

Brown Dress

Andrea gets dressed in pink and white lingerie under her brown Boden dress and tan boots

This is what I am wearing today, all nicely laid out on the bed. Do you like dress up as well in pretty lingerie and a dress like this? Let us get started.

I put on my pink suspender belt first and then ease my sheer brown stockings up my legs to attach the pink suspenders. I love how plain top stockings pull up when you attach the suspender clips.

Next, I put on my fake boobs and clip my lacy pink bra over my boobs. I love matching my pink bra to my other lingerie.

I have gone with my tan boots today. They are quite floppy and easy to put on. I pull them up over my brown stockings.

Hmm, just better check progress in the mirror. Looks good, I love how a lacy suspender belt and taught stocking tops frame my little clitty.

Now I am sure there was something else next. What was it? Are you staring at my clitty, you naughty gurls? What are you like?

Oh yes, it was my pink French knickers. There they are, still on the bed. How could I forget my knickers, although some of you might be quite happy if I did.

I put on my pink French knickers. They are tight and do bulge a little, perhaps even a hint of a camel toe?

Next, I put on my wig. I do not particularly like wearing the wig, but it does look more feminine in the photos.

I could put some make up on, but I am not really into that and showing my face.

What next? Oh yes, my little pink half-slip. Here it is on the bed. Don't just love looking at a lady in panties, bra and stockings from behind? I know I do.

I love the feeling of pulling a silky half-slip up over my nylon stockings. It sends shivers through me and starts to get me hard. Is looking at my pictures of me in my pretty lingerie getting you hard yet? I hope so.

This half-slip has a really wide lacy hem and the pink nylon is perfect with my lacy pink bra.

I sometimes like to wear two slips, specially under a dress. I love to feel the two silky nylon slips sliding over each other. It is also possible to arrange the half-slip in a position that shows a lacy hem under the hem of the dress, there is little adjustment of length with a full slip.

I slid the full slip over the top of my pink half-slip. Maybe a bit weird wearing two slips but I love it.

Isn't the lacy bust just so pretty and feminine? This is a full white slip by American slip maker Vanity Fair. They made the most feminine and silkiest panties and slips. I have several of their slips like this and some panties with the distinct triangle of lace.

Let me get my dress out of the wardrobe whilst you take a look at the back of my slip. Not only does the bust have pretty lace but the hem of the slip has swirly lace as well. I love the way the slip hangs, it almost touches my boots.

The brown dress is by Boden, a British manufacturer. Not everyone likes the flowery pattern, but I think it looks nice and feminine.

I pull the dress down over my head. Oh dear, my face is obscured by the dress in this picture, still you get a nice view of my VF white slip.

Let me pull my slips down properly, they do get rucked up when I put a dress or a skirt on.

I just need to adjust my boots; they are a bit floppy. I hope you are not looking up my dress to catch a glimpse of my pink panties.

There is a waist belt on this dress, it can be a bit tricky getting it tied up in a bow from behind. I wonder if my slip shows from behind. I will have to have a look in the mirror.

I get the impression that rather like looking up my dress so why don't you just lie on the floor and I will stand over you? Tell me what you can see and what you like. Can you see my pink French knickers, my little pink half-slip, the welts of my tan nylon stockings, the clips of my suspender belt attached to my stocking tops, my white VF full slip, my tan leather boots and the inside of my brown dress all fanned out? I think you do like all of that, you like it a lot. Do you have a stiffie, are you massaging it looking at these pictures and reading the captions?

Now you can see two peeping slips. This is the view I see as I look down at my slips, both very lacy.

Oh, my goodness, did I drop something. Another chance to look up my skirt at my slips and stocking tops.

I hope you enjoyed watching me dress up in my pretty feminine clothes, I certainly did.

The End
