LAW ENFORCEMENT D.R.A.W. SCHOOL FIREARMS TRAINING

Law enforcement officers across the country are facing increasingly violent, faster threats and must have a higher level of mastery when using their handgun and/or patrol rifle. Yet, due to manpower, scheduling, range availability, ammunition shortages, budget cuts and other issues, many departments struggle to regularly train their officers well past the minimum standards required by each state. To address these concerns and provide agencies with the ability to train their officers to a higher level of proficiency, speed and accuracy on a continual basis, a nationally standardized firearms training curriculum named Law Enforcement D.R.A.W. School was developed in 2014. The acronym “D.R.A.W.” stands for Developing Rapid Ability with Weapons.

These expertly designed law enforcement firearms training and instructor development curriculums meet and/or exceed state and federal law enforcement firearms training requirements for all 50 states. D.R.A.W. School firearms training curriculums are designed to complement each state’s training requirements and can be easily integrated into any agency’s training program for consistent training results. D.R.A.W. School is a nationally recognized firearms training and instructor development curriculum, it is POST-certified in various states and has been granted full state equivalency in South Carolina. D.R.A.W. School has been taught to instructors in over 40 states and is widely recognized as the most up-to-date, modern law enforcement firearms training program available today.

The introduction of the LMS-based D.R.A.W. School Online Training System, a self-paced online firearms training course, was the first of its kind when it comes to how departments conduct regular firearms training. It helps officers to consistently train with over twenty different 10–15-minute training segments that cover all aspects of the five core competencies of the D.R.A.W. School training curriculum. Combined with mandated departmental in-person firearms training, agencies have found that having their officers enrolled in regular online firearms training with realistic dry-fire drills greatly increases confidence, speed, accuracy, and this results in higher qualification scores.

D.R.A.W. School Firearms Training and the Advanced Instructor Training courses have been praised by departments, officers, and firearms instructors from coast-to-coast. The methods taught have been directly credited to saving the lives of officers involved in OIS incidents. D.R.A.W. School and its founders have been featured in multiple police periodicals, such as Police Magazine and Law Enforcement Technology, and have been invited to speak to many police professional associations nationwide.

D.R.A.W. SCHOOL ADVANCED PATROL RIFLE INSTRUCTOR

The D.R.A.W. School Advanced Patrol Rifle Instructor (APRI) training course is a 3-day, 36-hour advanced instructor development and certification course. It focuses on developing the expert manipulation of the AR-15 patrol rifle platform. It refines candidates into expert shooters and instructors with a comprehensive ability to train their officers. APRI covers both basic and advanced skills to help candidates master the complexity of their patrol rifle, even in the most demanding or hostile environments. With more departments now utilizing patrol rifles, instructors must be able to train their officers in a highly efficient manner without compromising quality.

This is a very dynamic course with almost all instructional time devoted to practical and live-fire exercises. This course takes patrol rifle training and instructor development well past recognized minimum state and federal standards. There is simply no other course like it in North America. Using the D.R.A.W. School training methodology, APRI takes candidates through twenty-two (22) separate areas of instruction, with each section building on the previous. The APRI curriculum covers the following areas:

- D.R.A.W. 1- Mastering the Basics: The course begins with an in-depth review of the components of the AR-15 platform and learning how to properly fit a patrol rifle to an officer. Extensive time is spent on mastering OTOS drills, emergency reloading and tactical reloading, all from both stationary positions and while moving.
- D.R.A.W. 2- Mastering Movement and Transitions: Candidates will master the ability to shoot and move both linearly and laterally, as well as shooting their patrol rifle from the primary and secondary shoulder positions around barricades. Candidates will also master primary to secondary weapon transitions.
- D.R.A.W. 3- Mastering Malfunctions: Candidates will learn to quickly identify and clear all five types of patrol rifle malfunctions. A deep study of the mechanics of each malfunction type helps candidates to master clearances with tremendous speed.
- D.R.A.W. 4- Mastering the Environment: This section of training helps candidates to master the ability to utilize the environment to their advantage during an incident. Shooting from various points of elevation builds the necessary skills needed to operate a patrol rifle in any situation.
- D.R.A.W. 5- Mastering Incapacitated Shooting: Just because an officer is shot doesn't mean they are out of the fight. Mastering the operation of a patrol rifle while using one hand only is a skill that must be mastered by officers utilizing this platform.

PREREQUISITE: All instructor candidates attending must complete the 6-hour online handgun training prerequisite training course. The APRI Qualification Course of Fire incorporates the use of a handgun as a secondary weapon on multiple stages. For candidates that are not D.R.A.W. School Advanced Handgun Instructor certified, this online course brings them up to speed on handgun skills that will help them pass the APRI Qualification.

D.R.A.W. SCHOOL INSTRUCTOR HIGHLIGHT

“My bottom line is that I walked in as a skeptic, but I walked out a believer. If you have an opportunity to train in the D.R.A.W School method, do what you have to do to make that happen! Of all the schools and training I have undertaken in the last 25 years, D.R.A.W. School has been the best and most productive of the lot.”

- SO R. Bemis, U.S. Federal Firearms Instructor (AL)

FOCUSING ON INSTRUCTOR DEVELOPMENT

The D.R.A.W. School instructor development curriculums are hybrid courses that are designed to maximize training time, while ensuring that each skillset is learned, retained, and applied by instructor candidates. In doing so, the goal is to help instructor candidates to effectively and consistently duplicate the training process so that all officers become highly proficient with their weapons. Each segment of the curriculum starts with an academic study of the subject where instructor candidates learn the true science behind the techniques.

Each step in the training process answers the “why” behind the method or process. Next, instructor candidates are immersed in a series of specifically designed practical exercises that help them correctly perform each physical and mental function in the proper brain/body sequence. This portion of instruction is performed utilizing a special designed “stairstep” training methodology. As each step is mastered, the speed is increased, and fast, dynamic movement is added.

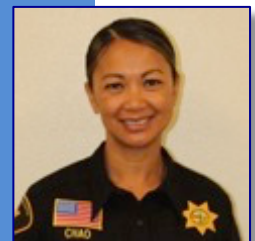

Once the practical exercises are mastered, instructor candidates then perform the same skills in a live-fire environment on the range. At the end of the course, instructor candidates will shoot a 50-round qualification course for each of the instructor development courses. These qualifications include many of the skills they learned and practiced during the course. Please see the Daily Course Schedules on page 10 for a list activities by day and time.
