

EPISODE #044

"THE TRUE BELIEVER"

The aliens and the Blackwood Team are headed for a deadly face-to-face showdown.

Kincaid, whose identity has long been known by the aliens, is set up in an ambush at a warehouse. But, before the aliens can kill him, Kincaid, Suzanne and Harrison arrive to his rescue. However, the team is unaware that an alien watcher has been chronicling the entire event, enabling the Morthren to record the identities of Kincaid, Harrison and Suzanne.

Later, when armed robbers hold up a bank and kill several guards, an all points bulletin goes out for Kincaid, Harrison and Suzanne, whose identities have been captured on the bank's video monitoring equipment. The violent bank robbery is all part of an elaborate scheme concocted by the aliens using Blackwood team doubles to make them fugitives of their own race.

Back at the Morthren base, Malzor has become increasingly anxious over the loss of so many warriors. Workers are having to be pulled from other crucial jobs to defend their base and continue the battle, while food and other vital resources are being drained.

Believing the Blackwood team is at the root of his problems, Malzor decides to track them down himself. Taking along a few Morthren, Malzor poses as a police lieutenant and joins forces with Thresher, an idealistic and aggressive police officer involved in the citywide hunt for Kincaid, Harrison and Suzanne. Together, they corner the trio in an alley where Suzanne is shot and Harrison is captured by Malzor. While Kincaid manages to escape with Suzanne and get her back to the shelter, Malzor, not wanting to blow his cover, takes Harrison back to police headquarters where he proceeds to brutally interrogate the Blackwood team leader.

Since Debi is the only member of the Blackwood team that the Morthren haven't identified, she goes to the police station to check on Harrison's status. Meanwhile, Thresher has become highly suspicious of Malzor and his tactics. When he overhears Debi talking to Kincaid on the phone about Harrison, he persuades her to trust him and tell everything she knows about the situation. Debi's story convinces him to help Kincaid rescue Harrison from Malzor and his men.

Leading Malzor to believe he's located Kincaid and Suzanne, Thresher leads him into an ambush. A brutal shootout ensues, killing all of Malzor's soldiers and dealing the Morthren leader what may be his final blow. Although Malzor escapes unharmed, back at the Morthren base, he now has to answer to the Eternal.
