We all have things we enjoy doing, but have you ever thought about stepping out of your house to enjoy some activities with your neighbors? Maybe you're not aware that we have different things going on during the week that you can be involved with. So let me share some information about our scheduled activities at Turner Homes. Did you know that we have various table games set up in the Creekside Café where residents are welcome to come and play anytime the Café is open? There's Air Hockey, Carpet Ball and Foose Ball. Make sure you bring a friend, because it takes two for those games to be played. If games are not your thing, but you enjoy reading, there's a library in the White building on the main campus. It's filled with books on various topics for your reading enjoyment. It's operated on the honor system, and we ask that any books you take, you return to the library when you're done with them. If you're interested in going in the library, you will need a code for the door to get in, so give the office a call and we can share that number with you. Also, in the White building there's a Knit and Sew group that meets on Tuesdays at 10 AM. You can bring your favorite textile art and enjoy time fellowshiping with other residents that also enjoy the same activity. If you would like to know more about what they do, please contact Virginia Musgrave at 503-743-1500. There's a puzzle group that gets together to put puzzles together on Thursday mornings at 10:30 am. There's always a puzzle in the works! We also let residents borrow puzzles to take home if you would like something to do at home. We offer puzzles on the honor system, like we do books in the library, if you borrow it, please return it when you're finished. Most recently there has been a wood carving group that meets in White on Thursday afternoons at 1 PM. For more information on woodcarving contact Jerry Andersen at 503-704-7445.

On Mondays Wii bowling is played in Sickafoose at 1 PM. You can play this TV viewed video game either standing or sitting. You just have to find the right arm swing to get that ball down the lane to knock the pins over. Our weekly Bible Study group also meets in Sickafoose on Wednesday mornings at 10 AM. For more information on the Bible study, you can contact Tom Sloan at 971-317-1465.

Last, but not least, is the bingo group that meets after lunch on Wednesdays in the Creekside Café. And if you're wondering if there are prizes, YES, there are!

If you're interested in getting together for some board games, or card games, Jerri Haynes would like to start a group. She would like some input from residents to find a time and a convenient location. Please give her a call at 971-940-4291.
