The Science of Total Solar Eclipses

The Sun, Moon, and Earth are aligned. Only viewers located in the path of the Moon's full shadow, its umbra, can see a total solar eclipse. The Moon's umbra travels eastward at about 1,700 km/h (1,056 mph).

A total solar eclipse can last for several hours. Totality can range from a few seconds to 7.5 minutes. The longest total solar eclipse of the 21st century took place on July 22, 2009 when the totality lasted 6 minutes and 39 seconds. On average, there's approximately one total solar eclipse every 18 months, when:

- It is New Moon.
- At the same time, the Moon is at (or very near) a lunar node, so the Earth, the Moon, and the Sun are aligned in a straight (or nearly straight) line.
- The Moon is near perigee.

A total lunar eclipse takes place when the Earth comes between the Sun and the Moon and covers the Moon with its shadow. When this happens, the Moon can turn red, earning it the nickname of Blood Moon. Paired Together

Total eclipses of the Moon happen at Full Moon when the Sun, Earth, and Moon are aligned to form a line. The astronomical term for this type of alignment is syzygy, which comes from the Greek word for being paired together.

Earth Blocks the Sunlight

The Moon does not have its own light but shines because its surface reflects the Sun's rays. During a total lunar eclipse, the Earth comes between the Sun and the Moon and blocks any direct sunlight from reaching the Moon. The Sun casts the Earth's shadow on the Moon's surface.

Types of Eclipses

Earth's Three Shadows

Earth's shadow can be divided into three parts:

- Umbra - the darker, central part.
- Penumbra - the outer part.
- Antumbra - the partly shaded area beyond the umbra.

Why are there three shadows?

During a total lunar eclipse, Earth's umbra completely covers the Moon.

Sun, Earth, and Moon Aligned For a lunar eclipse to occur, the Sun, Earth, and Moon must be roughly aligned in a line. Otherwise, the Earth cannot cast a shadow on the Moon's surface and an eclipse cannot take place. When the Sun, Earth, and Moon come together in a straight line, a total lunar eclipse takes place. When the three bodies are aligned in a way that the Moon is partly covered by the Earth's umbra, a partial lunar eclipse is the result. On the other hand, if only the outer part of Earth's shadow covers the Moon, a penumbral lunar eclipse takes place. Earth's umbra extends into space far beyond the orbit of the moon. This means that Earth's antumbra plays no role in lunar eclipses.

Charity Services

SERVICE TO MAN IS SERVICE TO GOD... (MAANAV SEVA IS MAADHAV SEVA)

The Fourteenth chapter of the Sai Satcharitra explains the importance of charity. Baba advised his devotees and followers to lead moral lives, help the needy, and love every living being without any discrimination.

Shri Shirdi Sai Baba principles have been collated in a book called "Shri Sai Satcharitra." Based on these principles, the Temple focuses its charity mission on feeding the hungry and helping the needy. Baba preached: "Spend money on charity and be generous and munificent."

The Sri Sakti Peetham is involved in a number of voluntary service activities.

Charity Seva for Local Homeless Shelters – Sundays:

This is a devotee-sponsored Sandwich Seva, where the Shirdi Sai Parivaar prepares 108 nutritious lunch sandwiches and delivers them to local homeless shelters.

The sandwiches are prepared by adult and youth volunteers (ages 5 and above).

This selfless service is done on behalf of the entire Sakti Parivaar family. The Temple provides volunteer certificates and letters for youth volunteers who participate in this program.

If you need additional information, please visit the Temple. If you are interested in sponsoring the Sandwich Seva in the future, please contact one of our volunteers, visit our website & donate online WWW.SRISAKTIPEETHAM.ORG

The average cost for the weekend sandwich seva is approximately $250. The Sakti Parivaar will procure the necessary items for preparation using the funds from the devotees or sponsors for the sandwich seva.

Volunteers (Seva)

Types of volunteer work

Community services: Activities like food drives, sorting Hundi donations, and cleaning Event / Puja space or temple.

Direct support: Mentoring students, assist to the elderly with activity.

Disaster relief: Joining a Disaster Action Team to provide immediate help to families after any local disaster.

Skill-based roles: Using professional skills in areas like design, marketing, public relations, or legal services for nonprofits.

Event support: Assisting with the planning and running of the temple and community events.

Temple support: Covering temple openings and closings, making prasadas and garlands for deities, providing decorations, and making arrangements for Abhishekams, Homas, and festival-related work.

Based on your options, you can also participate in the temple food service known as prasadas distribution, making prasadas and bringing food or by volunteering to help prepare food to serve at the temple.

The act of offering food is an important part of Hindu worship, and partaking in the blessed food is seen as receiving the deity's grace.

You can sign up to volunteer at a temple either online through our website or by filling out a physical form at the temple itself.
