

The Love Party Platform

The Love Party believes that to love and be loved is a universal right of all people. In order to love and be loved, it is important that all people have their basic needs met, are free to make their own choices and are tolerant of each other's differences. Therefore, the following are to be universal rights for all people:

- 1) The right to love and be loved
- 2) The right to have their basic needs of food, clean water, clothing, shelter and health care met
- 3) The right to worship or not worship however they choose
- 4) The right to modify their bodies however they choose
- 5) The right to put into their bodies whatever they choose
- 6) The right to an education to expand their minds as far as they choose
- 7) The right to form mutual and consensual relationships with whomever they choose
- 8) The right to defend themselves and others
- 9) The right to do anything they want if it does not harm or cause unreasonable risk of harm to others

If you can accept the platform above, and agree to let love guide your decisions, you are now a member of The Love Party. Welcome and thank you. We are very happy to have you. Please visit our website at theloveparty.net and provide us with any feedback or input you may have. Let's please spread love to all humans, however we are able, and invite everyone to join The Love Party. This party is open to all people.
