TO OUR GARDENING FRIENDS

Our life is crazy-because of you!! We are blessed to have a business we love. We have amazing customer support, and the way you spread the word is awesome!! So, Thank you!!

Supporting our small business: spread the good word, Sharing posts on Facebook, Interacting on Facebook. These are all FREE acts of kindness to support us!

But, of course, we really appreciate you, when you support us financially! We wouldn't be here without you. We have the best choice of plants you will find anywhere in our area! Our plants are high quality, because we know how to take care of them from their first day. Our fertilizer is the best you can get! It's plant based, which makes the plants want to absorb it. And it never burns! If you aren't using fertilizer, your plants will tell you. They will be leggy and not many flowers!

Some of my favorite perennials are sedums, garden phlox, bee balm and Echinacea's! They are a flower garden staple. There are many more, but, if you are a beginner, try one of these.

Lastly, our workshops are the best!! The customer support for our workshops is amazing!! If you want to have some fun, come to a workshop. You will leave with a smile!

Many family and friends who have attended our workshops have made many memories. Businesses have used our workshops to build team support. Come make some memories for 2023!

HAPPY GARDENING! DIANE

ABOUT DIANE'S

Diane's Greenhouse is a family owned business. We started our greenhouse in 2000. With only a thought and a prayer, and no experience, we knew we could do this. Our goal is to serve the customer with superior service. We strive for the highest quality plants you can find. We will continue to educate ourselves, and you, on having the best possible flower beds and containers possible. We hope you feel a little more like a pro, at the end of each season.

LANDSCAPING

DIY is very popular when it comes to landscaping. At Diane's Greenhouse, we want you to become good at landscaping. Bring in, or email pictures and measurements and we will supply the plan. There's no charge for the plan, but we require you to buy all plants from us. We will teach you how!

If DIY is not for you, we will refer you to the landscaper we use. Let us make your dream come true! NO JOB IS TOO BIG OR TOO SMALL!

DIANE'S HELPFUL HINTS

GROWING VEGETABLES

So many people have problems with blight on their tomatoes. I have found two things that could eliminate blight from your garden. Consistency in keeping your garden moist. A 1" layer of mushroom compost will help hold in the moisture for your plants. Nutrition! Add 1-2 ice cream buckets full of mushroom compost to each plant. For a tomato, dig your hole, as deep as the tomato plant. Work in 1-2 ice cream buckets full of mushroom compost. Then plant your tomato plant deep – leave a couple of inches above ground. The whole stem will form roots. The mushroom compost will add beneficial bacteria into the soil. This will choke out the bad bacteria, and create a healthier plant. I know this works! No need to add any other fertilizer for the season. You will be able to grow fewer plants, because the plants you have will produce more fruit! I don't like grass clippings for mulch. Especially, if you used weed and feed on your lawn.

Also, If you are using other compost, do you know what's in it? Is it composted lawn clippings? Full of herbicide? Please don't add it to the garden!

DIANE RECOMMENDS MUSHROOM COMPOST

Totally organic rich dark mixture of wheat straw, peat moss, cottonseed meal, gypsum, lime and chicken litter. This combination is superior to other compost.

- ▶ Compost will keep the ground temperature cooler and help add moisture.
- ▶ Work in 2-3" layer when planting a new tree, add a 2 gallon bucket full.
- ▶ Add a 2" layer to large (whiskey barrel size) containers.
- ▶ Add a 5 qt. ice cream bucket full/vegetable plant.
- ▶ Top dress all containers, existing flower beds and trees.
- ▶ Add a 1 gallon bucket of mushroom compost/perennial.
- ▶ The end of June (after soil temps heat up) mulch each vegetable plant with a 1" layer of mushroom compost.

DELPHINIUM, BLACK EYED ANGELS Tall spires of frilly white flowers with black bees. Sun, Hgt. 4-5', Zone 3-7.

DIANE'S HELPFUL HINTS CARING FOR PERENNIALS

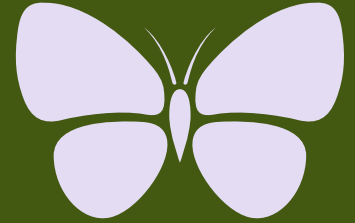

Why do plants die or why don't they thrive? The answer is simple — watering and/or nutrition, and quality of the plant from the beginning.

NUTRITION: I mention mushroom compost all the time. Why? Because I know it works. Add at least 1 gallon of mushroom compost/perennial. More if you have poor soil. You are adding the good bacteria the plant needs to thrive. Also, the compost will help hold moisture and will break up clay soil and add substance to sandy soil.

WATER: I hear it all the time, "I watered, watered, watered." Then you didn't water correctly, if your plant did not thrive. A newly planted perennial will need about 5 gallons/week during a dry spell. A newly planted tree will need 20 gallons/week. Things have been extreme the last couple of summers, don't be afraid to give your plant water! Giving your plant, a shot of water every day, is not enough! Deep watering is the way to go. That's where 1-3" of mushroom compost will help each plant, retain moisture and give it amazing benefits.

CREATING A HANGING BASKET

- Start with good quality potting soil – we use PRO MIX
- Use top quality plants – not all plants are created equal. At Diane's Greenhouse we give our plants the best care they can get. We use the best potting soil, they are watered when they need it and they are fed! So when our plants get to your house, they are ready to explode.
- When you get your basket home, you can give it a trim (see photo). I know it's hard to do, but it's worth it.
- After I trimmed it, I added 3 Tbs. of Proven Winner slow release. And I fertilized with "Nature's Source" (formerly known as Daniels), daily all through the summer.
- I water my baskets daily on a drip system.

DIANE'S HELPFUL HINTS TREES & SHRUBS

- ▶ Trees require 20 gallons of water/week
- ▶ Shrubs require 10 gallons/week
- ▶ Add a gallon bucket of mushroom compost to each vegetable plant. Also, mulch with a 3" layer. You'll be amazed with the results. Less disease and more fruit!
- ▶ When planting a new tree, cover the trunk with a white, perforated tree protector. This will protect the tree for the winter, and against rabbits. Leave on all year, until the tree forms its real bark.

- ▶ When you purchase a tree or shrub, be sure to water the container every day. The tree or shrub must get planted wet! If it's a hot, windy day, water the container first, dig your hole and plant your item. Water the tree or shrub thoroughly. Keep the root ball of the tree or shrub moist. It helps to mulch your tree, to keep the moisture in the ground. We also recommend to incorporate one package of Soil Moist in the soil at time of planting. Most problems come from under watering or over watering.

- ▶ Always plant a tree 2" above ground including mulch.
