

Bird Song

(Capo V)

We drink coffee

Talking softly in the morn

Talk about the days ahead

And not about the night before

The kids have packed their things

There's just a few clothes left behind

They finally spread their wings

And now it's time to watch 'em fly

CH:

And like the tree in the back yard

Bloomed like crazy in the Spring

It looked so lonely in the Fall

Guess it's just the nature of things

V2:

She drinks white wine

Once the sun has settled down

Leaves her shoes there by the back door

Sinks her toes into the ground

The sound of water in the distance

Helps to keep her mind at bay

And that smell attached to a memory

Takes her back to that day

CH:

And like the tree in the back yard

Bloomed like crazy in the Spring

It looked so lonely in the Fall

Guess it's just the nature of things
