Syrians Overthrow the Assad Regime

WASHINGTON D.C., December 8, 2024 – The American Coalition for Syria (ACS) congratulates the Syrian people on their historic achievement in liberating their country from the tyrannical Assad regime, which occupied their vibrant nation and abused its beautiful people for 53 years.

For too long, the people of Syria have endured unimaginable terror. The path to healing may be long and uncertain, but we believe that the ingenuity, steadfastness, and resourcefulness of the Syrian people will guide them through any challenges ahead.

ACS and its member organizations have stood alongside the brave Syrian people in their quest for liberation. From advocating with lawmakers to educating the public and assisting communities on the ground, we have remained unwavering in our support for the people of Syria and their just cause.

Over the past two weeks, we have witnessed a historic achievement—perhaps the most outstanding example of people's power. We remember and pray for those who sacrificed dearly to make this day possible and pledge our support to help the courageous people of Syria rebuild, heal, and thrive. Long live the people of Syria. Long live the free people of Syria.
