it has multiplied to feed many. The books are on different subjects all related to the same topic. I trust you will find the answer to your questions, not in my books, but as my books teach you to ask the right questions and listen for the answer in a way that you can understand enough to pray it in for yourself. Then, you too, will receive your miracle's.

12 Stepping Stones to the Garden

Revival and Revolution

What difference is there between light and life?
Debt and death? Understanding and intuition?
Revival and revolution?
With light, you can see where you are going.
With life, you can get there. Debt is what is due to God from us because of our position. Our final payment is death.
Death to the dream, death to our ideas, death to us.
Through the Holy Spirit, we have not merely intuition,
but an understanding of God's Word, will and ways.
Of how Jesus is the light came to pay our debt,
give us life in exchange for death and insure understanding of the Kingdom of God.
As we move
From
The
feeling
of intuition into assurance, then we step from
'I think so' into faith. Our 'maybe'
becomes our 'yes' through Him.
He will sustain His 'yes'. That's when we will find ourselves amidst a revolution.

Twelve books are a series of growing in intimacy with God. These books are written from dreams given over a period of around 6 months or so. As they were received, I carefully interpreted them using Scriptures. Then I was given an outline dream. The dreams of the specific subject were then put into the outline. That forms the Prophetic Wave. There are more than 12 DREAM BOOKS but these are the 12 which make up the Steps in the Garden. Initially all of the books were as one giant book. Then as I received more dreams of direction the books began to split; first into four, then into 12 (like bread raising in a bowl) they grew over time within the right environment. The first main book was Miracles. It split into what became the first four books: Miracles, Katisha, Tomasena and Corianta. I was instructed to turn over the stack and release them. So, I released Corianta having it professionally edited and printed at a cost of $37,000. By the time I got to Tomasena, I realized that the books were reproducing at an alarming rate and I would never have enough money to print them conventionally, so I asked God if I could have a publishing company.

He said, "Sure."

I quickly responded, "I don't know anything about a publishing company."

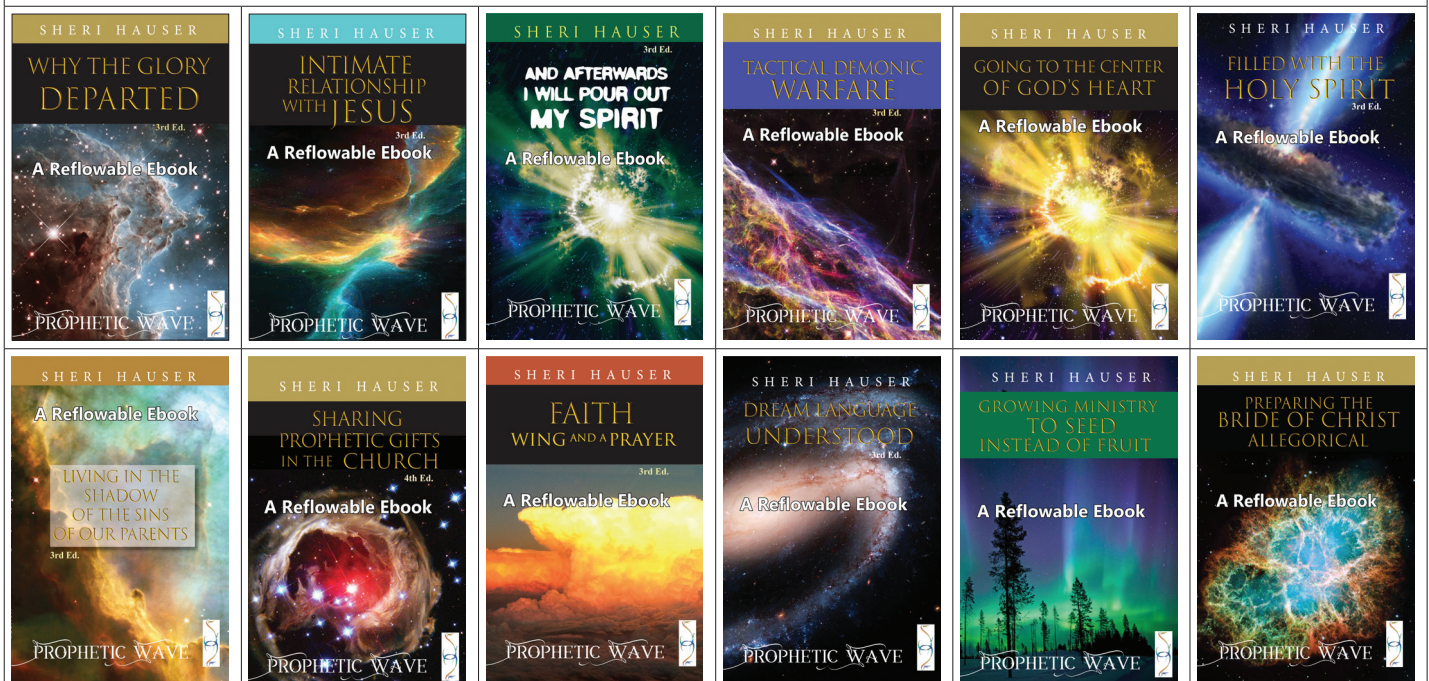

His response, "That's OK. It will come in a box with instructions."

I quickly called the guy who put together my first book and then ordered the computer program which he specified as the one for making books. Guess what? It came in a box with instructions. (Smile)

I embarked to study every aspect of publishing and learned over 12 software options over a period of around 4 years all the time writing my own books. I released Tomasena and Katisha, but when I came to Miracles I gave it to God as a first-fruit offering because it had been my first book written. Like a first-born child I donated it back to God.

To my surprise, He kept it and said, "Thank You."

I put the Prophetic Wave in order of the Stepping Stones to the Garden.

Then, He gave me another series of dreams instructing me on how to split Miracules like a piece of paper on the cutting edge. After about 9 months of extensive study (If you read the book you will see why it took so long) the book was split to become two books; Miracules and Pillow Talk.

Then I went on to release the rest of the books which are on growing in the gifts and calling of the Holy Spirit. Coríanta, Tomaseña, Katisha, Miracules, Pillow Talk, Camezia Reptidad, Sinactia Empezia, Festevia, Kapaseus, Firefly, Seedlings, Wedding Service.

Three Types of Bridges Related to the Books

All of them exercise your faith trusting God to bring you across a span of river; just like crossing the Jordan, to a place of understanding His voice on a specific subject. My books are not 'how to' books in that they don't give answers. What they do is show you how to ask questions to God...then listen for His answer. They show you how to listen for the response and reach out to grasp it in such a way that it will no longer continue to be elusive. In case you haven't figured it out yet, they are all on responsive prayer.

1. Book bridges span the length of a book The book bridges are writings which bridge the gap of understanding between where you are, and where you need to be, to see things from God's perspective.

2. Spanning bridges cross over using several books. Spanning bridges cross over a bigger body of water. They are a group of books which bridge understanding on a subject. Some of the books are printed, while others can be found on my website in the PDF Reader. All of the bridges go to the same place in that they bridge the gap between where you are and where God's perspective is on the specific subject. They simply cross the river in different places.

3. Answers to questions: Often times we know where we want to go, but aren't sure which roads will lead there. This section is called Questions. It responds to the questions which are answered when one crosses over the bridges. This section correlates the bridges with questions.

A Word about the books

If you cruise through my books, you will see a lot of versions and random titles. As you can imagine, embarking on this type of journey has enraged the enemies of God's Kingdom and they came against me with a mighty show of force. The dogs in the enemy kingdom were especially ravenous. Dogs, according to the book of Jude in the New Testament, tear stuff up. They don't consume but rend. Files go missing, money is lost, and there are nonstop interruptions meant to distract from Kingdom purposes.

For example, initially I made two short books, Holy Hum and Me Mesa. They were concrete poetry on the holiness of God's character. I paid a printer $10,000 for copies. They delivered a few boxes of poor-quality books. In the meantime, the son of the owner ended up in the hospital and God prompted me to encourage his father to pray for healing. The son was in a coma. Three days of prayer and he woke up, healed and well. His father was ecstatic. However, the stepmother was not. She wanted to be rid of him and keep the inheritance for herself. When she learned I was behind the prayer, she called and threatened to sue if I did not pay the entire payment for the books, even though they were not printed. My husband became angry that my writing venture could ruin our credit and told me to pay her. I did. But never received any more books. It was a costly lawsuit, which I conceded after three years. Sometime later I was contacted by a warehouse manager who noticed several boxes of books with my name on them in his possession. He said that I could pick them up. My husband thought it was a trick, so he told me to forget them. So, I did. For $40,000 I had two boxes of books. That is the enemy acting like a dog.

Then there was the 'real' dog that attacked me, putting me in the hospital with such injuries I ended up with 4 broken bones in my left foot. Three pins, a two-and-a-half-inch screw, and a cast for 4 months was my ordeal. God told me I had been attacked by the evil spirit of 'de-feat'. That is when I wrote Lascett.

And I kept striving forward toward the goals of God's intention which was to release the books. In 2019, I encountered KDP on Amazon and things were busted wide open because I could upload files directly to the internet. I already had the training and equipment needed to step into place.

And, in 2021 I combined Holy Hum [holiness of God] and Me Mesa [anointing] [the books stolen by the enemy] into one entitled Inspirational 3-D Poetry and released it world-wide. If you look at my personal website www.sherihauser.com, you will see the beautiful shaped spiritual poems. Each one is unique because God says, "He draws the shape and pours the words into it when He gives the writing."

And, if you look at the pieces, where they come together is the place that the reader can 'grab hold of it' to have a sip out of the glass. Only yesterday, when I completed the website [23 years after I was given the poetry] and set colors behind the amazing, shaped poetry, did I realize why the enemy put up such a fight to take it from me early on. Steadfast endurance wins. Sometimes we win the race, not because we are faster than others, but because we are still standing when others have fallen by the wayside. Victory tastes good. Look...

Fellow Climber

We need to view our training in the wilderness as an adventure into the secret things of God. It is a mountain climb on a new trail.

We will see things never before noted by human eyes. We will hear the voice of God telling us things He has not said to anyone before. We will learn to have Him
as our climbing partner.

Let Him pound in the nails into the rock. We learn trust. Then we must learn to grab onto the ropes that He throws down to us. It takes discipline to climb a mountain. Discipline and strength.
The mountain usually gets steeper toward the top. But, by the time, we reach the top, we are usually in pretty good shape. As we near the top of the vision that He has for us,
we come to the place where we can feel the victory. The wind is in our face. Our face glows with His reflection. The sunrises in our face. What fun it is to watch it rise.

We are the ones who have climbed

that mountain

and now

can see the whole

place

that we have come from.. and

then the sun rises to give a golden glow to the whole picture. He instills the power through the blood of His Son to the vision. The Precipice. The infusion of Might pushes the vision to the top. Praise God!
