THE BREAD OF LIFE

As human beings we cannot live on bread alone. We suffer from many kinds of hunger. In the Gospels we see the various kinds of 'bread' Jesus offered to people, thus satisfying their many hungers.

To the people who followed him into the desert, and who were starving, he offered ordinary bread, and so satisfied their physical hunger.

To the leper whose body was falling apart, he offered the only bread that mattered to him - the bread of physical healing.

To the lonely woman at Jacob's well, he offered the bread of human kindness, and thus satisfied her hunger for acceptance.

To sinners he offered the bread of forgiveness, and thus satisfied their hunger for salvation.

To the rejects and outcasts, by mixing with them and sharing their bread, he offered the bread of companionship, and so satisfied their hunger for self-worth.

To the widow of Nain who was burying her only son, and to Martha and Mary who had just buried their brother Lazarus, he offered the bread of compassion, and showed them that even in death we are not beyond the reach of God's help.

To the thief who died at his side, he offered the bread of reconciliation with God, thus bringing peace to his troubled soul.

But surprisingly, there were some who refused his offer of bread. There was the rich young man to whom he offered the bread of discipleship, but who refused it because he was not willing to part with his riches. There were the scribes and Pharisees whom he offered not once, but several times the bread of conversion, but they refused to eat even a crumb of it. There were the people of his beloved city of Jerusalem to whom, with tears in his eyes, he offered the bread of peace, but they refused it with the result that their city was destroyed. There was Pilate to whom he offered the bread of truth, but he had no appetite for it because it meant putting his position at risk.

Jesus shared himself with others in many different ways, and under many different forms, before offering himself to them as food and drink at the last supper.

Jesus nourishes us in all the above ways, and of course especially in the Eucharist. The real presence of Christ in the Eucharist becomes a problem only for those who have lost their sense of God's presence in creation. Those who have a deep sense of the presence of God in the whole of creation will not have great difficulty in believing that he is present in a very special way in the Eucharist.

God alone can satisfy all the longings and hungers of our hearts, because he alone can give us the bread of eternal life. This is the bread we receive in the Eucharist. St. Ignatius of Antioch defined the Eucharistic Bread as "a medicine of immortality, an antidote to death."
