ELAINE DUBE'S WORK IN THE MESDA ART LEAGUE GALLERY AT THE ONEOHONE GALLERY

NOVEMBER MEETING DEMO BY KAREN BEASLEY

Being a short person, I learned to make clothes at a young age since the ones that fit her as an adolescent were in the children's department. Then as a military wife, I made new sets of curtains every few years. My sewing machine has travelled many miles and sometimes I even take it along on vacation.

Over the years, I also took up the paint brush. I have combined mixed media materials onto fabric, paper, and wood. I will show you a few finished examples as well as a UFO and explain how I plan to go forward towards completion. I will show you some tools of the trade and teach you some lingo.

Below is an art quilt based on Van Gogh's Sunflowers and a small unfinished portrait of the house we isolated in this summer when we had Covid.

The Newsletter of the Mesa Art League NOVEMBER, 2022

WORD FROM THE PRESIDENT

It's November already. Time to remind ourselves what we are grateful for. The art league members, who remind me of the diversity and joy in creating art. The volunteers who help make this group work., The veteran's energy and creativity. And the ability to create.

November there will be a show at the One OH One Gallery of the Sculpture artists from the Mesa Art Center classes. Should be an interesting show.

The veteran's will be in the Mesa parade on November 11.

Our November 8th meeting will feature Karen Beasley.

We will also do two months of Artwork of the Month. We did not have any entries in October, so bring two pieces for voting.

And keep on creating

Lorabee
