

A HIVE OF ACTIVITY

Ilkley is now home to an exciting new interior showroom with the arrival of Hive Kitchen Design whose ethos is very much on making the process of fitting a new kitchen as simple and as stress-free as possible.

When Adam Corbally and his business partner Mark Bickerstaffe decided to open up their first kitchen showroom this year, the spa town of Ilkley, with its wealth of stylish homes and discerning customers seemed the perfect fit.

And now, six months after launching their stylish new premises on Wells Road, the pair are enjoying the challenge of bringing their love for design to the homes of Ilkley and beyond.

With 30 years combined experience in the industry Mark and Adam's genuine passion for designing elegant and simplistic kitchens and interiors is taking the town by storm.

With a promise to make the process of fitting a new kitchen or upgrading an old one as simple as possible, the ethos at Hive is very much about working closely with the customer to ensure it is an enjoyable and stress-free experience from start to finish.

Offering an extensive range of superb value for money solutions and styles, Adam and Mark have worked tirelessly to ensure the delivery of exquisite kitchens and utility rooms on time and on budget.

The pair make a formidable team with Adam boasting 15 years of experience in kitchen design and project management alongside Mark who has spent a similar time perfecting the art of installation and on-site management.

It is that experience and wealth of knowledge in all sectors from high end bespoke kitchens to middle market and trade offerings, that ensures they can meet the demands and requirements of every customer.

Talking about their business Adam said: "We are delighted to be on hand to serve the people of Ilkley and genuinely believe we can offer our customers the complete buying, design and installation service with a dedicated in-house team who will work with you from start to finish."
