

Thomas Wright

Meeting & Conference Presentations

The New Normal. When Social Security and Medicare Meet the Aging Workforce

Issues surrounding the aging workforce are of growing importance in today's business environment. And for older employees, understanding the foundational benefits of Social Security & Medicare is a high-priority. Tom's presentations are fast-paced, fun, and always generate a big turnout!

"Great program. Members loved it. Highly recommended!"

Connecticut Healthcare Human Resources Association

"Outstanding! Lots of interest. We're bringing Tom back next year."

Professionals in Human Resources Association, Pasadena, CA

"This breakout session was one of our best. Got a standing ovation!"

Vermont SHRM Annual Conference

Tom Wright was a benefits broker and consultant for over 30 years. In 2016, he created the Turning 65 Workshop to bring Medicare & Social Security learning programs to the workplace, including professional training for HR and Benefits teams. He's been quoted in Kiplinger's and Fortune magazines, the Boston Globe, and interviewed on a number of radio & TV programs. Tom's spoken to audiences from Los Angeles to Miami to Caribou, Maine and is well-known for his ability to communicate complex financial information in ways regular people understand.

tom-wright-workplace-learning | 207.846.6138 | tom@turning65workshop.com