Class Description:

Roses & Thorns of Life is a class designed to develop impactful world changers! We will be reading through Atomic habits by James Clear and correlating worksheets with each chapter!

This class will help your student grow in their self-esteem and confidence, learn about their feelings and emotions & how to work through them, learn about the importance of community (friendship), and trusting them, and to grow in life skills at their level!

Throughout the book there will be discussions and mini workshops for the students to ask more questions and engage what they are learning from James Clear and myself!
