This policy has been developed for settings described as “predominantly English medium setting with some use of Welsh” and “English Medium Settings”. For definitions of Welsh medium and bilingual settings see item 28 in this pack.

The Welsh Government has made a commitment to laith Pawb, the Government’s strategy for creating a bilingual Wales where English and Welsh are used equally.

It is the policy of Bronington Children’s Club to support children in our care to learn and use the Welsh language.

We do this by:

- Recognising that Welsh language development can be the starting point for children to begin to communicate in Welsh
- Accessing information and help from the Welsh Language Commissioner
- Including the Welsh language in developing understanding of Welsh culture, feelings of belonging and a sense of heritage, roots and community with children in our care
- Understanding that Welsh language development can provide additional social and cultural opportunities in later life
- Informing parents of our commitment to Welsh language development and how this is reflected in the setting

- Supporting staff to undertake Welsh language training opportunities
- Considering applicants' ability in the Welsh language when recruiting staff
- Maintaining a range of adult resources and contact details of relevant individuals and organisations to support staff in promoting Welsh language development
- Supporting the learning of Welsh, gradually and naturally, in a rich and lively environment, through first hand experiences that are fun
- Ensuring that learning is supportive and respected and that children's and adults' efforts are acknowledged and praised
- Encouraging and promoting Welsh as an integral part of everyday activities and practice
- Providing a range of resources and activities that include and support the development of the Welsh language and culture
- Identifying members of staff who use Welsh
- Encouraging a Welsh language 'buddy system' for staff
- Encouraging parents who speak Welsh to use it while visiting the provision
- Ensuring that when advertising events locally, English and Welsh will be equal in terms of size, format, quality, clarity and prominence
- Monitoring the contribution that the use of Welsh language makes in the provision and seeking ways to increase and improve it.
