

It's All The Same

Feels like I'm runnin and I don't know why

I can't make sense of this life

And I try try try but I'm barely gettin by

Feels like I'm runnin and I don't know why

Looks like those bridges have finally burned

Now I can show you what I learned

Those tables turn turn turn

Without so much concern

Looks like those bridges have all finally burned

Ch:

And your parents said the same

And your kids will say the same

Until everything has changed changed changed

It's all the same

Sounds like a movie we've all seen

You know exactly what I mean

We all say please please please

Just let me be

It's like a movie that we've all seen

And your parents said the same

And your kids will say the same

Until everything has changed changed changed

It's all the same

Until everything has changed changed changed

It's all the same

It's all the same

It's all the same

It's all the same
