

New Black Dress

A photo story by Andrea Slip

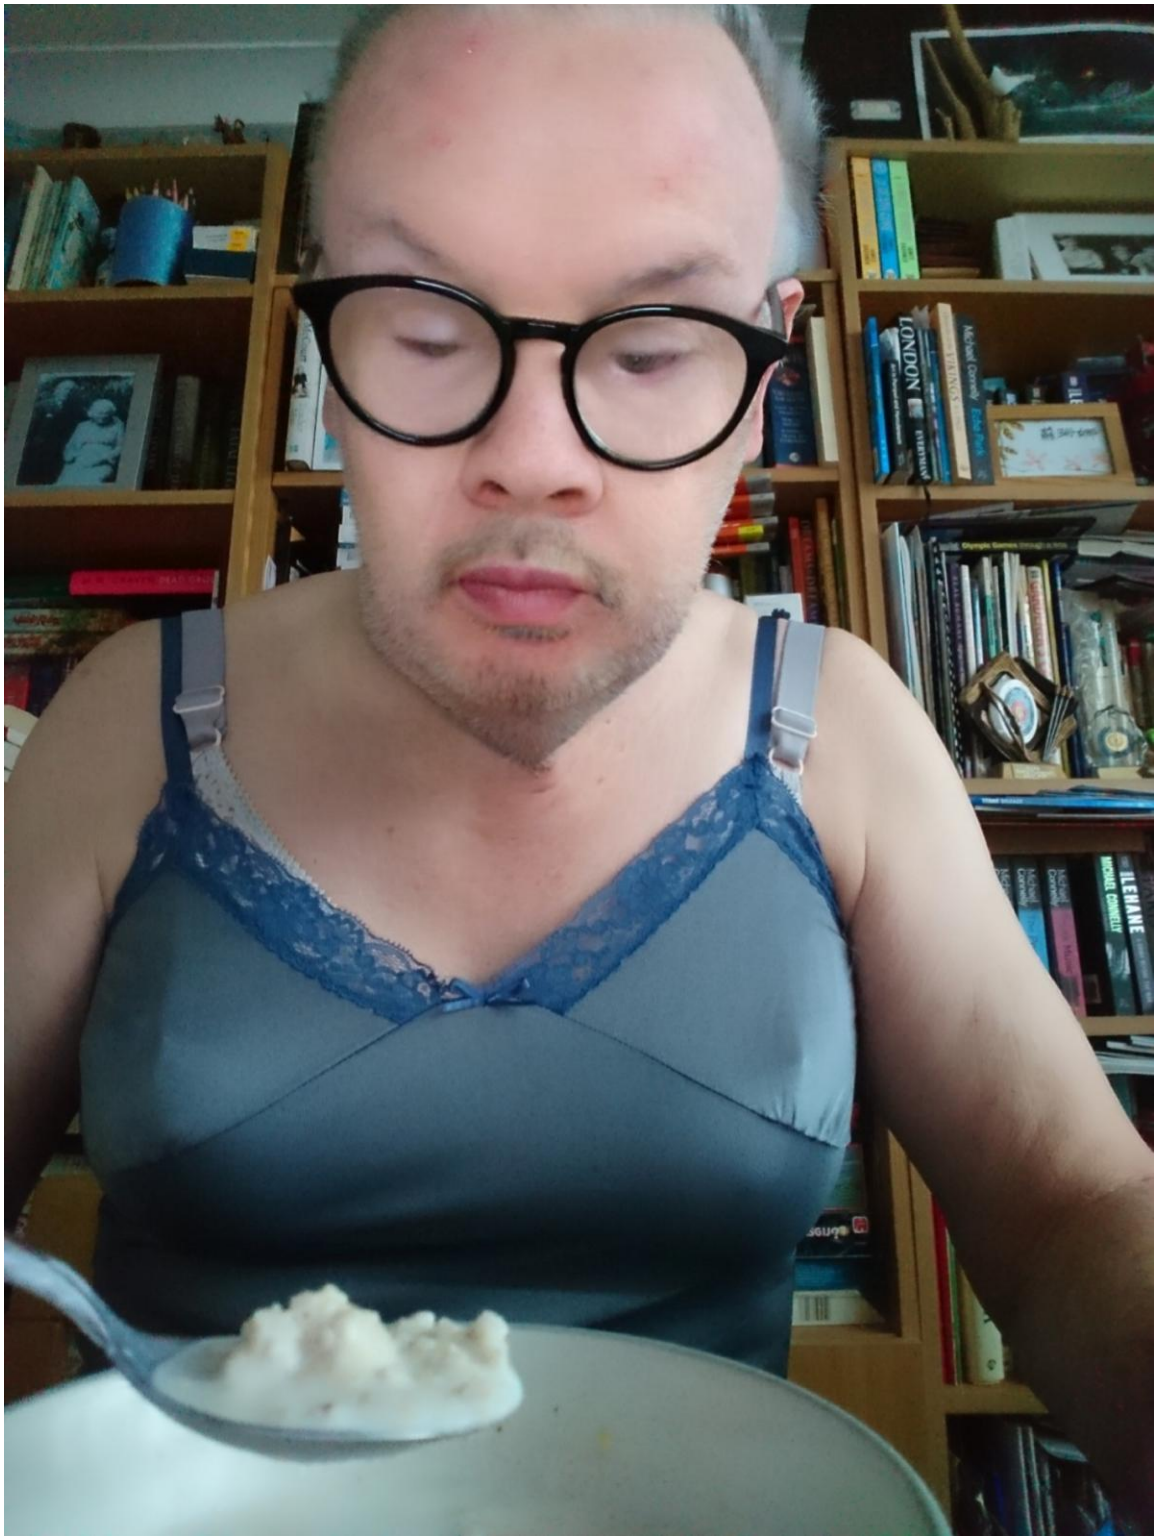

A simple tale of Andrea's new dress, does it need a slip or not?

Today I am working from home, so a chance for a leisurely breakfast and even some dressing up. As you can see, I am wearing a blue full slip and black stockings.

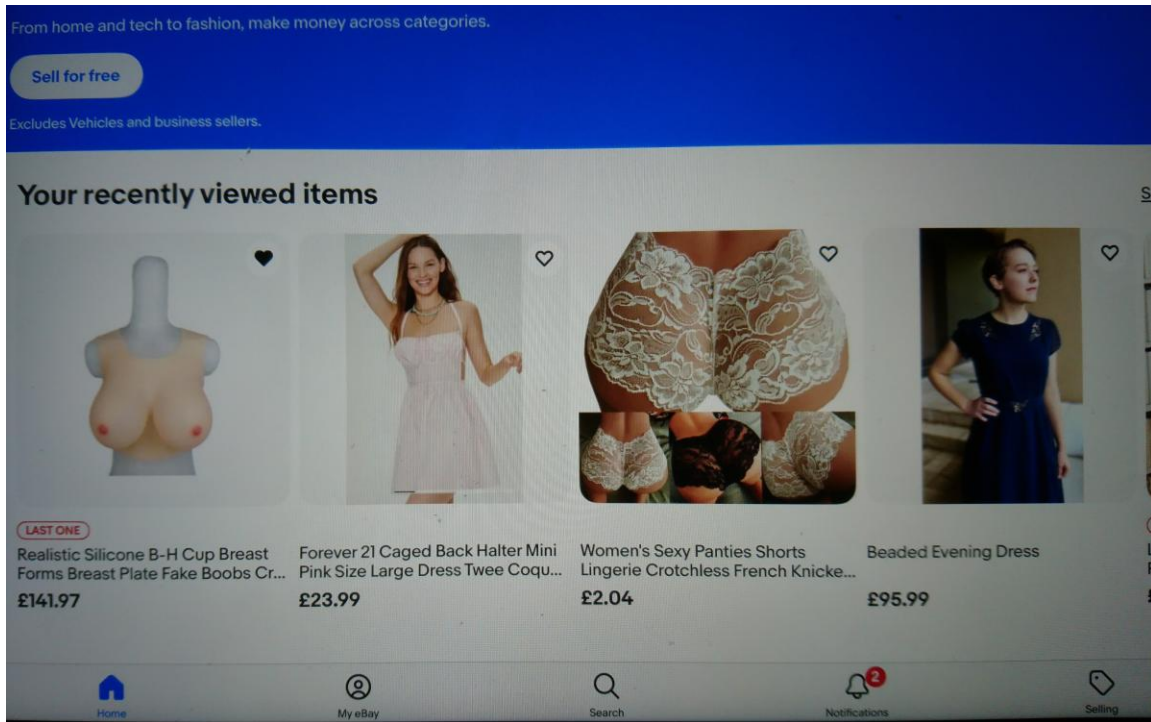

While I am eating my breakfast, I can take a look at my iPad. Let's see what my Flickr friends are up to.

Someone's favourites, just what I like.

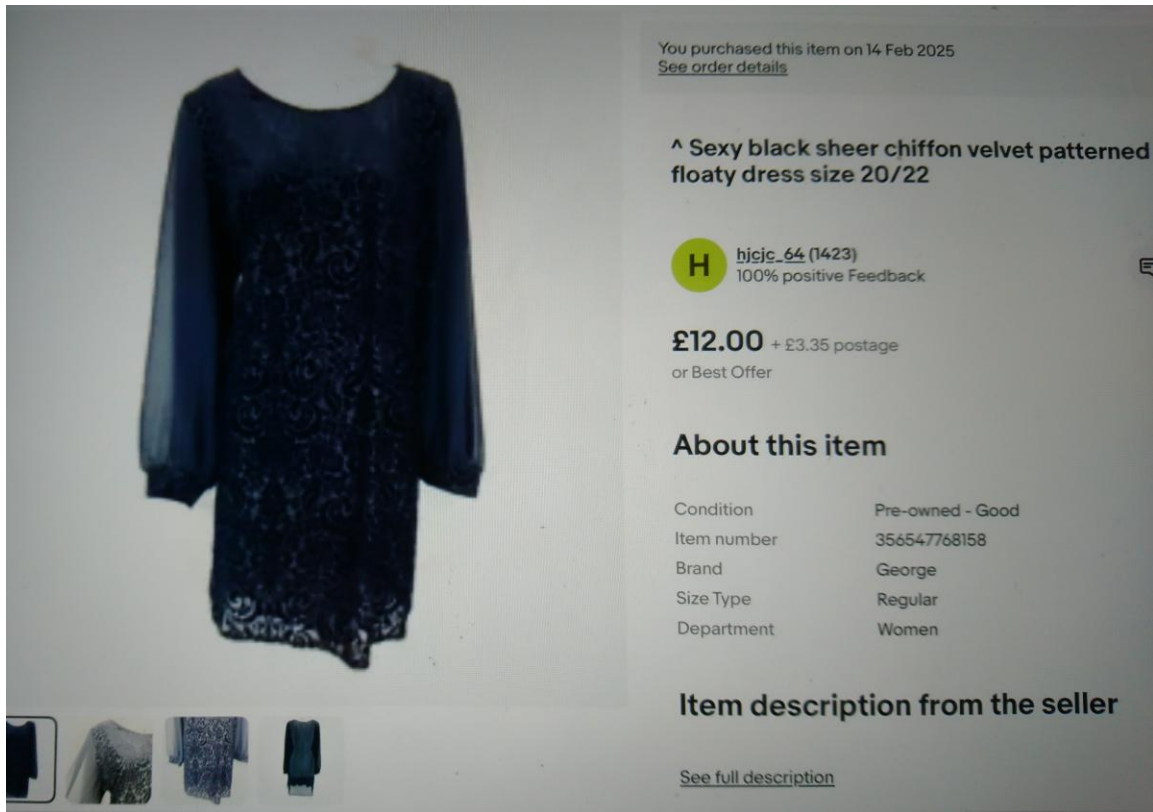

Lots of likes and some saucy comments on my photos. What about eBay?

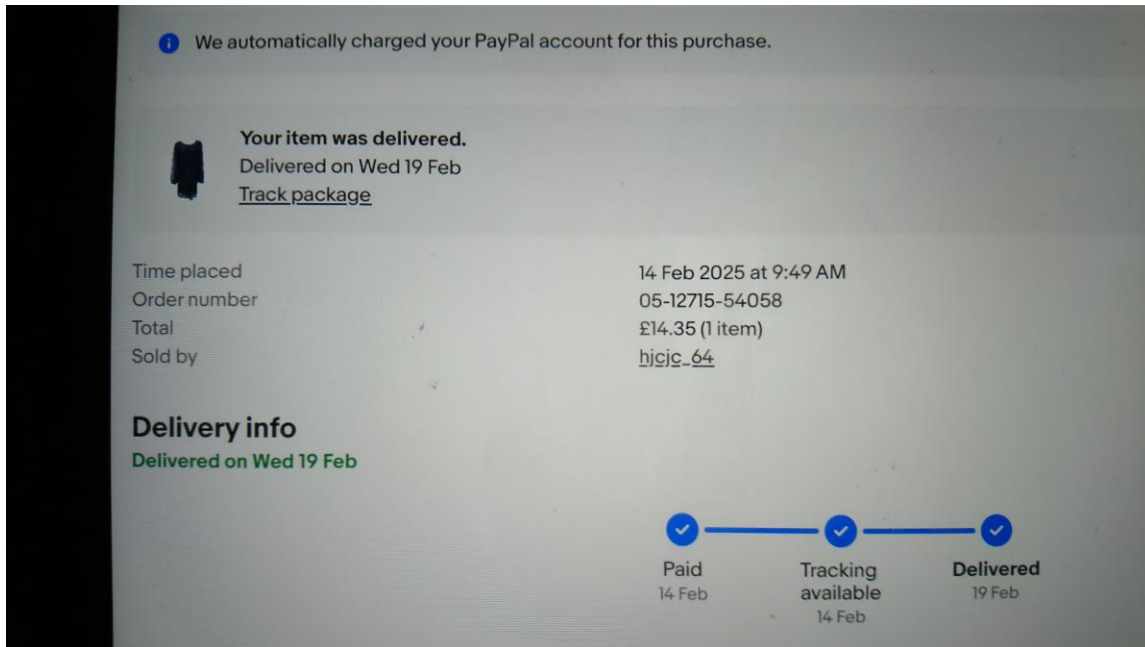

There are the new boobs I bought recently, a cute pink dress and some very lacy white knickers I looked at. Then I remembered that I have bought a new dress a few days ago. I wonder if that will arrive soon. Today would be great as I will have time to dress up.

I was starting to get a little bit excited looking at eBay and Flickr. I had to lift my blue slip and massage the growing lump in my pink French knickers. Enough of that. I turned back to my eBay page on my iPad.

There it is, a black chiffon dress with a velvet pattern. I hope it fits well and is not too long. Some of my recent purchases, like a red kilt, were far too long. It is sometimes hard to tell from photos on eBay. Can I find the tracking information?

Yes, there is the tracking information. It says it has been delivered.
Really???

Just then my letterbox clanged, the postman had just been. Perhaps it was my eBay parcel. I walked to the front porch. Yes, there was a grey plastic bag that had been pushed through the letter box. It was a good job the postman did not want a signature. It would have been embarrassing having to reveal my blue slip and stockings to the postie, or perhaps not, it might have been quite exciting.

I opened the parcel carefully. Oh joy, it was my new dress.

It is a lovely dress. The front has a swirling flock pattern. But what should I wear with it? I need some nice matching lingerie, stockings and heels. I put the dress down for a moment and went back upstairs to the bedroom to find some suitable items to wear under the dress.

I found a lovely matching set of panties, bra and suspenders. These would look perfect; I picked up a few other items and headed downstairs to lay them all out on the sofa for some photos.

First, there are my new big boobs, size D. I love big tits. They do look great when on, giving me a big cleavage. I had to buy this pair as my old boobs had torn, as they all do after a couple of years. They are expensive but worth it for how they look with a pretty bra, or sometimes even without a bra!

I love wearing matching lingerie. I had picked out this set in pink blossom with a pink ribbon running through the lace. Often one of this set is in the wash, but they were all clean and will look great together.

A new dress deserved some new stockings. I found I still had an unopened packet of black Gio's seamed stockings, perfect. Then the high heels. These little white boots are not actually new, but I have only worn them once or twice, so they are almost new. They will look great with my black stockings and black dress, a sharp contrast of black and white.

Finally, I picked up the full slip. It is white with a very lacy hem and bust. I was not sure if this was too long for the dress, or, if in fact, I would need a slip at all.

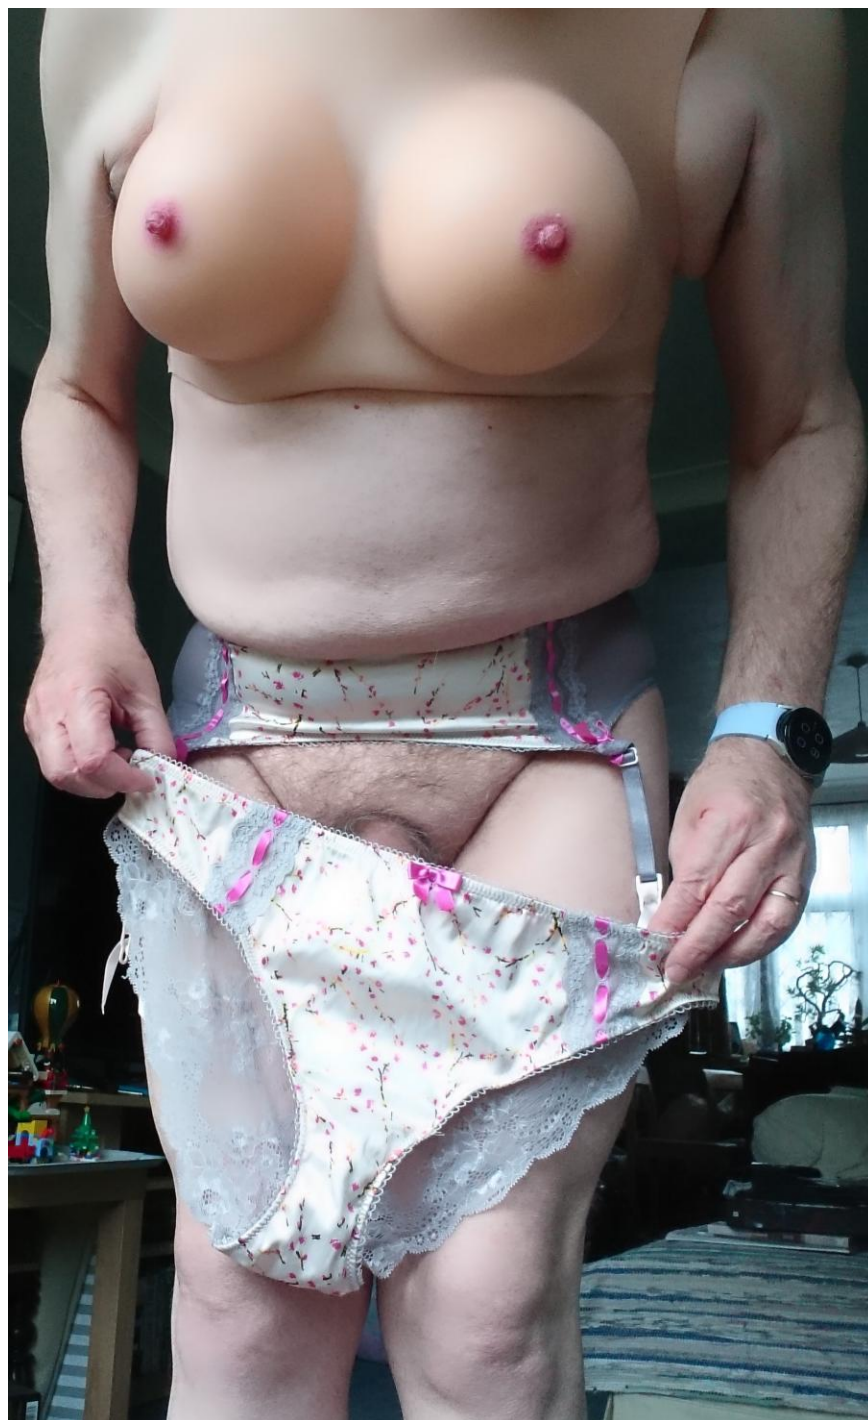

I picked up the dress again. The front has a lovely velvet pattern that is quite opaque, my panties and bra won't show through that. I decided to try the dress on without the slip.

Time to take off my blue slip and change into the matching undies. The pink French knickers, blue slip, white bra and black holdup stockings do not match. I just threw on what I found first this morning.

Although the stockings are hold ups, they have a nice back seam.

So, on with the boobs, these can be tricky to put on, but I pull them into place. I sometimes use talcum powder on the latex, but this has a habit of going everywhere. Next the suspender belt. It is several years old, but it still fits. I think this set came from Tesco, the supermarket. Then it is on with my pretty panties. These feel nice to pull up my shaved legs and tuck my little clitty in place.

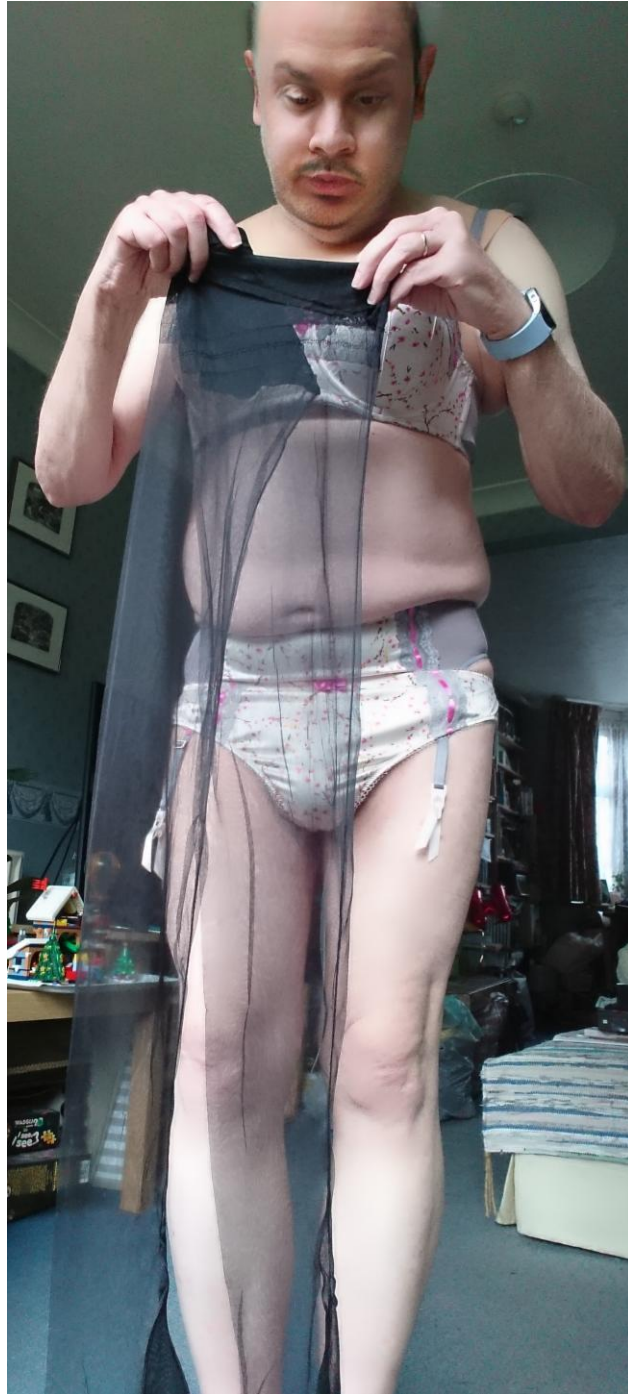

I tuck the suspender straps through the panties. Now the bra, I attach the clips at the front and then twist the bra round and pull it up over my boobs.

There we are, all in place. Doesn't this lingerie set look pretty with its blossom print and the pink ribbon? They are so silky. I feel so girly in them, and I am getting hard again. I love seeing my cleavage enhanced by a pretty bra.

Next are the stockings. I love opening a new packet of stockings for a special occasion, perhaps you do too. These are Gio stockings, expensive but they are the silkiest and sexiest stockings. It is worth waiting until Gio have an online sale. I have just ordered some plain black imperfects in the sale for £6 each instead of £20 or more.

The black stockings are so sheer and so long. They look like glass.

I love putting on stockings in the morning. This is what I see as I pull the nylon stockings up over my smooth, shaved legs and attach the suspenders. They feel so silky. These are seamed stockings, so I will try to keep the seams straight as I pull them up my legs.

Attaching the suspenders can be a bit tricky sometimes. I wish I had someone to help, would you like to give me a hand? The top of the stocking is so distinctly Gio. There is a slightly darker band with two rows of what look like pin holes, then the wider thicker band of nylon on the welt to attach the suspenders.

I stand up and have a look down at the backs of my legs. I am still not sure if the seams are straight, if only I had someone to help me.

I have to use my phone. I prop it up on a chair legs and take a photo. Not too bad, the right stocking is slightly out of line at the top. I hope you are not staring at the back of my lacy panties; you are supposed to be helping me check my seams, you naughty gurls. Stop trying to cop a feel of my silky stockings.

A slight adjustment and I am ready to put on my hair and makeup.

Now for the magic transformation from Andy to Andrea. Hair, face, makeup done in a flash with AI (FaceApp). Andrea looks much sexier than Andy, who is just boy in girls clothes.

I am thinking about putting on the slip, I am sure the seller said something about this. Most dresses today don't need a slip and most women don't wear them, which is a shame. I decide to try it without one as the flocked velvet looks quite thick. It is time for my high heeled boots.

I have had these white ankleboots for a while but I have only worn them a couple of times, it was time they had another outing. It feels so nice sliding nylon clad feet into soft leather shoes.

The heels are so spikey and so, so high, they must be at least 4 inches high. I love stilletoes, they look and feel so sexy. At least I don't have to walk far in them.

Now for the dress. I pick it up, put it over my head and pull it down over my bra, then my panties.

The dress finishes several inches above the knee so there is plenty of sheer black nylon on show. The high heeled boots look perfect against the sheer black hosiery and the black dress.

You can't tell if I am wearing stockings or sheer tights. I feel wonderful and so glamourise. And so darn sexy, I am getting hard, perhaps you are as well? I hope so. What about from behind?

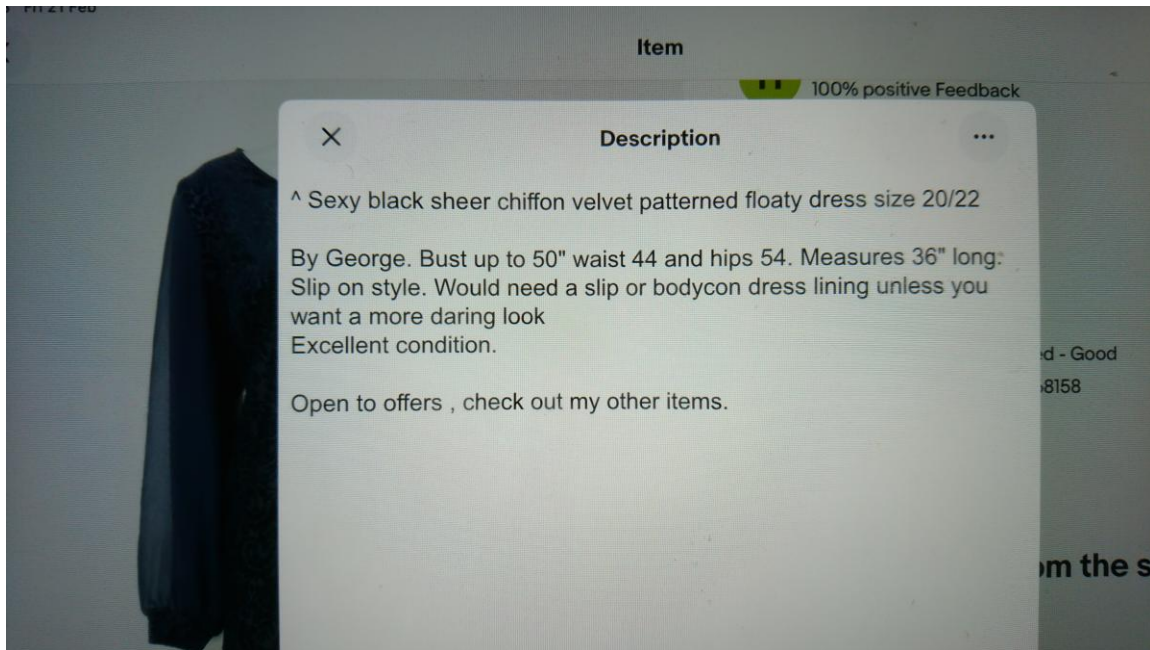

I can't really see, my mirror is not long enough. I use my mobile again. OMG you can definitely see my bra, and lacy panties. The dress is so sheer from behind you can even tell I am wearing seamed stockings and suspenders, not sheer tights. OMG.

If I lean forward the dress lifts above my stocking tops. OMG, so sexy but not Ok for working in the office, even if in the home office.

Then I remembered that the seller of the dress said something about this in the description on eBay.

"Would need a slip or bodycon dress lining unless you want a more daring look."

Well yes, it would be a more daring look with all my lingerie on show. I will have to put on my slip.

I take the dress off again.

I adore wearing silky slips. I don't know what I was thinking when I said this dress doesn't need a slip. Perhaps, subconsciously, I did want to see what the seller called "a more daring look", with all the world seeing a pretty dress from the front but my matching blossom print bra, lacy panties, stockings and suspender belt all on show when I turned my back to someone.

Oh la, la. It might make some gurls spurt. But I am not that kind of gurl, so I put on my silky and lacy white slip. I was getting hard again. There was an un-lady like tent in the front of my slip.

I pulled my dress down over my slip.

As I tug my dress down the hem of the slip matches the length of the dress perfectly. No peeping slip from the front, which is a shame, as I like letting the lacy hem of my slip show.

Now from behind,
my panties, bra
and stocking tops disappear. But you can clearly see I am wearing a full-length white slip with a wide lacy
hem and the straps
at the top.

Although the "daring" look has disappeared I find the clear view of a slip very exciting,
it would make this
gurl squirt,
perhaps you too?

However, when I crouch, lucky viewers might get a glimpse up my skirt to see my panties, slip and stockings.

Or when I adjust those tricky suspenders.

Or if I bend over slightly, my dress will rise up and everyone would see my bum in lacy panties, the lacy hem of my white slip and even discover that these stockings are classic seamed Gio stockings with the keyhole at the top of the seam. Oh, la, la indeed.

To tell the truth taking these photo did make me squirt. I had to lie down on the sofa, lift dress, squeeze my stiff clitty through my slip and panties for a while.

And then I had to have skin on skin inside my panties and squeeze my stiff clitty until I soaked those satin panties with lots of cum. You have permission to do the same in your panties.

The End
