

Statement of intent

The Directors, Governors and all staff at On The Streets Education have a clear commitment to establish a high-quality, trauma-informed, and community-rooted provision that places the best interests of young people at the centre of every decision.

All staff have developed a deep understanding of the complex needs of vulnerable learners.

This experience underpins the ethos of On The Streets Education: a provision where safety, dignity, and aspiration are non-negotiable foundations.

Authenticity and Accredited Partnerships

To ensure the highest standards of practice, On The Streets Education will work exclusively with accredited and reputable bodies whose values align with our own. These include:

THRIVE – supporting emotional regulation, relational practice, and therapeutic approaches.

Child Therapy Service Ltd – providing specialist therapeutic input and safeguarding-aligned interventions.

The John Muir Award – enriching our outdoor learning and personal development curriculum.

The John Muir Award – enriching our outdoor learning and personal development curriculum

Our learning frameworks will be further strengthened through accreditation with:

ASDAN Life Skills – enabling personalised, practical, and meaningful learning pathways.

Read Write Inc. – ensuring a structured, evidence-based approach to literacy development.

These partnerships reflect our commitment to authenticity, quality assurance, and the use of nationally recognised frameworks that support both academic and personal growth.

Strategic Intention and Provision Design

The strategic intention of On The Streets Education is clear:

To provide the highest-quality alternative provision for young people in Gorton and neighbouring areas, ensuring they receive the support, stability, and opportunities they deserve.

Quality will always take precedence over business expansion. To uphold this principle, our provision will operate with:

- A total cap of 20 students,
- A maximum of 5 students on site per day,

This model ensures a safe, relational, and highly personalised environment where every learner receives the attention, consistency, and specialist support required to thrive.

Commitment to Young People and the Community

On The Streets Education is designed to be a place where young people feel seen, valued, and supported to rebuild confidence, develop essential skills, and progress towards positive futures. Our trauma-informed culture, robust safeguarding practice, and holistic curriculum will ensure that every learner's wellbeing and aspirations remain the focal point of our work.
