About Chef King

With a passion for food and flavors; Daniel graduated from Culinary school in 2004.

From then on to 2012 he worked under the wings of established catering companies before going out on his own.

With his influential Cuban roots and Grandmother's teachings, Daniel undoubtedly fell into the role of a passionate chef. His bonding moments and love for family and savory hearty flavors brought him to mastering his craft.

Paella is his passion, and it shows with every morsel.
