PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Freelance Head of Audio / Senior Audio-Video Engineer & Technical Supervisor

2003 – Present

Provide Head of Audio-level technical leadership for live productions, theater environments, major television networks, Fortune 500 clients, live broadcasts, entertainment productions, and corporate events throughout the U.S. and internationally.

Apply more than 35 years of experience as a producer, director, editor, sound designer, systems engineer, and touring performer to lead audio departments with equal focus on technical reliability, musical storytelling, performer confidence, and repeatable show quality.

- Lead audio system planning, setup, operation, troubleshooting, and show support for touring, theatre, broadcast, and live entertainment productions.
- Oversee wireless microphones, RF coordination, playback, intercom, IFB, monitors, signal routing, recording, and production communications.
- Coordinate with producers, directors, music teams, stage managers, performers, musicians, designers, engineers, house crews, and touring personnel during advance, load-in, sound check, tech rehearsals, performances, changeovers, and strike.

- Troubleshoot audio and communication issues in real time while protecting show continuity, cue timing, performer confidence, audience experience, and production schedules.
- Supervise local crews and freelance technicians during setup, operation, and strike; travel extensively throughout the U.S. and internationally supporting remote productions.
- Translate performer-side touring experience into practical audio decisions that support vocal clarity, music intelligibility, stage communication, monitor needs, and consistent performance conditions from venue to venue.
