

Sunny Bleau

AND THE MOONS

DEBUT ALBUM: BREAKFAST SERVED COLD

On their debut album, Breakfast Served Cold, Sunny Bleau and The Moons uses every hue in the blues palette. While there might be flirtations with shades of jazz, soul, pop and country sprinkled across her canvas, the primary color is most definitely blue. Over the course of 11 songs she balances precision, power and raw emotion to paint a memorable sonic picture. Sunny Bleau might be serving her breakfast cold, but she delivers the heat. Blues is the truth, and these songs don't lie.

"Everybody gets the blues," says Bleau. "Everyone can relate to it. It doesn't matter if they're blue collar, white collar, rich, poor, whatever; they get it. I write from a woman's perspective, to give women a voice and to give men a glimpse at all those secrets we hold inside."

"Ms. Bleau has an unabashed vocal style that is clean and distinct, with just a hint of rasp. She really envelopes a lyric and gets inside it. Her dynamic voice is highlighted by Cocco's Steve Cropper meets Robert Cray guitar accompaniment. His instrumental approach is less about flash and more about laying the proper chord or lick in the right place."
