

Additional Rights of the Long Term Care Clients

- The client has the right to inspect and purchase photocopies of all records pertaining to the resident, upon written request and 48 hours' notice to the facility.
- The client has the right to be fully informed in language that he or she can understand of his or her total health status, including but not limited to, his or her medical condition.
- The client has a right to manage his or her financial affairs and the facility may not require clients to deposit their personal funds with the facility.
- The client has the right to choose a personal attending physician.
- The client has the right to be fully informed in advance about the care or treatment and of any changes in the care or treatment that may affect the client's well-being.
- The client has a right to, unless adjudged incompetent or otherwise found to be incapacitated under the laws of the State, participate in planning care and treatment or changes in care and treatment.
- The client has the right to prompt efforts by the facility to resolve grievances the client may have, including those with respect to the behavior or other clients.
- The client has the right to examine the results of the most recent survey of the facility conducted by federal or state surveyors and any plan of the correction in effect with respect to the facility. The results must be posted by the facility in a place readily accessible to clients.

-
- The client has the right to receive information from agencies acting as client advocates, and be afforded the opportunity to contact these agencies.
 - The client has the right to refuse to perform services for the facility.
 - The client has the right to perform services for the facility, if he or she chooses.
 - The client has the right to choose activities, schedules, and healthcare consistent with his or her schedules, and healthcare consistent with his or her interests, assessments, and plans of care.
 - The client has the right to make choices about aspects of his or her life in the facility that are significant to the client.
 - The client has a right to organize and participate in client groups in the facility.
 - The client has the right to reside and receive services in the facility with reasonable accommodation of individual needs and preferences, except where the health or safety of the individual or other clients would be endangered.
 - The client has the right to receive notice before the client's room or roommate in the facility is changed.