Asin Fest Music Showcase

Yamantaka // Sonic Titan are a Noh-Wave prog collective, a black-and-white (and sometimes red) theatre company, an operatic psych cult, and the speculative prophets of humanity's impending doom. Above it all, though, they're a thunderous rock band, and on their third album, DIRT, they're the heaviest they've ever been.

Ethnotechnique is an Ottawa-based band featuring Brian Wallin and Ashelita Shellard. They are influenced by Coltrane and Nachos, they play music in the basement laundry room, and it is dope, iconic and legendary.

Gentleman Soundgoods is a Toronto based Anishinaabe post-rock band, they combine slick riffs and melody, with a machine-gun drumbeat that will leave you breathless and pondering life's mysteries.
