January 17

Second Sunday after the Epiphany

Human Relations Day

The Season after the Epiphany is a season of Ordinary Time in that it stands between the great Christological cycles of Advent-Christmas-Epiphany and Lent-Easter-Pentecost. The First Sunday focuses on the Baptism of Christ and the Last Sunday on the Transfiguration. The Gospel readings in the lectionary center on the early ministry of Christ. The liturgical color between the First and Last Sundays is green, symbolizing growth in Christ.

January 17 is Human Relations Day in the United Methodist Church. Observed on the Sunday before Martin Luther King, Jr's birthday, this day calls the Church to recognize the right of all God's children to realize their potential as human beings in relationship with one another. The special offering received this Sunday supports Community Developers, United Methodist Volunteer Service, and Youth Offender Rehabilitation programs. A designated offering envelope will be inserted in the worship bulletin.

An Exciting New Adult Fellowship Opportunity

THE BIBLE: 101

Your Bible is meant to be inspiring, not intimidating; but we often feel uncertain about how to use it.

Pastor John will lead us through a series that will help de-mystify some of the mysteries of...

† Reading the Bible for study, reflection, comfort, and insight

† Hearing the message contained in God's word for you

† Locating favorite and familiar passages

This 4 week study-fellowship will held on Tuesday nights from 6:30 – 8:00PM beginning January 26th.

There is no book to purchase, but please have your Bible handy.

Handout materials may be distributed in advance.

You can participate in person or via Zoom (link will be posted on the church's web page).

Contact Bud Behlman (203-206-9276) for additional information.

MISSION & OUTREACH NEWS

February is one of the WUMC's months to volunteer at the Woodbury Food Bank, and volunteers are needed for February 5, 12, 19, and 26. While we are still in the midst of a pandemic, the food needs of the community have not lessened; and in fact with the economic stress caused by the pandemic, the need nationally for food support has increased. Volunteers continue to be a vital part of the work of the Food Bank, but because of health concerns and state-mandated protocols, the process has undergone changes since our last volunteer opportunity in September of last year.

Below is information that I received from Bob Taylor at the Food Bank outlining how things are being handled at this time. Please review the operating procedures below (including time changes) and let me know if you can volunteer on a Friday or Fridays in February.

"I am sharing the protocols both for staff work and for the client service conditions, which have been and will continue to be conducted during the pandemic exclusively on a home delivery (Thursdays) and pickup service (Fridays and Saturdays) basis. Only our volunteers have access to the food bank interior, and our primary tasks are to receive, cleanse and stock all incoming donations, and to prepare and bag the customized orders for our clients. No client in-store shopping is possible under social distancing and protective protocols and none is anticipated through February at present (I will let you know if conditions change but this appears unlikely given the present course of the pandemic).

As you will note in the protocols, we specifically advise all our good friends to make the judgment first if they would be physically able to volunteer, both in terms of health (of course we ask anyone suffering respiratory or other health issues of any kind please to stay home) and also possible risk during the pandemic (this especially applies to folks in the high-risk category of 60 and over -- I am one of those 60-plus volunteers myself but I know that many, especially those with immunological deficiencies, need to stay on the sidelines for now). Please note too that we ask everyone who volunteers to remain masked throughout their work, to wear gloves during food bank service, and to take other washing and cleansing measures as needed to keep a safe environment. We routinely supply gloves to all who volunteer (I change mine multiple times every shift) as well as masks as needed.

With regards to timeframes for service, the new scenario for Friday client service on a pick-up basis means that we must staff two shifts, one from 8:30 am to 11:15 am, and the second from 11:15 am to 2:15 pm on Fridays. I would greatly appreciate if you could advise me in advance regarding availability of help for either of these shifts on the Fridays during February, as we will work these volunteers into the weekly schedules that I now need to prepare for volunteer help. Unlike the previous in-store service that was possible to fulfill with a staff of myself and one or two volunteers, the multiple demands of the "new normal" at the food bank require me to mobilize shifts with three to five volunteers per shift on Fridays, and we will gratefully include our helpers from WUMC on one of our teams to support these volunteer needs during the month of February. At present, we have a particularly great need for help in the later shift from 11:15 am to 2:15 pm on Fridays."

If you are able to help out on any of the following Fridays (2/5, 2/12, 2/19, and 2/26), please contact me at any of the means listed below and let me know your availability. Thank you.
