No.16 Four Pillars of Fascism

"I deplore... the putrid state into which our newspapers have passed and the malignity, the vulgarity, and mendacious spirit of those who write for them... These ordures are rapidly depraving the public taste and lessening its relish for sound food. As vehicles of information and a curb on our funtionaries, they have rendered themselves useless by forfeiting all tittle to belief... This has, in a great degree, been produced by the violence and malignity of party spirit."
Thomas Jefferson to Walter Jones, 1814.

This pamphlet will address the four pillars of Marxian fascism starting with the mendacious news media then the Imaginarium, corporatists and finally the academy. All are on the wrong side of the end of human history and each in their own turn will be confronted with the truth; God does not recognize race per se but does put an emphasis on greater and lesser peoples and cultures...with the 'prime directive' being the greater is tasked with elevating the lesser but never is the greater to be made less by contact with lesser.

The time has come to set aside the Ibram X. Kendi's and Robin Jeanne DiAngelo's of the world then pick up John McWhorter, Glenn Loury, Thomas Sowell and the late Walter Williams...in that I know blacks in America are the last chosen people; crafted by God for a last exodus and greatness. To do so will require Americans to recognize the aforementioned pillars do in fact support what is the classic definition of fascism.

Joel Kotkin in a recent article titled What really divides America wrote "Reading the mainstream media, one would be forgiven for believing that the upcoming midterms are part of a Manichaeian struggle for the soul of democracy, pitting righteous progressives against the authoritarian "ultra-MAGA" hordes" and then goes on advise "Put the battle between Good and Evil to one side. It is these three factors — class, race, geography — that will shape the outcome of the midterms, whatever the media says."

As much as I respect Kotkin he is right as to the micro but wrong as to the macro presenting on a scale never conceived of in history; the final confrontation between good and evil is fully engaged pitting those who adhere to the "Laws of Nature and of Nature's God" against those who do not...true believers within the false religion of human intellectual arrogance Marxianity now confronted with making the penultimate choice on an individual basis. Choose God and His offer of peace with terms or lose all.

The terms are not difficult to understand. Yeshua amended the Sinai Torah to prepare the Holy Nation for life after the fall of the 2nd Temple; rescinding the strict civil, dietary and temple laws. All else remains including the moral laws which poses an insurmountable problem for every pillar and every media mouthpiece...leaving no refuge for the likes of Maia Kobabe and her pour épater la bourgeoisie book Gender Queer which has done what it was designed to do; Planned Chaos. The terms do not allow for an alphabet of sexual preference at odds with the "Laws of Nature and of Nature's God" and those who subscribe are risking a confrontation with He Who Is.

With the God of Abraham/Sinai, Yeshua and 1776 empirically evidenced there are no safe spaces and the truth will guide every conversation henceforth...which poses a major problem for a mendacious media dedicated to woke ideology; an ideology that can be traced back to the mid-1960s when neo-Marxists redefined the civil rights movement as the seminal event in American history thereby replacing class warfare with racial warfare.

Neo-Marxists are predators, never letting a crisis go to waste; adept at creating cloaks of invisibility to shield individuals and agenda but they really haven't changed. Consider the words of communist publisher Alexander Trachtenberg delivered in a 1944 speech at a communist convention held in Madison Square Garden:

"When we get ready to take the United States we will not take you under the label of Communism, we will not take you under the label of Socialism. . .We will take the United States under labels we have made very lovable; we will take it under Liberalism, under Progressivism, under Democracy. But take it we will." In context one might better understand why liberals and progressives are huge on defending "democracy" rather than the republic and why Karl Marx said "Democracy is the road to socialism". Not "liberal", not "progressive" and not Democrats but rather Marxians executing Antonio Gramsci's Theory of Cultural Hegemony from within.

"A nation can survive its fools, and even the ambitious. But it cannot survive treason from within. An enemy at the gates is less formidable, for he is known and carries his banner openly. But the traitor moves amongst those within the gate freely, his sly whispers rustling through all the alleys, heard in the very halls of government itself. For the traitor appears not a traitor; he speaks in accents familiar to his victims, and he wears their face and their arguments, he appeals to the baseness that lies deep in the hearts of all men. He rots the soul of a nation, he works secretly and unknown in the night to undermine the pillars of the city, he infects the body politic so that it can no longer resist. A murderer is less to fear." Cicero

It is somewhat ironic the woke at ground level have embraced the theology of Archbishop Ibram X. Kendi which divides the world into two classes by race; white oppressors and non-white oppressed. To do so required racism to be redefined i.e. racism is not discrimination based on skin color...racism is any institution that results in disparate impacts/outcomes between racial groups. The hypocrisy of the Marxian elites is stunning in that after deifying Martin Luther King Jr. they have eliminated character as a measure and reduced the man to a failure.

Worse yet, the new definition of racism has been globalized; one is either racist or anti-racist no matter where in western civilization...and have no doubt it is western civilization that is the target of the evil; the house that "as a son" Yeshua built to shelter the family born at Sinai. One need only consider the growing anti-Semitic tone of Marxians and the support being extended to "Palestinians" and the Boycott, Divestment and Sanctions idea that insists Israel is an apartheid state; apartheid simply means apartness and is a word that requires context.

Woke is an ideology which holds that any inequality is the result of systemic racism rather than individual behavior...dividing the world into the victimized and oppressors as defined by morally superior elites with the only solution being redistribution of wealth, power and political influence. Doing so allows the morally superior elites the foundation to ostracize, stigmatize...and cancel.

"Cancel culture" is a two tier injustice system in and of itself wherein Jacobin iconoclasts seek to silence the opposition in much the same way a weaponized FBI and DOJ have been doing; sending messages to Americans along the lines of 'If with impunity we can do this to any who fail to toe the party line imagine what we can do to you'. Every pillar of fascism and the subordinates within have had "equity" imposed on them with reparations to be manifested in some way e.g. look to television commercials and note the percentage of black actors and then to college admissions where the unprepared fail at high rates regardless of specialized programs plus diversity, inclusion and equity (DIE) administrators who often outnumber lower paid professors.

From the higher vantage where God exists "woke" is the epitome of human intellectual arrogance exhibited by Marxian intellectuals given impetus by the death of George Floyd i.e. the forces of a distorted understanding of what justice entails propelled by a self-righteous perception of progress in a holy war against those clinging to guns, bibles and the oldest Constitution in the world. Marxians declared this holy war 60 years ago and have no intention of adhering to the rules of war they deem an obstacle to justice i.e. the Constitution as a document of oppression. The Constitution is to be repudiated and then replaced by a social justice blank check.

To Marxians, objective and historical facts have been supplanted by 'lived experience'. To Marxians, free speech is violence. To Marxians, actual violence is righteous and justified if in pursuit of a 'noble cause'. To Marxians, higher education teaches what to think rather than how to think. To Marxians, the equality guaranteed by the Constitution is of secondary importance to equity...equal outcomes that never have been and never will be.

Like a viper in tall grass the false religion of human intellectual arrogance waited for an incident that would provide a face for racial grievance and it struck with George Floyd; a perfect metaphor that had a white police officer kneeling on the neck of a black man until he died. It did not matter that Floyd was the author of his own death having ingested methamphetamines and a fatal dose of fentanyl, was resisting arrest after trying to pass a counterfeit bill and had been convicted eight times in the past.

The death of George Floyd triggered institutional recalibration on a massive scale and it is only just recently that Black Lives Matter has been recognized for the Marxian scam that it is...but that has not stopped Marxian elites in Washington DC, media, the academy, the Imaginarium and corporate America from using woke revolution to shape society. The time has come for those blacks who identify as black before American to embrace the aforementioned black intellectuals along with the work of Heather Mac Donald and George Parry that expose the truth about the "oppressed black" mythology and the political/judicial railroading of Derek Chauvin et al.

The woke revolution did not create the false religion Marxianity but it has given the faithful a sense of purpose and meaning that manifests as the destruction of anything and anyone standing in their way; true believers with hearts and souls on fire but unaware Marxian elites have no interest in blacks here there and everywhere.

What the woke army from the looter on the street, the committed university cadre and the elites in ivory towers will have to understand is that a God that placed His personal imprimatur on the Constitution is now standing ready to defend the JudeoChristianNation and by extension Israel ...willing to sacrifice as many Saint George of the Metaphor as necessary to protect a plan 6000 years in the making.

Of the four pillars of fascism two, media and Imaginarium, are most responsible for Popular Culture Psychosis (PCP) inducing toxin immobility upon the citizenry as described in Pamphlet No 3. The implications of the resulting comfortable complacency can be captured in two quotes.

"Our people, merely for want of intelligence which they may rely on, are become lethargic and insensible of the state they are in." Thomas Jefferson to John Adams, 1777

"The ideal subject of totalitarian rule is not the convinced Nazi or the dedicated communist, but people for whom the distinction between fact and fiction, true and false, no longer exists" Hannah Arendt

There can be no doubt the majority of Americans are lethargic and insensitive to the situation they are in. They are frogs being cooked and incapable of discerning fact from fiction and what is true as exemplified by women having to compete against biological males with the blessing of sports authorities. It is nonsense and whether Marxians know it or not it is the hill they will die on very soon. Americans are for the most part ignorant of the sharp dichotomy between average citizens and the elites; thinking this experience in representative democracy is still functional. The elites and the nomenklatura have no interest in the needs of average citizens.

Little do they know that starting in the 1960s Marxians in the academy began churning out revolutionaries to take over the NEA and AFT so as to indoctrinate K-12 what to think rather than how. It's also safe to say the dumbing down was implemented across all of western civilization. One huge pot of ignorant frogs subjected to various cooking techniques and spices; add a little queer here and dilute a little God there...all of which was and is justified by the credentialed intellectuals (the wise) and the powerful.

Human detritus was exactly what Paul told the world to expect for a reason...a credential comes nowhere near writing ex cathedra. It was in the second half of the 19th when Jefferson's all-encompassing definition of human knowledge as "science" gave way to actual science that lent first to modernist then postmodernist ideas as to the place of humankind in history and the requirement for corresponding clear distinctions between the quackery self-taught snake oil sciences and actual science requiring university degrees and the idea of peer review based entirely on the scientific method.

The argument from authority was born...but soon died when a new type of degreed quackery emerged requiring science to be divided between the hard, mathematical, physical sciences and "soft" sciences dominated by the false religion Marxianity with each and every one a faith based discipline built upon the soft sand of human intellectual arrogance. The argument from authority has morphed into the false religion of human intellectual arrogance Marxianity...a faith-based discipline bereft of moral absolutes.

Not surprisingly, the ideological dogmas, catechisms, tenets and sacraments of the false religion have rendered the degrees more a measure expertise in never clearly defined social justice and intersectional political activism and in doing so provided Marxian elites the leeway to distort science and manipulate data driven analysis to fit arguments supporting the growing equity and social justice agenda. The degrees do not reflect merit as they did decades past but rather commitments to Marxian group think...which many universities put into writing as loyalty oaths professors must sign as a condition of employment.

With some irony, the Convergence Matrix allows for unexplored middle ground as it concerns the truth given God is not how most imagine but more aligned with atheist Richard Dawkins...a truth he expanded upon in his December 2020 article titled 'The insidious attacks on scientific truth' using DNA as a foil. Science cannot cede the reality, and certitude, of the scientific method to proclaim men can become women just by believing that which cannot be. For Dawkins there is discernable truth and science need not apologize...but the ideologue must bend a knee to the mathematics of the matrices even if having to be explained like quantum physics.

With the reintroduction of the God of Sinai presenting as pure intellect and reason demanding the same, the fear of God cannot be dismissed thus changing the equation from one of faith to one of certitude; there are scales and measures ignored at great personal risk including the Constitution as instruction and the elimination of race in favor of greater and lesser peoples and cultures...and never is the greater to be made less. Table manners should be the last concern of elites that are now tasked with leading by first reestablishing the intellectual foundations familiar to the founders.

With God empirically evidenced the Marxian strategy of prioritizing 'lived experience' and personal conviction over reality will be confronted by the absolutes neo-Marxist abhor and the reality of discernable truth. Doing so will require marshaling elites adhering to the "Laws of Nature and of Nature's God" determined to protect and preserve the Constitution...the very purpose of Yeshua's Sword and the reason the writings of human detritus are written in the language of the plowman ex cathedra.

For those much more intellectually inclined there may be no better place to start the necessary realignment than two articles; the first titled Cancel the New York Times by Richard Samuelson for the Claremont Review of Books and the second The Elect: The Threat to a Progressive America from Ant-Black Antiracists by John McWhorter who recognizes the religiosity and condescending nature of Marxianity and Marxians.

The Elect are on notice the race card has been declined after exceeding reasonable limits...and as it concerns the alphabet of sexual preference one either accepts the "Laws of Nature and of Nature's God" or plan for a conversation with the author of both in 2026. There is nothing the media as the propaganda arm of Marxian fascists can say or do to change that truth...given there is no truth in them.

"The most effectual engines for [pacifying a nation] are the public papers... [A despotic] government always [keeps] a kind of standing army of newswriters who, without any regard to truth or to what should be like truth, [invent] and put into the papers whatever might serve the ministers. This suffices with the mass of the people who have no means of distinguishing the false from the true paragraphs of a newspaper."

Thomas Jefferson to G. K. van Hogendorp, 1785

It would be constraining to refer to the Democratic Party as the political arm of Marxianity when virtually every institution has been compromised by Marxian ideology and yet walking that narrow path is unavoidable given lies and projection define the singular political business model advancing the ideology. As many have noted, it is safe to assume whatever Marxians in politics and the media say the opposite is true e.g. Republicans are far right fascists when in truth Marxians Democrats are close to securing a classic fascist state.

"The essence of fascism is to make laws forbidding everything and then enforce them selectively against your enemies."

John Lescroart, A Plague of Secrets

To understand the truth as to right left logic one has to accept the political scale now in use was designed to advance the Marxian agenda as detailed in Pamphlet No3. The left right political scale originated in the madness of the French Revolution wherein the supporters of the king in the National Assembly sat to the president's right and supporters of the revolution to his left; the progressive "party of movement" on the left and the "the party of order" on the right.

That much is still true but with an evidenced God of 1776 it can be said 'Patriot' is synonymous with being well centered where the Constitution resides on the true political scale as opposed to the commonly used left right political scale created by Marxians to position the fascism created by once arch communist Benito Mussolini, and wrongly ascribed to Nazi Germany, on the far right with the Constitution in the center and Marxism on the far left. However, Marxian academics deceptively maintain the United States Constitution in the middle of the scale for a nefarious reason; any policy proposal that does not lean toward the Marxist left is labeled right wing hence leaning toward Nazism.

Very clever but not reasonable, rational or logical; the true political scale must have a place for anarchy and Sir Henry Sumner Maine's "status societies". On the true scale, disparaged by Marxians, anarchy is on the far right and as one moves closer to the center where the Constitution rightly resides there is a succession of various status societies until coming to the Articles of Confederation and Perpetual Union still to the right of the Constitution, the first contract society, and on the far left socialist ideologies including Nazi Germany's National Socialists...so like Marxianity.

Striking a blow against the pillars of fascism begins with replacing the musings and machinations of the political media with Scottish Common Sense that screams out that when 95% of said media were pathologically hostile to Trump according to the Harvard Shorenstein Center on Media, Politics, and Public Policy and Pew Research there is no way to paint the 2020 election as not only fair but the most secure in history. Coupled with the squelching of the Hunter Biden laptop story and the undeniable interference by the Intelligence Community as detailed by Glenn Greenwald many times over there is good reason to believe a civil war of ideas inevitable.

The pillar of fascism that is the media has enabled the fascist structure that is the Democratic Party which is built upon lies and deceit. Now that the final push to subjugate average Americans is almost complete there is no need to pretend to objectivity and the revolving door for former IC and military "authorities" has only one exit and that is employment by the political media as detailed by Glen Greenwald in his essay NBC News Uses Ex-FBI Official Frank Figliuzzi to Urge Assange's Extradition, Hiding His Key Role.

As it concerns policies the propaganda arm of Marxianity paints those advanced by Democrats as good and those by Republicans as bad; not interested in the deception that is the Inflation Reduction Act while at the same time attacking a Florida that restricts teaching sexuality to children...calling it the Don't Say Gay Bill. It is at this point Marxians run afoul of an extant God fully engaged and unwilling to negotiate. Marxians are no longer allowed to deceitfully push for redistribution and sexualizing children without risking divine judgment.

Advancing the Marxian agenda requires a virtual oath of secrecy whether mythological Antifa cadres intensifying the 2020 riots to the highest levels of the institutions but I know with certitude those who manipulate the truth with the help of bits and bytes of binary logic are at war with the Creator of a binary existence and very soon there will be no place for them to hide; all that is done in the dark will be revealed. Please, try to imagine having to explain to God how severing the spinal cord and sucking out the brains of a full term infant is "reproductive health".

Any who vote for or financially support Democrats will face judgment for this offense regardless of whether or not they voted for a pro-late term politician; if you vote Democrat you empower evil most foul.

"I believe that the duel between Christianity and atheism is the most important in the world. I further believe that the struggle between individualism and collectivism is the same struggle reproduced on another level."

William F. Buckley, God and Man at Yale: The Superstitions of 'Academic Freedom'

Marxians nee Democrats cannot exist without a structure of carefully calculated lies and fabrications. They have no choice but to lie and accuse the opposition of what they themselves are doing. Marxians are attempting to create a one party state and as such cannot tell the truth to independent Americans about what they are doing and what "forward" means to them. Marxians want nothing to do with the impediment that is the Constitution and share an "it can happen here" ideology mirroring that of Stalin and Hitler...none of which would be possible without the media.

Joel Kotkin's assertion class, race and geography will determine the 2022 midterms regardless of what the media may say touches upon but does not provide a deeper insight as to the dynamics at play with only geography set piece; the media and every pillar of fascism is cloaked by race but it is class distinctions that reign. The typical journalist is much like the typical graduates churned out of law schools...privilege already inculcated into wealth and inclined to political activism within an ideological bubble entirely divorced from the working class.

It is no wonder the cultural and political extremism has been rejected leaving most media outlets nothing more than mouthpieces for owners like Bezos and Gates and dependent upon the censorious machination of Big Tech. In truth there really is no truth in them as they cater to a small cadre of wealthy audiences and advertisers that couldn't care less about minorities and the working class they ostensibly identify with other than to profess "I feel your pain". It is a truth that explains why editors are more business than journalistically inclined which in turn shapes reporting...with the primary concern being preservation of the business model which no longer speaks truth to power but rather power to truth so as to preserve Marxian power.

The "honest conversation" about race Obama and Eric Holder are terrified will actually happen must happen and the media cannot escape the requirement for the truth when the stakes are so high for everybody. The Marxian media need not think they must report every death of an unarmed white person at the hands of the police as a matter of equity but they will need to stop reporting every police shooting of unarmed blacks as if each and every one is a major news story evidencing systemic racism.

Most know names of black "victims" over the last ten years; Trayvon Martin, George Floyd, Michael Brown, Eric Garner, Jacob Blake, Tamir Rice, Freddie Gray and Breanna Taylor just to list a few. How many whites can claim the same coverage...none. Apparently there are zero unarmed and "innocent" whites that have been killed by police because, of course, they were not innocent and deserved being shot...while every black is assumed to be an innocent victim regardless of the fact so many blacks were resisting arrest when shot. Those who seek justice would be wise to require the viewing of Shoot or Don't Shoot - How much time do you have to react in every trial involving resisting arrest. <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=bFdjNG9yIBA>

There may be no better example of the Marxian media hypocrisy and adherence to agenda than the failure to highlight and address the thousands of blacks murdered by other blacks in Democrat controlled cities across the nation. Black Lives Matters is nothing more than a Marxist scam entirely silent as to those deaths in that they, like the Marxian media, are designed to advance an agenda entirely focused on political power and wealth.

Recently it was revealed Secretary of Homeland Security Alejandro Mayorkas knew within hours the mounted border patrol did not use there reins to strike Haitians crossing the Rio Grande and yet issued a statement to the effect "The horses have long reins, and the image in the photograph that we all saw, and that horrified the nation, raised serious questions about what ... occurred, and as I stated quite clearly, it conjured up images of what has occurred in the past" knowing the false image was a powerful metaphor like St. George Floyd; a lie but a useful lie for Marxianity.

As to race the media has embraced a reversal of the “noble savage” myth to assuage the guilt of privilege but only as far as words and advocacy will carry wealthy white Marxians who have the ability but not the moral courage to actually mitigate economic inequity which Bezos and Gates could do tomorrow. Ironically, God’s insistence on greater and lesser cultures advises against expenditures that do nothing to elevate the lesser culture in real terms. The cloak of invisibility created to sustain the racial narrative will fall lest the lesser be destroyed for threatening a Constitution bearing the personal imprimatur of God Himself...a cloak that includes pandering the Imaginarium has virtually perfected.

The 2nd pillar of fascism; the Imaginarium

It is not necessary to ask the average American if they have noticed 40-50% of actors in commercials are black but rather what they think of the obvious pandering. Madison Avenue is part of the same Imaginarium that is centered in Hollywood and New York; churning out commercials that 1) doubles and triples down on the idea of equity and reparations, and 2) is not concerned the portrayal of blacks as a cut above the portrayals assigned to whites becomes doubly noticeable to average Americans who have to endure daily doses of black crime and the ‘in your face’ attitudes/behavior endemic to the subculture e.g. cutting in line, walking into traffic and assaults.

Of all the denominations of Marxianity the largest and most loyal tribe, the black subculture, are but pawns to be sacrificed. Neo-Marxists made a conscious decision to set aside class distinctions capitalism as nature’s economy had blurred by 1960, choosing instead to incorporate never to be resolved race; redefining the Civil Right Movement as the seminal event in history. Blacks were deemed the perpetual oppressed and extended a cloak of invisibility...after which the “character” Martin Luther King Jr. advocated was sacrificed on the altar Marxian agenda; blacks were moved onto the Democratic plantation to be divested of individual moral and political agency; innocent even if proven guilty in a court of law in that the justice system, of course, is fraught with systemic racism. Marxians know race is a never ending issue with no hope of resolution.

By today’s standards my writings are “racist” but God does not agree. There is a reason G†d forged a 6’4”, 210lb, American of German/Norwegian descent with blond hair and hazel eyes, Adler von Pfingsten, human detritus, Eagle of the Pentecost, His faithful emissary; Marxianity, ostensibly eschewing prejudice and stereotyping, is being confronted by what is probably the archetypical but stereotypical definition of evil...as defined by evil.

I have been tasked with extricating those who identify as black before American from the valley of death they willingly walked into; placing themselves between the evil that is Marxianity and the God of Sinai, Yeshua and the United States...a God unwilling to compromise the Constitution and Israel for a lesser people who have no idea how blessed they are. As is the way of He Who Is blacks have been given an avenue of escape; the African Exodus...a New Jerusalem built by the third and last chosen people as detailed in Pamphlet No26.

One paragraph to make a self-evident point as to Madison Avenue and three to warn blacks who identify as black before American history has come full circle and destiny is spelled Africa. It is a destiny that will not be realized if the subculture does not realize movies such as Black Panther is pandering on a scale heretofore unknown in history. If one wants a detailed critique of the movie there is Black Panther Is Not the Movie We Deserve by Chris Lebron, Associate Professor of Philosophy at Johns Hopkins University, for the Boston Review.

What Professor Lebron fails to realize and therefore does not touch upon is the creation of a fictionalized black history and aspiration that is not and never will be with the pandering standing in the way of actual destiny; a great African nation. The film was critically acclaimed to an extent that more reflected a Jackie Robinson reception than a realization what was onscreen was merely comic book characters given life by white elites in Hollywood eager to create a new face for black liberation.

Perhaps NYT film critic Manohla Dargis captured the deeper truth when she wrote the movie an "emblem of a past that was denied and a future that feels very present" with Jamelle Bouie writing "it is fair to say that Black Panther is the most political movie ever produced by Marvel Studios, both in its very existence... and in the questions its story raises." Given the central theme is that of the Black Panther being challenged by his half-brother Killmonger wanting to use the advanced technology of Wakanda to arm blacks worldwide to fight for liberation to say the film is political is an understatement.

Black Panther was deemed "revolutionary" by many given its black empowerment theme and lived experience substitution of history with a fantasy plot requiring suspension of reason and logic e.g. the mysterious vibranium technology would have allowed Wakanda to enslave the world long before Killmonger...and how does an extinction level meteor impact translate to a future mine rather than a massive crater? A closer examination and critique is provided by The Myth of Wakanda: How Hollywood Distorts the Legacy of Colonialism by Lipton Matthews for Mises Wire from which the following excerpts were extracted to serve as a warning fantasy is a poor substitute for history and reality:

---Throughout the world, audiences were captivated by the glamor of Wakanda, a sophisticated African state untouched by colonialism. Symbolically, Wakanda has immense appeal to black people. To many, Wakanda is an embodiment of black achievement in the absence of Western influence.

By demonstrating the success of a black country untainted by Europeans, the film affirms the narrative that Western interference daunted the prospects of Africa.

Adam Serwer, writing in the Atlantic illustrates the popularity of this presumption: “Black Panther is a love letter to people of African descent...Its actors, its costume design, its music, and countless other facets of the film are drawn from all over the continent and its diaspora, in a science-fiction celebration of the imaginary country of Wakanda, a high-tech utopia that is a fictive manifestation of African potential unfettered by slavery and colonialism.” On an emotional level, it offers people of African descent an opportunity to reimagine their place in the world.

Movies are rarely historically correct; however, Black Panther was created to challenge inaccuracies about black people. Therefore, this film and subsequent adaptations must aim to present a realistic interpretation of history. If we were still living in an era where movies were just seen as entertainment, then there would be no need to discuss the fallacies of Black Panther.

According to the storyline of Black Panther, Wakanda is an isolated nation whose wealth is due to an extremely powerful metal known as vibranium. To protect its resources from foreign invasions, Wakanda established a cloaking technology to hide the nation from the outside world.

Though lauded for portraying a positive image of Africa, Black Panther succeeded in confirming a stereotypical representation of Africans. Despite the technological prowess of Wakanda, the subtext of the film is that irrespective of their achievements, African civilizations are still no match for the West. After all, if Wakanda is the most technologically sophisticated nation in the world, then its leaders should have no reason to fear an invasion.

Another regrettable insinuation perpetuated by the film is the erroneous assertion that poverty in Africa is largely due to the slave trade.

Black Panther without a doubt is an amazing work of art. However, this film is no substitute for actual history. If the point of producing it was to contest racist narratives about Africans or non-Westerners, then the film failed. The evidence suggests that African countries are successful when they enable trade and collaborate with foreign partners. Therefore, the glorification of isolationism is counter to its supposedly uplifting message of black empowerment. In addition, though films may provide compelling counterfactuals, the analysis of history furnished by Black Panther is astoundingly inept and unbalanced. There are more foundational variables to be examined when seeking to assess the relative poverty of Africa than the slave trade and colonialism. Black Panther is an interesting film, but do not treat it like history or an alternative hypothesis.

Black Panther is a fantasy that overtly utilizes fictional American systemic racism as a foil Professor Lebron believes should have been expanded upon to empower black men and as such the film was a missed opportunity. The scale of the missed opportunity will be magnified a hundred fold if blacks fail to realize white elites are depending upon ignorance and lack of self-esteem to advance an agenda that in the end has no place for Wakanda.

The issue goes to a truth needing to be repeated as many times as necessary; God does not recognize race per se but does put an emphasis on greater and lesser peoples and cultures...with the 'prime directive' being the greater is tasked with elevating the lesser but never is the greater to be made less by contact with lesser.

Ironically, or perhaps intentionally, Black Panther presents an imaginary black culture that is superior in every way to white western civilization and America in particular. The film fails to close the technological loop that would provide a an answer as to why not one African tribe developed the ship keel that Phoenicians and the "sea people" brought into being 3500 years ago allowing for sea trade...except to posit Wakanda felt the need to become a hermit kingdom long before the first white Europeans set foot in Africa. Like Black Lives Matter it seems Wakanda had no interest in black lives as long as founders were comfortable.

The reality every black who identifies as black before American must accept is that of a lesser culture making a greater less as exemplified by RAP and Hip Hop; the likes of Cardi B and the words of WAP and morbidly obese Lizzo. Take the time to find and read the "lyrics" of WAP and decide what side of the end of history you are on.

WAP is filth, verbal pornography set to a beat, and the fact it can be published speaks volumes as to the depths of depravity popular culture has descended let alone the true value Marxians place on young girls and women.

The piece, not song, is a measure by which the hypocrisy of “progressive” women, the black subculture and black churches will be judged. That Hollywood and New York “cultural elites” laud Cardi B speaks volumes as to the lack of decency and character therein.

Lizzo should be ashamed but she is not...as should the Library of Congress librarian who invited her to play a crystal flute gifted to James Madison over 200 years ago. Lizzo a manifestation of what I have termed the Soros Oprah Winfrey Project; overweight black women installed in positions of authority....impervious to any criticism; framed as racist, misogynistic and bigoted. It is bad enough that obesity has been accepted, but to celebrate the ugliness, inherent weakness and lack of self-control is failing that will require answers in less than four years.

What has also been accepted, whether books or movies, is a distinctly anti-American tenor since the 1960s as exemplified by Howard Zinn’s People’s History of the United States and movies such as Oliver Stone’s Platoon or those by Michael Moore. If one is interested in exploring the anti-American war movie genre an article titled The Lost Art of War by Andrew Klavan for City Journal is required reading. The hundreds of books and the movies since the 1960s are probably the most recognizable manifestations of anti-American sentiment but just how dangerous the Marxian strategy actually is requires a canary in a coal mine approach and a return to music; classical music is the purest expression of achievement that can be claimed by western civilization and as such must be destroyed.

How can it be that Cardi B and Lizzo can fill venues virtually overnight but great orchestras are wasting away for want of audiences? To begin with, the orchestras depend upon subsidies from entities such as the Rockefeller, Ford and Carnegie foundations that as Michael Anton surmised “have completely internalized the narrative of the left.”

Like mathematics, Marxianity has concluded classical music is racist in accord with the specious disparate impact theory of measuring all things i.e. there is no explanation for the disparity between the number of blacks and whites in audiences, orchestras, conductors and composers other than overt or systematic racism. It can be said other BIPOC groups are an afterthought in this instance and Asians are over represented so not factored. As with most cases there is no evidence of racism...and culture is reduced to an all things being equal fallacy.

If there is one high school course that ranks with buggy whips it is music appreciation and when music teachers retire the funding shifts zero sum elsewhere. There was a time when music appreciation started with classical music then to jazz and blues...at a time when rock and roll was heard only in the quad. It would be unfair to blame the boomer generation when the evolution away from classical began at the end of the 19th century when popular music exploded and over time diversified into over fifty distinct genres. It was the greatest generation, weaned on big bands and swing that failed to seriously instill in the boomers an appreciation for classical music and the freedom they fought for.

The literary career of Victor Hugo spanned sixty years and it can be said his writings were joined at the hip with classical music like no other author; concluding "Music expresses that which cannot be put into words and that which cannot remain silent". Victor Hugo and classical music are as the Cathedral of Notre Dame; symbols to remind humanity of how great western civilization and the God who planned it actually is. That truth poses a major problem for Marxians like the New Yorker's music critic Alex Ross.

"The whiteness of classical music is, above all, an American problem. The racial and ethnic makeup of the canon is hardly surprising, given European demographics before the twentieth century. But, when that tradition was transplanted to the multicultural United States, it blended into the racial hierarchy that had governed the country from its founding. The white majority tended to adopt European music as a badge of its supremacy. Little effort was made to cultivate American composers; it seemed more important to manufacture a fantasy of Beethovenian grandeur."

The incessant attacks on western civilization and America is to be expected but Ross and his fellow travellers have a major problem in that what he is describing is a greater people and culture is being made less by contact with lesser peoples and cultures...which will be rectified in 2026. If one wants to take a deeper dive into the role being played by Marxianity to eliminate classical music there is Classical Music's Suicide Pact Parts 1 and 2 by Heather Mac Donald for City Journal.

Suffice it to say Marxianity couldn't care less about classical music, orchestras and oppressed BIPOC when the actual focus is creating an egalitarian, equity based society beyond merit where the standard fair is popular music to be consumed like popcorn then forgotten. History will not survive if Marxianity is allowed a Pyrrhic victory.

It is enough to say that classical music is hanging on by a thread thanks in large part to woke and/or cowardly corporations and foundations fearful of cancellation or being labeled racist if they support a targeted institution.

Many once great American corporations such as Disney have taken a knee to Marxianity in a political alliance that requires an appropriate name; they are corporatists...the third pillar of fascism.

"Fascism should more appropriately be called Corporatism because it is a merger of state and corporate power"
Benito Mussolini

The simplest definition of communism is state ownership of the means of production and transportation and for socialism the control of the means of production and transportation with the how of achieving the goals the primary difference between the two; Mussolini realized leaving production and transportation in the hands of corporate owners/producers was the most efficient path...as long as said owners toe the party line.

Toeing the party line is not a problem for the new breed of authoritarians who are setting the agenda; the Davos class of globalists...extremely wealthy transnationalists engaged in a top down Marxian revolution using ESG; Environmental, Social, and Governance investing based on corporate policies ostensibly to encourage companies to act responsibly but really a corporate social credit system with Black Rock Investment Management Company CEO Larry Fink taking the lead.

"Behaviors are going to have to change, and this is one thing we are asking companies, you have to force behaviors and at Black Rock, we are forcing behaviors"

Larry Fink, dubbed the "architect of woke capitalism", has been actively forming alliances with financiers to weaponize banks and pension funds to circumvent legislators and the American people to make radical Marxian changes to the societies and economies of the world. In an article titled Meet Black Rock: the 'Architect of Woke Capitalism' Destroying America from Within by Consumers Research reported Larry Fink a 2019 letter to CEOs which reads "Society is increasingly looking to companies, both public and private, to address pressing social and economic issues...These issues range from protecting the environment to retirement to gender and racial inequality, among others."

Black Rock is heavily invested in China and it remains to be seen how deeply connected to the Communist Party it is but I have no doubt ESG was modeled on the Chinese social credit system which rewards approved citizen behavior and punishes non-compliance. For years Fink has worked to financially isolate the energy sector and in that Fink has had some success...which has resulted in a number of energy producing states severing ties with Black Rock. Most recently, Missouri joined the efforts of the State Financial Officers' Foundation (SFOF) to form an alliance to confront the ESG agenda that informally can count Texas, West Virginia, Louisiana, Oklahoma, Utah, Wyoming, Idaho, North Dakota, Kentucky, Florida, South Carolina, Arizona and, Arkansas as partners.

The hypocrisy of Larry Fink, Black Rock and ESG is astounding and the danger of the strategy can be summed up by a bit of Fink think: "I continue to firmly believe China will be one of the biggest opportunities for Black Rock over the long term, both for asset managers and investors, despite the uncertainty and decoupling of global systems we're seeing today". China has 1110 coal fired power plants versus 240 in the US ergo Black Rock should release its ESG score factoring China as the largest CO2 producer. And what does Fink think would happen if China and the US went to war?

The CCP would seize every investment and that is a real risk as opposed to Climate Change. In addition Black Rock has been buying single family homes through subsidiaries thus contributing to the fatal flaw of the market economy that will be corrected at the expense of Black Rock et al with the American Family Homestead Act; rents as opposed to single family ownership now near impossible for the average American. That is the plan and a critical aspect of ESG intended to reduce western civilization to a husk; a physical plant to provide power and food to elites who will still get around by private jets.

There is probably no better proof of that truth than the hundreds of private jets flying to Davos World Economic Forum annually and the 2021 United Nations Climate Change Conference (COP26) that spawned the Net Zero Asset Managers initiative as part of the Glasgow Financial Alliance for Net Zero (GFANZ) which, according to the UN Climate Change website:

The Glasgow Finance Alliance includes 160+ financial institutions across Race to Zero initiatives. These institutions include: 87 asset managers representing US$36.95 trillion in assets under management; 42 banks with US$28.5 trillion in assets; and 58 asset owners with US$7.4 trillion in assets under management. Each entity has made its own net zero commitment with potential overlap across initiatives, institutions and assets.

Even more recently than Missouri, nineteen attorneys general are formally investigating Citigroup, Goldman Sachs, JP Morgan Chase, Morgan Stanley, Bank of America and Wells Fargo relating to involvement with the United Nations (UN) Net-Zero Banking Alliance.

It would seem that after 26 years of meeting annually with no real climate change evidence to show for it the UN should stop telling the world the end is nigh due to CO2 as a pollutant. The UN is useless and can do nothing but provide the perfect nexus of Marxians in control of Washington DC and the likes of Black Rock pushing a shared agenda which results in regulatory subterfuge as is the case of the Securities and Exchange Commission proposing the climate-risk disclosure rule now being finalized. The SEC is downplaying climate-risk disclosure rule portraying it as a tool for corporations and investors to better assess climate risks.

“In reality, the proposed rule is about climate policy. Its practical effect would be to facilitate the ability of institutional investors and climate activists to impose, monitor and enforce climate targets on publicly traded companies, without obtaining explicit authorization from Congress” per Rupert Darwall, author of “Climate-Risk Disclosure: A Flimsy Pretext for a Green Power Grab.”

Jack Freestone suggests a good rule of thumb: “When rich people are pushing communism, you know what you are really facing is fascism”

Corporate America has become an ideological battlefield with traditional social issue neutrality replaced by public positions on immigration, criminal justice, voting rights, the 2nd Amendment, abortion and gender identity; the hill Marxians have chosen to DIE (Diversity, Inclusion and Equity) upon...embracing equity to unconstitutionally discriminate, redistribute and advance equal outcomes while discarding the fiduciary duty to maximize return on investment in favor of very Marxian ESG and "stakeholder capitalism". The ESG effort mirrors the 'whole of government' approach to equity advanced by the Marxian fascists in control of DC.

"The liberty of a democracy is not safe if the people tolerate the growth of private power to a point where it becomes stronger than their democratic state itself. That, in its essence, is fascism -- ownership of government by an individual, by a group, or by any other controlling private power.... Among us today a concentration of private power without equal in history is growing."

Franklin Delano Roosevelt

Just as the American Family Homestead Act can break the back of an investment strategy designed to reduce Americans to renters, CommonSenseCession advises those who can to move to the 30-31 states that will be controlled by Democratic-Republicans; taking bank accounts with them to be deposited in intrastate banks beholden to the financial services industry tied to ESG. Once the citizens of the JudeoChristianNation are organized they will have the ability boycott those corporations that are undermining the American traditions of faith, family, friends, communities and states that serve as the intermediate buffer between the people and the federal government. As to investments a prescient former financier and author has already made his move.

Vivek Ramaswamy, Author of 'Woke, Inc.' and entrepreneur who left the biotech company he founded to confront Marxian corporatism, launched "Strive Asset Management" which seeks to "depoliticize corporate America" by challenging Black Rock and its peers, decrying their invocation of "stakeholder capitalism" to justify using "clients' funds to exercise decisive influence over nearly every U.S. public company to advance political ideologies that many of their clients disagree with." Those refusing to bow to corporatism, fascism, have a perfect reference in Invisible 'Hand or Iron Fist? RCI Guide to Politicized Capitalism. One need only imagine a consortium of hundreds of intrastate banks stepping in to provide funding for gas and oil production...and then make it clear to Wall Street those who actually produce products are far more powerful than money changers.

For those willing to do the math and concede the Convergence Matrix is not mere coincidence but an actual message written across the tablet of time by the ineffable intellect and power that chose the title God there is hope...which will require the admission climate change is a moot issue given the end of human history as it is understood will end with Yeshua in 2026 Jerusalem. Ironically, those most adept at mathematics will be the last to admit the truth given human intellectual arrogance...the fourth pillar of Fascism that is the academy where the false religion Marxianity was born.

One of the greatest mistakes in American academic history stemmed from misplaced compassion and the unintended consequences subsequent to welcoming the Frankfurt School to Columbia in the 1930s. Like a cancer Marxism metastasized in the academy and boomer generation in large part due to the efforts of Herbert Marcuse who can take credit for the most successful national liberation movement in history; the sexual revolution designed to undermine the Judeo-Christian ethic, traditions and morality of America...with the destruction of the family a primary focus.

It was during the 1960s that a large number of organizations arose with two common traits; neo-Marxism, i.e. Marxians, and the university where most if not all were launched. It was also during that period the civil rights movement was redefined as the seminal event in American history and irreconcilable race replaced class distinctions; setting the stage for relentless Planned Chaos. For fifty years, a significant Judaic number, the false religion of human intellectual arrogance Marxianity was given free rein to complete the long march through the institutions of America...before the God of Sinai, Yeshua and 1776 revealed His existence empirically with the Convergence Matrix fusing Blaise Pascal's probabilities mathematics with history and Judaic scripture to create a message written across the tablet of time meant for this moment.

The matrix, matrices actually, not only provide a perfect template for teaching the history of western civilization but also identifies Muhammad and Marx/Engels to their birth year on either side of said history and in doing so accurately defines the final confrontation between good and evil described in Judaic scripture over 2500 years ago. Academics, theologians and every human being on earth would be well advised to at least read Pamphlets No1 and No2, Obama Preemptive and Mankind's Final Test of reason, and then do the mathematics to reveal the astronomical odds...while remembering the Convergence Matrix was opened by the mathematical key that is the deaths of Jefferson and Adams on the 50th anniversary of signing of the Declaration of Independence.

No doubt the vast majority of academics and theologians will dismiss the matrix as coincidence given the implications. They are entitled to opinions but not the mathematics e.g. after years unraveling the matrices I was able to recognize the significance of the July 4th 2019 California earthquake sequence and then go on to accurately and publically predict three earthquakes and the Canadian Omega Dome. If still doubtful of the mathematics simply read the introduction to Pamphlet No. 22 Israel; Americas Reason Unto God.

Writing a critique of the Marxian fascist academy to join the hundreds of previous writings is unnecessary when a single article titled Why I am no longer a tenured professor at the University of Toronto by Jordan Peterson is sufficient. Interestingly, Peterson included a revealing excerpt from an article titled Russia's New 'Conservative' Ideology To Counter Liberalism by Anna Mahjar-Barducci for MEMRI. The following is the excerpt and might explain why Marxians have targeted Putin for five years; less for his imperialist inclinations than his Orban style of populism that refuses to accept the LBGTQ abomination and gender identity absurdity.

“The advocates of so-called ‘social progress’ believe they are introducing humanity to some kind of a new and better consciousness. Godspeed, hoist the flags, as we say, go right ahead. The only thing that I want to say now is that their prescriptions are not new at all. It may come as a surprise to some people, but Russia has been there already. After the 1917 revolution, the Bolsheviks, relying on the dogmas of Marx and Engels, also said that they would change existing ways and customs, and not just political and economic ones, but the very notion of human morality and the foundations of a healthy society. The destruction of age-old values, religion, and relations between people, up to and including the total rejection of family (we had that, too), encouragement to inform on loved ones — all this was proclaimed progress and, by the way, was widely supported around the world back then and was quite fashionable, same as today. By the way, the Bolsheviks were absolutely intolerant of opinions other than theirs.

“This, I believe, should call to mind some of what we are witnessing now. Looking at what is happening in a number of Western countries, we are amazed to see the domestic practices — which we, fortunately, have left, I hope — in the distant past. The fight for equality and against discrimination has turned into aggressive dogmatism bordering on absurdity, when the works of the great authors of the past — such as Shakespeare — are no longer taught at schools or universities, because their ideas are believed to be backward. The classics are declared backward and ignorant of the importance of gender or race. In Hollywood, memos are distributed about proper storytelling and how many characters of what color or gender should be in a movie. This is even worse than the agitprop department of the Central Committee of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union.

Sound familiar? Jordan Peterson realizes that even though he could it was not necessary to reiterate the truth in his own words but rather lean toward Mark Twain who said "History does not repeat but it does rhyme".

Consider Victor Davis Hanson's diagnosis of academic degradation in his article From Icon to Just a Con for the Center for American Greatness and the eminently comprehensive How to Fix What is Broken in Academia by pseudonymous Tim Shampling for Wesley Yang's Year Zero...perfectly suited for the JudeoChristianNation in CommonSenseCession; 30-31 states led by Democratic-Republicans to aggressively reform K-12 education and the academy as a whole. Finally, there is Colleges Are a Breeding Ground for Mediocrity by Alan Dershowitz.

Ironically, it will be far easier for academics to accept the reality of the ineffable intellect and power that chose the title God administering a final test of reason to mankind than it will be for theologians bound by doctrine, dogma, sacraments and tenets. Especially Trinitarians given the matrices identify a theology that severed the branch that is Christianity from its Judaic trunk and Torah roots as evil incarnate on par with Muhammad and Marx/Engels. To understand the logic and reason undergirding the assertion there is Pamphlet No2.

The biggest problem academics and Marxian fellow travellers will have goes to 1776 being identified as the third and last direct intervention by God after Sinai and Yeshua; the United States is indeed God's country and the founding documents bear His personal imprimatur. To do anything less than adhering to the "Laws of Nature and of Nature's God" is to be on the wrong side of history as it is understood; the Declaration of Independence, the Constitution and by extension Israel is nonnegotiable.

Fascism is incompatible with the source of unalienable rights revealed by the Convergence Matrix. With less than four years remaining all must make the penultimate choice; choose God or lose all. There is a vast difference between endless opportunity and the endlessness separated from God waiting for those who choose wrong.

Godspeed
