THE FEAST OF THE HOLY TRINITY

We have the mystery of the Holy Trinity to ponder on. Our inquisitive mind cannot rest until it rests in this Mystery. Our human mind cannot comprehend in a shot the entirety of God, because it is too small for it. It is an everlasting longing. Hence, the word of St. Augustine: "Our souls are made for you, O God, and they rest not until they rest in you." And we are so close to God as the highest of his creation and made in his own image and likeness. Admiring what God has made, we have a taste of God but it is an unending knowledge. We can only know and say of God what he says about himself. The Gospel of John (Jn 16:12-15) on this is one of the key insights to our subject matter.

"There is so much more I want to tell you, but you cannot bear it now. When the Spirit of truth comes, the Spirit will guide you into all the truth; for the Spirit will not speak on Its own, but will speak whatever is heard, and will declare to you the things that are to come. The Spirit will glorify me, because the Spirit will take what is mine and declare it to you. All that belongs to the Father is mine. That is why I said that 'the Spirit will receive from me what is mine and declare it to you.'"

The Spirit unites heaven and earth, God and humanity, within each person and within each community.

The feast of the Holy Trinity, invites us to also ponder the relationship of God, Jesus, and the Holy Spirit and to gain insight about its application in our lives.

The triune relationship is one of unity, each sharing and bringing about specific gifts of creation of everything, of redemptive modeling among us and of inner life in abundance for all.

In this section of John's Gospel, we recall in the words of Jesus how all that belongs to God belongs to Jesus and "the Spirit will receive" all that belongs to Jesus and declare it to us! Trinity reminds me of a mutual relationship between friends and good acquaintances and of people forming community.

Each brings gifts and shares them, enriching and enhancing the best within oneself and the others. All pass the fruits of the relationship on to others. In a community of faith each passes on the truth and life of care that continues to mature within the community in serving beyond him/her/themselves. Hopefully, the entire humanity would continue to learn and move in this direction for the good and benefit of all mankind!

- Fr Dominick
