About the Author

Hatman, poet, performer and children's book writer. Born in 1975, raised in London, England, but now resides in the leafy suburbs of Leicester. He has been working with young people for over 30 years. Hatman is also the father to 5 fantastic children who provide regular inspiration for his stories and poems.

Hatman's writing talent was first discovered at the age of 7 when he won his first class poetry competition. He has since gone on to write and perform in schools, colleges and on the London poetry scene over the last 30 years.

His work as an educator in SEN schools has led him to develop inclusive stories incorporating words and actions. His first book 'Moo went the cow' was a start of a new genre of books to include Makaton signs to relay the story..

As a dyslexic author, Hatman provides inspiration to children and adults with his Positive Poetry which he aims to #InspireHumanity

About the Illustrator
