Class Description:

Pack your reading passports and get ready for an adventure! In Genre Explorers: A Journey Through Stories, students will embark on a literary journey through a different genre each week. From realistic fiction and mystery to poetry and nonfiction, young readers will discover the unique traits that make each genre special. With engaging picture books, hands-on activities, and creative projects, students will learn to identify, compare, and enjoy a wide variety of story types.

This class builds reading comprehension, genre awareness, and a lifelong love of literature—all in a fun, interactive format designed just for upper elementary learners.

The final week includes a genre celebration where students will celebrate some of the genres from the semester.
