

The XL Travel Group have had access to some of the best tech platforms to ensure our travellers “travel well”.

⇒ NDC (New Distribution Capability): Airgateway

NDC is a revolutionary airline distribution standard that empowers us to access a broader range of flight options directly from airlines. With NDC, we can expect greater flexibility, more personalized offers, and the ability to customize our travel itineraries to suit our preferences.

⇒ Hotel Aggregators: HotelWorld and Global Accommodation

Say goodbye to hours of searching for the perfect accommodation! We have integrated hotel aggregators that provide us with a vast selection of hotels from various sources, all in one place. This means we can easily compare prices, amenities, and reviews to make informed decisions and secure the best deals.

⇒ Leisure Booking Platforms: XL Holidays

To add an extra touch of convenience, our travel group has access to a leisure booking platform. This platform caters specifically to holiday experiences and activities, ensuring we can easily book exciting tours, excursions, and attractions at our destinations, making the most of our time there.

⇒ Mobile Apps: XLGO

As we embrace the digital age, our group has invested in a top-notch travel mobile app. XLGO offers a plethora of features, such as real-time flight updates, mobile check-in options, seamless navigation assistance, duty of care, expense reporting and even destination guides. They will undoubtedly become our go-to travel companions.

⇒ State-of-the-Art Intranet: Howzit

XL Travel's visionary approach extends to our internal systems as well. We have been utilizing a state-of-the-art intranet to ensure seamless communication and collaboration within our travel group. This facilitates quicker responses to your queries, faster processing of your requests, and an overall streamlined travel planning process.

⇒ Point of Sale (Airfares): e -Global fares

When it comes to booking point-of-sale airfares, we have always been ahead of the curve with our access to an advanced point-of-sale system. It allows for the best airfare deals available in different markets.

At XL Travel, innovation and beyond excellence have been our guiding principles, and we take great pride in being pioneers in the travel industry. Our long-standing commitment to embracing the latest advancements has undoubtedly set us apart from our competitors.

If you have any questions or need further information about these platforms, our team is always here to assist you. Get ready to explore the world like never before with XL Travel's cutting-edge tools and services.
