Technology is good
when you don't notice it,
but simply use it.

Good technology is there to serve the user. The technical elements of our pleated blinds are almost invisible, but extremely effective. Together with the developers of Cosiflor® technology, we have succeeded in creating a perfect interplay of high-quality components in the current collection. Particularly smooth-running and intuitive guides, diverse and user-friendly installation options as well as a superior and well thought-out design language ensure smooth and easy operation. Teba® pleated blinds. COSIFLOR®
Plissees

User-oriented technology that is reliable and durable and at the same time integrates aesthetically into the interior design, in short: functionality that is hardly visible – this is our maxim in product and system development. Based on these principles, the constructive and cooperative collaboration between Teba® and Cosiflor® have repeatedly resulted in new solutions that have often become standards on the market. This is also the case with our current pleated blind collection with Cosiflor® technology.

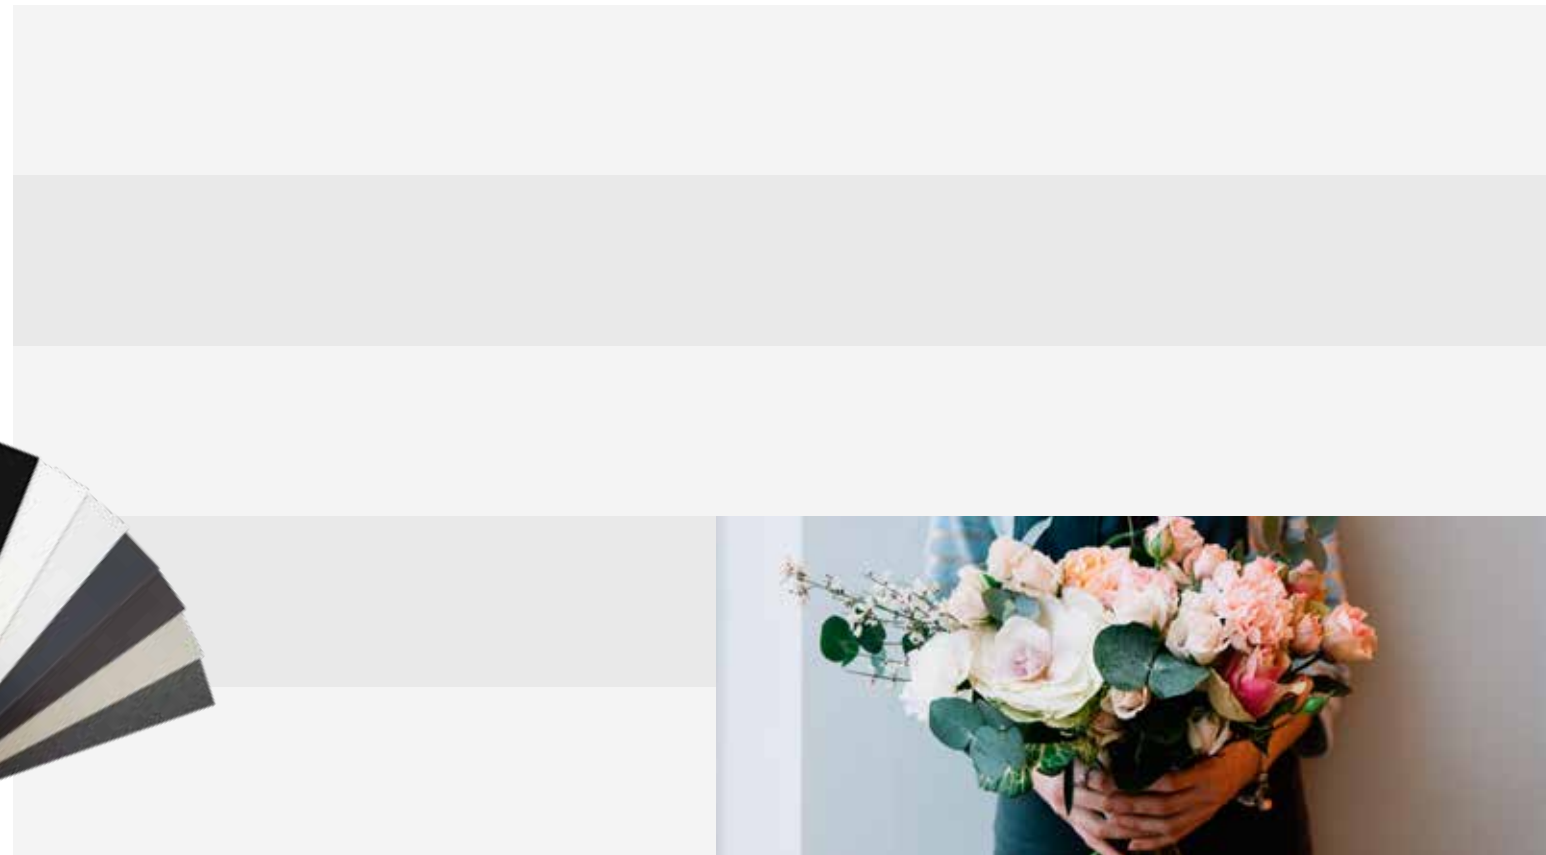

profile shape

Beautifully shaped slim profiles in a wide range of colours with colour-coordinated components form the backbone of each pleated blind system. The leading technology is almost invisible and the fabrics are held securely in place.

handle ergonomics

Ergonomics means the adaptation to the human body. Our operating handles are shaped according to ergonomic findings, thus ensuring a pleasant feel and operation just as if they were a part of the body. Shaped for people, for you.

Matched to the profile colours, the 3 handle variants are available in the respective system colours. Thanks to the simple installation, all models can be easily exchanged.

operating rod

The Teba® operating rod helps you when you need a longer arm. Very simple and easy to use and always at hand.

mounting variety

We also offer a wide range of installation options to match the variable window types. All variants, including tool-free fastening with adhesive strips and side guides, are particularly easy to install, durable and aesthetically pleasing. Hence, the pleated blind system with fastening, guide, operating elements and above all the fabrics always results in a consistent and harmonious overall appearance with your window.

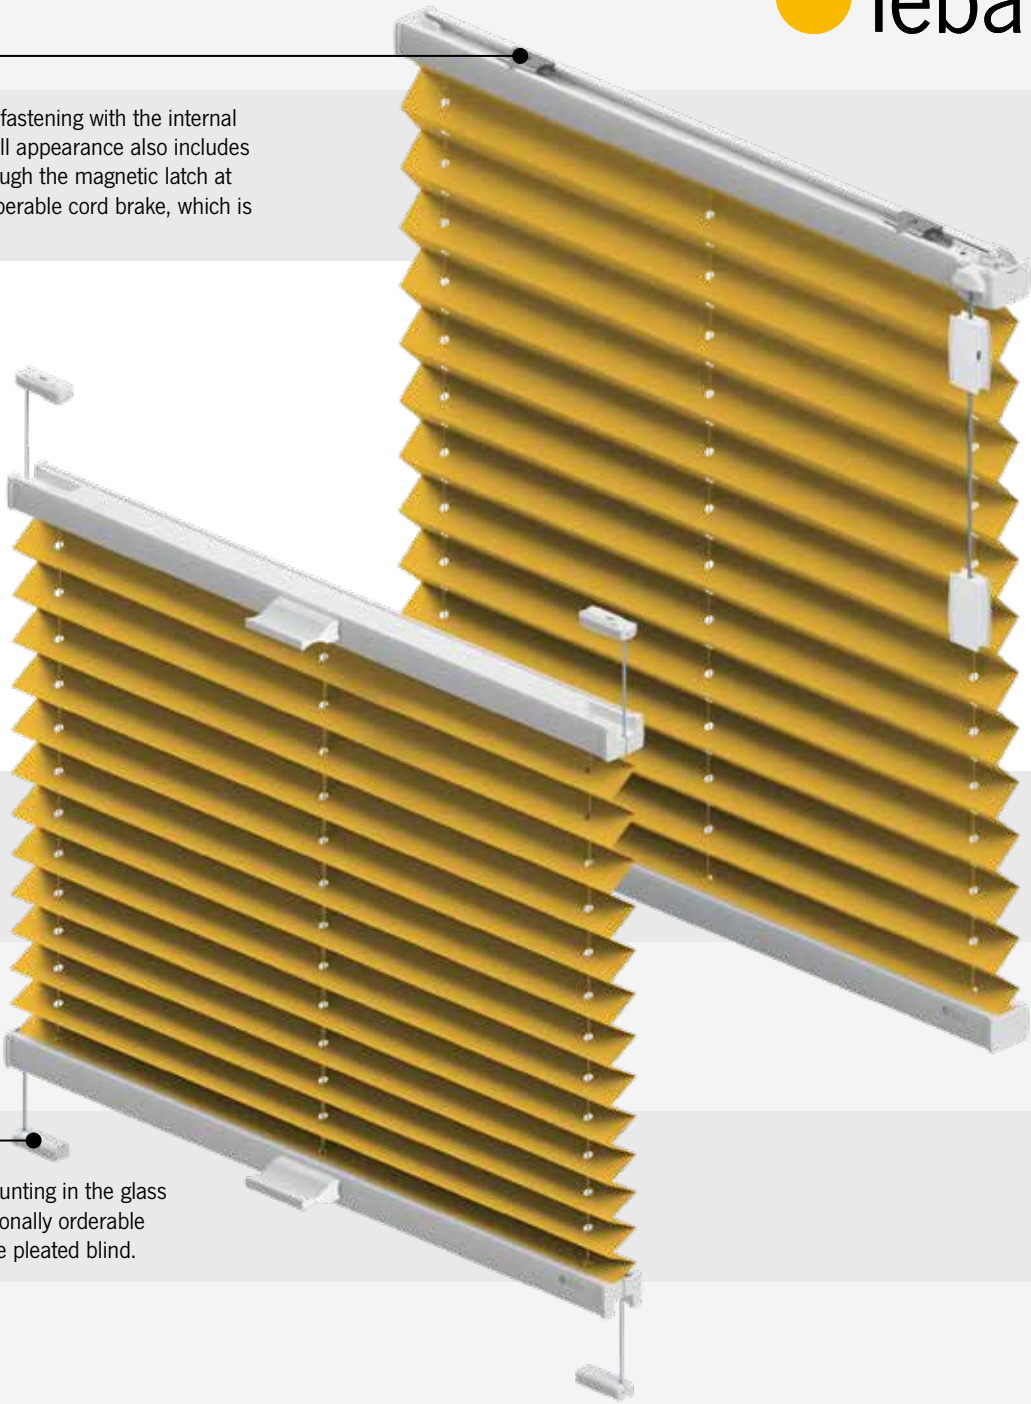

Ceiling clip

In addition to the almost invisible fastening with the internal mounting clip, the aesthetic overall appearance also includes the flush and reliable closure through the magnetic latch at the top as well as the intuitively operable cord brake, which is adapted to the design.

slopingolutions

We offer you the right solutions for the roof windows of leading manufacturers. Exactly matched to the design and functionality of the respective window, our range includes sun protection that is either transparent, translucent or darkening. Or, as with the DF 30 comfort model, two fabrics combined.

DF 20 comfort*

DF 30 comfort*

*incl. side guide rails

Invisible technology for maximum comfort.
Our pleated blinds for skylights are available in various models. All DF comfort models have a magnetic fixing in the top rail, which in combination with the U profiles ensures a significantly minimised incidence of light. The side guide rails prevent the pleated fabric from sagging and ensure that the fabric is guided evenly and easily. For this purpose, the DF comfort profiles are equipped with rubber lips that further reduce the incidence of light.

With surface coatings, our fabrics can do even more. For instance, fabrics finished with TOPAR® or Perlex® reflect sunlight more strongly, keeping the heat out in summer. STAINSTOP protects your pleated fabrics from dirt.

TOPAR[®] Perlex[®]

Increased heat and cold protection, glossy, protected and easy-care surfaces and long-lasting, intense colour.

The properties of the innovative coating refine every fabric and ensure that you will enjoy your sun protection pleated blind for even longer.

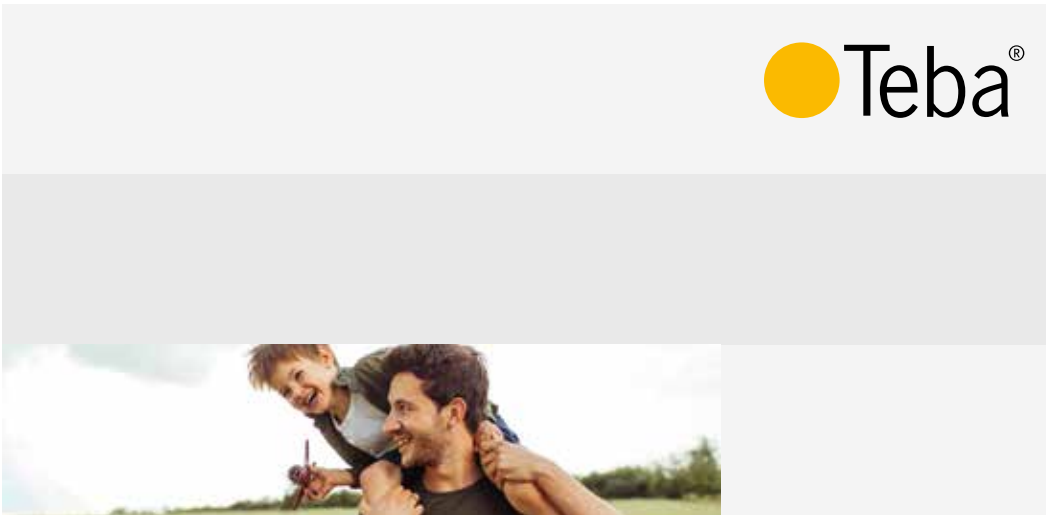

- dust-repellent and easy to clean

- high solar and light reflection
- low heat permeability
- also available with richly coloured patterns and crush
- available in all shades, from transparent to blackout

STAINSTOP is a dirt-repellent fabric treatment that offers better protection against the most common household water-based stains, making the fabric look new for a longer period of time.

livable future

Acting sustainably secures life. Sustainability means providing future generations with a livable basis through the responsible use of resources, living beings and the biosphere. Future generations – that’s all of us, our children, our future. That is why we at Teba® pay special attention to producing in the most resource-saving and environmentally conscious way possible. This ranges from avoiding long delivery routes to using recycled materials and raising awareness among our employees to supporting individual environmental projects.

Sustainability can only be achieved holistically.

Sustainability is an attitude, a mindset. At Teba®, we have been questioning and optimising ourselves for several years. In 2017, for example, we took part in the City of Duisburg’s Ökoprofit programme. The measures we implemented have effectively and sustainably helped to protect the environment. We are having every corner of our company checked and optimised by our own energy scouts, our trainees. By using seemingly simple products and measures such as towel dispensers, new PCs, waste separation or forklift trucks, we were able to save almost 200 t of CO₂ from 2018 to 2021. And to raise the awareness of our employees accordingly.

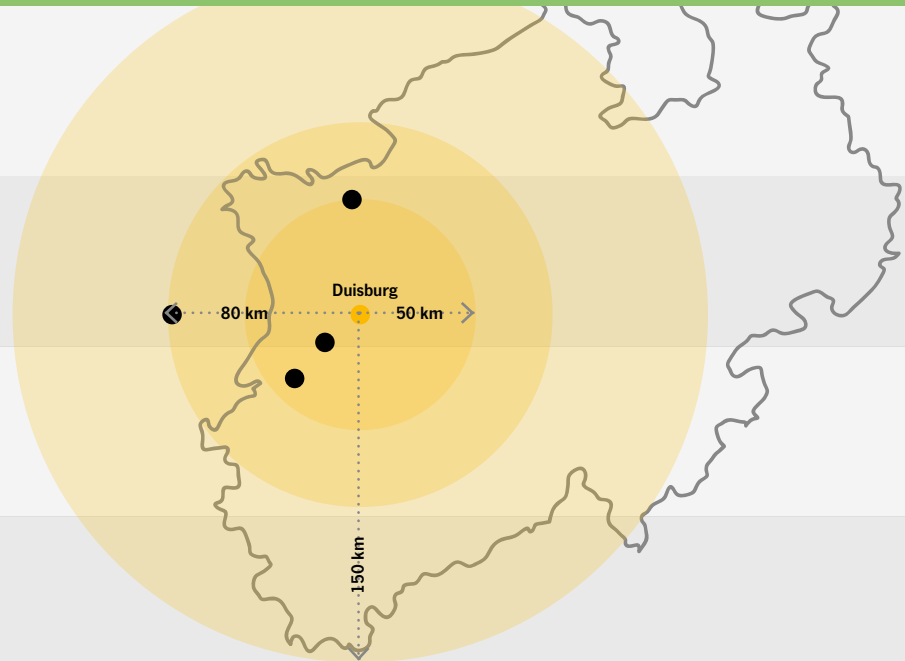

We are constantly optimising our production processes and our entire way of thinking is geared more towards environmental aspects. All these are small components of holistic and sustainable planning for the future.

From the region. For the region.

Focusing on suppliers and partners in the closest possible vicinity not only strengthens the infrastructure and the people in these regions. Due to the short delivery routes, it also improves the CO₂ footprint of each individual part and production process and, thus, our contribution to sustainability and safeguarding the future. About two thirds of our suppliers are located within a radius of only 150 km around our production facilities in Duisburg.

Savings through Teba's own measures on average per year

Raw materials that have the future in mind.

It goes without saying that thanks to their high quality and reliability, our products are already very long-lasting and therefore sustainable. In addition, we strive to make the materials, the manufacturing techniques and the entire life cycles as efficient and resource-saving as possible.

Resource-saving and therefore also sustainable fabrics include Hunter Douglas' Greenscreen Sea-Tex® fabrics, which are made of 125 g/m² recycled polyester. Just like fabrics from Junkers & Müller, which consist of up to 80 % recycled polyester. Or the fabrics that are manufactured by Cradle to Cradle™-certified companies.

We ourselves, as well as our suppliers, make sure to act in a resource-saving and sustainable manner. For example, our operating handles are produced with 100 % green electricity. And our print products, like this brochure, are printed climate neutrally. With all our efforts and measures, we strive to become better and better in order to make Teba® a little more climate-friendly and sustainable with every further change.
Let's shape a liveable future together.
