Gloria Gemma Foundation Partners with All That Matters Yoga + Wellness to Expand Healing Programs for Cancer Survivors

Collaboration to offer curated yoga and wellness classes designed for cancer survivors, thrivers, and their families.

Gloria Gemma Foundation Announces Partnership with All That Matters Yoga + Wellness to Bring Curated Classes to Cancer Survivors

Lincoln, RI — October 27, 2025 — The Gloria Gemma Breast Cancer Resource Foundation proudly announces a transformative new partnership with All That Matters Yoga + Wellness, bringing a series of curated yoga, mindfulness, and wellness classes to the Gloria Gemma Center for Cancer Survivorship & WellBeing in Lincoln, Rhode Island.

Through this collaboration, All That Matters will deliver specialized wellness programs that focus on restoration, mindfulness, movement, and community connection—all designed to meet the unique physical and emotional needs of individuals navigating cancer treatment and survivorship.

"This partnership represents a shared commitment to restoring balance and nurturing the mind, body, and spirit," said Maria Gemma, Executive Director of the Gloria Gemma Foundation. "Together, we're creating a space where survivors can reconnect with themselves, rebuild strength, and rediscover peace through guided movement and mindfulness."

Classes will be led by certified All That Matters instructors and held in the Movement Studio of the new Gloria Gemma Center for Survivorship & WellBeing. Offerings will include gentle yoga, meditation, breathwork, and guided relaxation, encouraging participants to explore personal wellness and empowerment throughout their survivorship journey.

“We’re honored to partner with the Gloria Gemma Foundation to make wellness accessible to every survivor,” said Michele Maker, Director of All That Matters Yoga + Wellness. “Our shared philosophy is that healing happens on many levels—physical, emotional, and spiritual—and we’re proud to support this incredible community through mindful practice.”

Yoga and wellness classes offered through this partnership will be free of charge for patients and survivors, ensuring that everyone facing a cancer diagnosis has access to healing resources without financial barriers. Family members, caregivers, and supporters will also be invited to participate for a small program fee, helping sustain the initiative while keeping it accessible to all. This model reflects the Gloria Gemma Foundation's unwavering mission to provide free, inclusive programming to those affected by cancer and to ensure that there are no barriers on the journey to wellness, healing, and hope.

For those interested in taking part in these curated yoga and wellness programs, please contact the Gloria Gemma Breast Cancer Resource Foundation at 401-861-4376 or email info@gloriagemma.org. The Foundation's team will be happy to share class schedules, registration details, and help connect you with the right program to support your wellness journey.

The Gloria Gemma Center for Cancer Survivorship & WellBeing, at 11A Blackstone Valley Place in Lincoln, features more than 10,000 square feet of dedicated healing spaces. The new Center embodies the Foundation's ongoing mission to ensure there are no barriers to quality survivorship care.
