Parade History

The roots of the West Orange Parade can be traced back over 60 years ago to two organizations that are still involved today. These Organizations are the Irish-American Society of the Oranges and the Frank O'Hara Association.

These organizations would march south along the west side of Main Street from Our Lady of Lourdes to the present site of the old A&P parking lot. Upon reaching there, they would board buses and proceed to the Newark Parade.

In 1974 a permit was obtained from the Police department to expand the Parade. In that year, the Parade, following its expanded route, proceeded to Township Hall. It should be noted that in that year the Parade occupied the full width of Main Street.

It was also during this time that the Parade was dedicated to Archbishop Thomas A. Boland, and that a reviewing stand was arranged at the West Orange Community house. The Parade sadly lost Archbishop Boland in March of 1979. The Archbishop's last public appearance was fittingly at the Parade he admired so much, just five days prior to his death.

In 1976 the Parade Committee was formed and officially incorporated in 1977. This initiative was led by the first PARADE CHAIRMAN Patrick J. Melvin. It was through Pat's vision that the modern Parade was born. Pat sadly passed in 1996 one day after his beloved Parade went up the street again; he remained an officer of the committee till the day of his passing. The formation of the Parade Committee expanded the financial as well as the physical base of the Parade. The first formalized West Orange Parade was held in the bicentennial year of 1976. The Parade has grown exponentially from its modest beginnings through the continued dedication of the committee. The Committee today is comprised of many children and grandchildren of that "beginning" generation. The Parade has now become the pre-eminent Parade in the state as few can match its unique combination of dignity, class and size. The Parade attracts thousands of marchers, including Irish-American groups in the area in addition to fraternal, community, and school groups. A very unique tradition of this Parade is the fact that all participants are encouraged to attend mass together as a prelude to the Parade.

The Parade Mass has become a beautiful part of the day as the marchers are led in by the Shillelagh Pipe Band. The mass gives the marchers pause to remember the unique intertwined nature faith plays in Irish culture and how St. Patrick brought us this spiritual gift. Due to its appeal, the location of the Parade Mass is rotated yearly, involving the Parishes of Our Lady of Lourdes, Our Lady of the Valley, Our Lady of the Lake, St. Joseph's, and Our Lady of the Lake, Verona.

The Parade's other tradition is its annual investiture ceremony. This event is the social highlight of the St. Patrick's day season. This is the official swearing in ceremony of the Parade's Grand Marshal and Deputy Grand Marshals. The piping in and announcing all the former parade honorees from previous years who continue to return to support the Parade highlights the event. The newest honorees are presented with their sashes that day and formerly introduced as part of the "Parade family."

The Parade continues to grow in size and respect as witnessed by larger turnouts of marchers, spectators, and the attendance of U.S. Senators, Governors, Congressman, and other elected officials. It has grown because of the family-atmosphere that has been provided and the family traditions it has fostered. New Jersey's "Family Parade" will continue to be successful because of the refined way in which it allows Irish-Americans to demonstrate their pride in their heritage and culture in a dignified forum.

The Committee has been an innovator in improving the Parade in so many ways. The advent of flags, banners, posters, websites, pins, corporate sponsorships, etc. have constantly evolved to the point where the Parade has a unique look and feel that may be imitated but cannot be duplicated. The Parade has taken pride in honoring men and women from all walks of life. The Irish have always been proud of being both Americans and of Irish ancestry. They have been among the most patriotic immigrants this country has ever witnessed, winning more Congressional Medals of Honor than any other ethnic group. Even George Washington recognized this fact by having a hand in the formation of the first parade in New York which is older than the country itself and is the biggest in the world today. The West Orange Parade has been a social innovator in having the first woman Grand Marshal and first woman Chairman of any parade in the state. The Parade Committee today continues to be progressive with a relatively young committee which features women in many of the leadership roles.

Throughout the history of the Parade, there have been many who have contributed to its success and ensuring the continuation of a fine tradition in our community. While there are many who have gone before, the Parade Committee has chosen to remember certain individuals who have touched the hearts of many in a very special way. In 2016 we add the name Brendan P. Tevlin under the names of Archbishop Boland and Patrick J. Melvin. These exceptional gentlemen had a true dedication to the Spirit of St. Patrick and represented the qualities of faith and pride that are integral to the continued success of the Parade.

Message From The Chairmoman

Dear Friends,

We are excited to present the 67th Annual St. Patrick's Day Parade in West Orange.

This year, the Parade Committee is pleased to honor and to share this day with the 2018 Grand Marshal Donald R. Shauger, Sr. and the 2018 Deputy Grand Marshals Robert Lynch, Sean McGinley and Brad Squires.

Once again, we all owe our thanks to the tireless effort and support of the volunteer members of the Parade Committee: Thomas Brennan, Mary Cassels, Janet Burke, Barbara Hughes, Katie Bogart, Jeff Bogart, Christ Wightman, Joe Ryan, John McKeon, Carol Corcoran, Kevin Brennan, Maureen O'Hara, Joe Brennan, Parade Trustees Joseph Ryan, Stephanie Gallo, Timothy Quigley, Michael Tevlin and Jere Cole and Parade Chaplain Monsignor Michael Kelly. The Parade is a result of your unwavering commitment to tradition and to each other.

In addition to the hard work and support of the Committee and all the volunteers, the Parade would not be possible without generous financial support from people, friends, community groups and business that share in our commitment to the Parade and to our community.

We offer our sincere thanks to the Township of West Orange, the West Orange Police & Fire Departments, the Department of Public Works and West Orange High School TV36. The Parade is made possible only by their support and assistance and we are grateful for their friendship and partnership throughout the years.

I am honored to serve as Chairperson and privileged to follow the long line of people that have made this parade possible since the beginning. I follow a long list of O'Haras that have contributed to its history and success. I thank them for the example they have set. I thank my husband Robert, daughter Kelly and son Robert for their guidance and today, I remember my Mom and Dad and honor the pride they had in being a part of this tradition.

Each year, on this one Sunday, we are blessed to come together to celebrate our Irish Heritage, to honor lasting friendships and to show reverence to those that have gone before us by continuing to honor our faith, our family and tradition.

May you each enjoy the Parade and all it represents.

Sheila Roth Parisi

2018 PARADE CHAIRWOMAN

Thank you to everyone who displayed our Parade Posters, sold our Buttons, and purchased our T-Shirts. * The Parade Committee apologizes for any omission or misspellings in this book *

message From The Grand Marshal

Dear family, friends, colleagues, and all others gathered to celebrate this special West Orange tradition,

Not a day goes by when I am not grateful to have been raised in the incredible, warm, and welcoming community of West Orange. Not only was I raised by an amazing mother, I was raised by the community of West Orange—a community that helped my family through our struggles and was there for us every step of the way. I will never forget what this community has done for my family, so it has been nothing short of an honor for me to be able to give back to a community that has given so much to me.

When my mother was stretched thin from working long hours, raising five kids on her own, and caring for my sister, who was terminally ill, the community of West Orange stepped up to help my family. There are many moments of kindness that stand out in my mind—moments when friends and strangers truly showed us what community, friendship, love, and West Orange are all about. The incredible thing about West Orange is that everyone always looks out for one another: they stick by your side, in both good times and bad. I am always proud to say I wasn't just raised in West Orange, I was raised by West Orange.

From the bottom of my heart, I am thankful to the West Orange community for embracing me throughout my entire life—and especially today, in this humbling position of Parade Grand Marshal.

For the past 67 years, people from far and wide have flocked to West Orange to celebrate our town's special St. Patrick's Day tradition. Each year, the parade committee never fails to organize an amazing, unforgettable event—one that brings together friends to bond, reminisce, and share in their love of this special tradition.

The continued success of the parade is a testament to the dedication of the parade committee. The parade is an esteemed tradition—and one that wouldn't be possible without the committee's time, effort, and heartfelt devotion each year. Thank you to the parade committee for all they do to make this day a memorable one.

For all of you joining us for today's parade, I hope you enjoy a wonderful day with your loved ones. Be sure to remember all those who are no longer here to celebrate the day with us: make a toast to them, and march as if they are marching right alongside you. I know my mother and sister will be here today in spirit, standing by my side and sharing in this special moment.

Some of my most vivid childhood memories center around the tradition of the West Orange St. Patrick's Day Parade. Proud of my Irish heritage, I have always eagerly looked forward to St. Patrick's Day each year. We all have unforgettable memories from the parade—listening to the marching bands, watching the fire trucks, dressing head to toe in green, or marching down Main Street—but the community bonding on this day is what stands out most in my mind. The West Orange Parade has always been more than just a parade: it's a symbol of friendship and unity. It brings people together in a celebration of faith, community, and Irish traditions, while both reuniting old friends and starting new friendships. The parade reminds us of what makes West Orange so special and lets us bond over our shared love of this town.

I can hardly believe this tradition I've loved since childhood is one I have the privilege of leading today. I'd like to thank the parade committee and the entire West Orange community for this truly humbling honor. Congratulations to Deputy Grand Marshals Robert Lynch, Brad Squires, and Sean McGinley on their well-deserved honor and appointment; on behalf of my beloved hometown, I thank them for all they do for the community. It's an honor to stand alongside three individuals who truly embody the spirit of West Orange and what this great community represents.

Thank you to my three parade aides, who I chose symbolically to represent three very important facets of my life: religion, family, and friends. I am grateful that Father Jim Ferry, my priest at Our Lady of Lourdes Church; Therese Shauger, my sister-in-law; and Michael D'Aries, my lifelong friend since kindergarten, all were as enthusiastic about their roles in the parade as I was.

Thank you to my wife Lisa, my daughter Marisa, and my son Donnie, who's also my chief of staff, for their unconditional love and support. I don't know where I would be without them.

It was one of the greatest honors of my life to receive a call from the parade committee, telling me I had been chosen as Grand Marshal. It's a moment I will never forget. I can guarantee you that, when I am marching up Main Street today with my family, I will be reliving a lifetime of memories in West Orange—from childhood on—and it will be hard to hold back the tears.

From the bottom of my heart, thank you for this honor.

Wishing a wonderful St. Patrick's Day to you and yours!

God bless,

Donald R. Shauger, Sr. 2018 GRAND MARSHAL

I would like to congratulate my son Sean Joseph on this great honor. Seeing him being honored with my granddaughters Madison Grace and Cadence Alice fills my heart with joy and pride and makes me not only a proud Irish mother but a proud West Orange mother.

I would also like to thank my sons Gary Owen and Liam James, and my grandsons Connor, Owen, Brendan, and Aiden — fine sons and grandsons that also make a mother proud. God bless them all and congratulations to Grand Marshal, Donald Shauger and Deputy Grand Marshals Brad Squires and Robert Lynch who deserve this honor as well.

With Love, Margaret McGinley

Congratulations to our long-time friends...
