

Dressing for Work

A photo story by Andrea Slip

Andrea shares what she likes to wear to the office and what she would like to wear

When Andrea gets up in the morning, she likes to dress in silky lingerie under her boy clothes, ready for work.

This day Andrea wore a black teddy and a black bra with stockings and suspenders

Often it is just panties, stockings and suspenders.

Sometimes, if it is not too hot, she likes to wear a full slip and stockings to the office.

No one would know that under that smart suit and shirt is a frilly slip, stockings and suspenders.

Perhaps not every day, but most days Andrea covers up a pretty slip and stockings with her office wear.

Andrea often thinks that, although she works in an office full of women, she is probably wearing the prettiest and silkiest lingerie of all her colleagues.

Sometimes she wears a lacy bra.

Sometimes it might be a lacy camisole.

Some days it is the full kit: bra, panties, slip, stockings and suspenders.

Andrea puts her boy shirt on over the top of her lingerie and then, pulls her trousers up over her stockings. The lingerie disappears, or does it?

If Andrea is wearing a thin white shirt you might just see a lacy white slip and bra through the shirt when she takes off her jacket.

Andrea enjoys the risk of a colleague spotting her lacy lingerie.

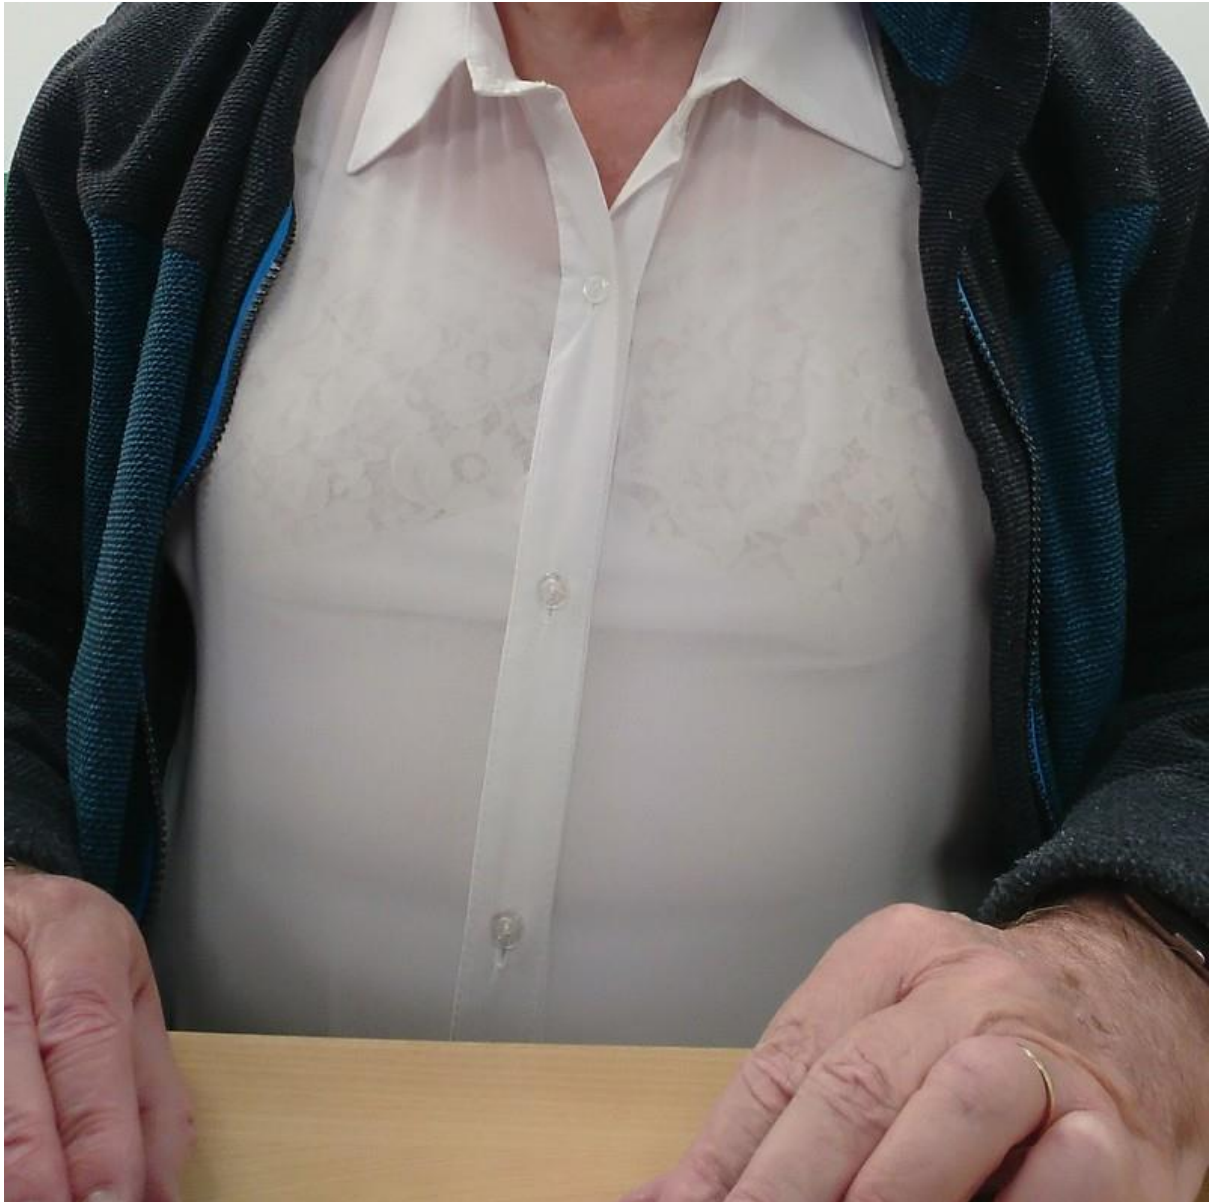

It can often be even more obvious from behind when the double straps of a full slip and a bra might show through her thin shirt when she takes off her jacket.

Andrea does not wear socks, so you might get a glimpse of RHT seams of sheer black stockings, that thin back seam is unmistakable when Andrea walks upstairs, and her trouser leg rises up more than she realizes.

Andrea sometimes takes off her shoes under desk. She must remember to put her shoes back on when she goes to the photo copier, or does she?

Sitting at her desk with her jacket undone it might not be quite so obvious. But if you did notice Andrea's pretty lingerie peeping through her shirt what would say? Would you say anything?

“Are you wearing a slip and bra, mate? I can see it through your shirt,” you say to your colleague.

“Keep it down, mate, here let me show you,” says Andrea as she opens her shirt to show a very lacy black slip.

Or Andrea might say, “ I was hoping someone might notice and say something, here let me show you,” said Andrea lifting her shirt completely to reveal a white slip and a black bra underneath.

Or perhaps if there are only two of you in the office Andrea might drop her trousers to show you the pretty blue half-slip, that she is wearing that day.

“Wow, that is pretty but are you wearing stockings or tights? I noticed your sheer hosiery on your ankles, but I wondered if it might be stockings,” you say.

Andrea slowly lifts her blue slip to reveal very frilly blue panties, stocking tops and suspenders. Now you have a hard on, if you didn’t already.

“Perhaps we should take this to the toilet. I want to see more,” you say discreetly.

Andrea often ends up in the toilet for a quick wank. She drops her trousers and pulls up her shirt, except that this time you can help her out by relieving the stiff clitty you can see through a pair of sheer black French knickers. But then you need relief as well.

Which means you have to take off your trousers and reveal that you too are wearing pink satin French knickers and black stockings.

However, Andrea usually does this solo. Trousers down, stiff clitty poking out of her silky nylon panties or French knickers.

Then stiff clitty out of panties, and wank

Cum, clean up, clothes done up and back to the office before anyone notices how long she has been gone.

Let's hope Andrea doesn't take off her slip and leave it hanging on the back of the door, as happened one time. What would do if you walked into the loo and found a slip on the coat hook?

When Andrea gets home, she takes off her boy clothes and does it all over again.

another wank in pretty lingerie.

However, she often puts on a pretty dress, over her pretty lingerie, when home to show what she would really like to wear to the office.

Sometimes it is a cute office skirt and blouse.

Are these really suitable clothes for the office? With this sheer lacy skirt, you can clearly see Andrea's pretty blue slip. You probably want to see more. In fact, you really want to lie on the floor and look right up her skirt, don't you?

Like this. Now you can tell that she is wearing pale blue French knickers, which barely conceals a stiff clitty, and stocking tops. You are probably stiff as well and might want Andrea to sit on your face. Oh, you naughty boys and gurls.

Andrea has many nice office outfits.

Like this one, but it is not always obvious what pretty lingerie lies beneath.

The back of the blouse is often a giveaway, particularly if it is sheer, so that you can see the straps of a slip and a bra.

Just imagine Andrea crouching at the photo copier to refill the paper draws, you get a flash of a lacy white slip.

This is Andrea's favourite office skirt, grey checked, she wears this with a black full slip, which you can see through the sheer black blouse and the lacy hem is peeping out from under the skirt.

Why bother with the blouse? Why not just leave the slip-on, let it show like a camisole?

Here is another cute outfit with patterned stockings. This short black skirt has white bow patterns. The peeping black slip matches the flowery pattern on the stockings.

This another short office skirt, a grey tartan skirt worn with long black leather boots.

The one common feature is usually a peeping slip.

Even if a peeping slip is not obvious Andrea sometimes needs to adjust her suspenders and so gives you a flash of slip, panties, suspenders and stocking tops.

Perhaps you don't want to wait for an "accidental" flash of slip and stockings. So, you drop your pen on the office floor.

The pen rolls on the floor, so you get down to retrieve it.

As you do so you get a good look up Andrea's skirt at her silky grey knickers. lacy grey half-slip and sheer grey stockings. Time for another stiffie.

Sometimes Andrea has been able to work from home and dress up in her favourite office outfits. This cute outfit was worn on a snow day a couple of years ago. I hope you notice the peeping cream slip and the gorgeous high heeled sandals.

More recently, having to isolate for 6 days after getting pinged by the NHS Covid app, opened up some new opportunities, a new outfit every day. In this photo, Andrea is about to put on a red half-slip.

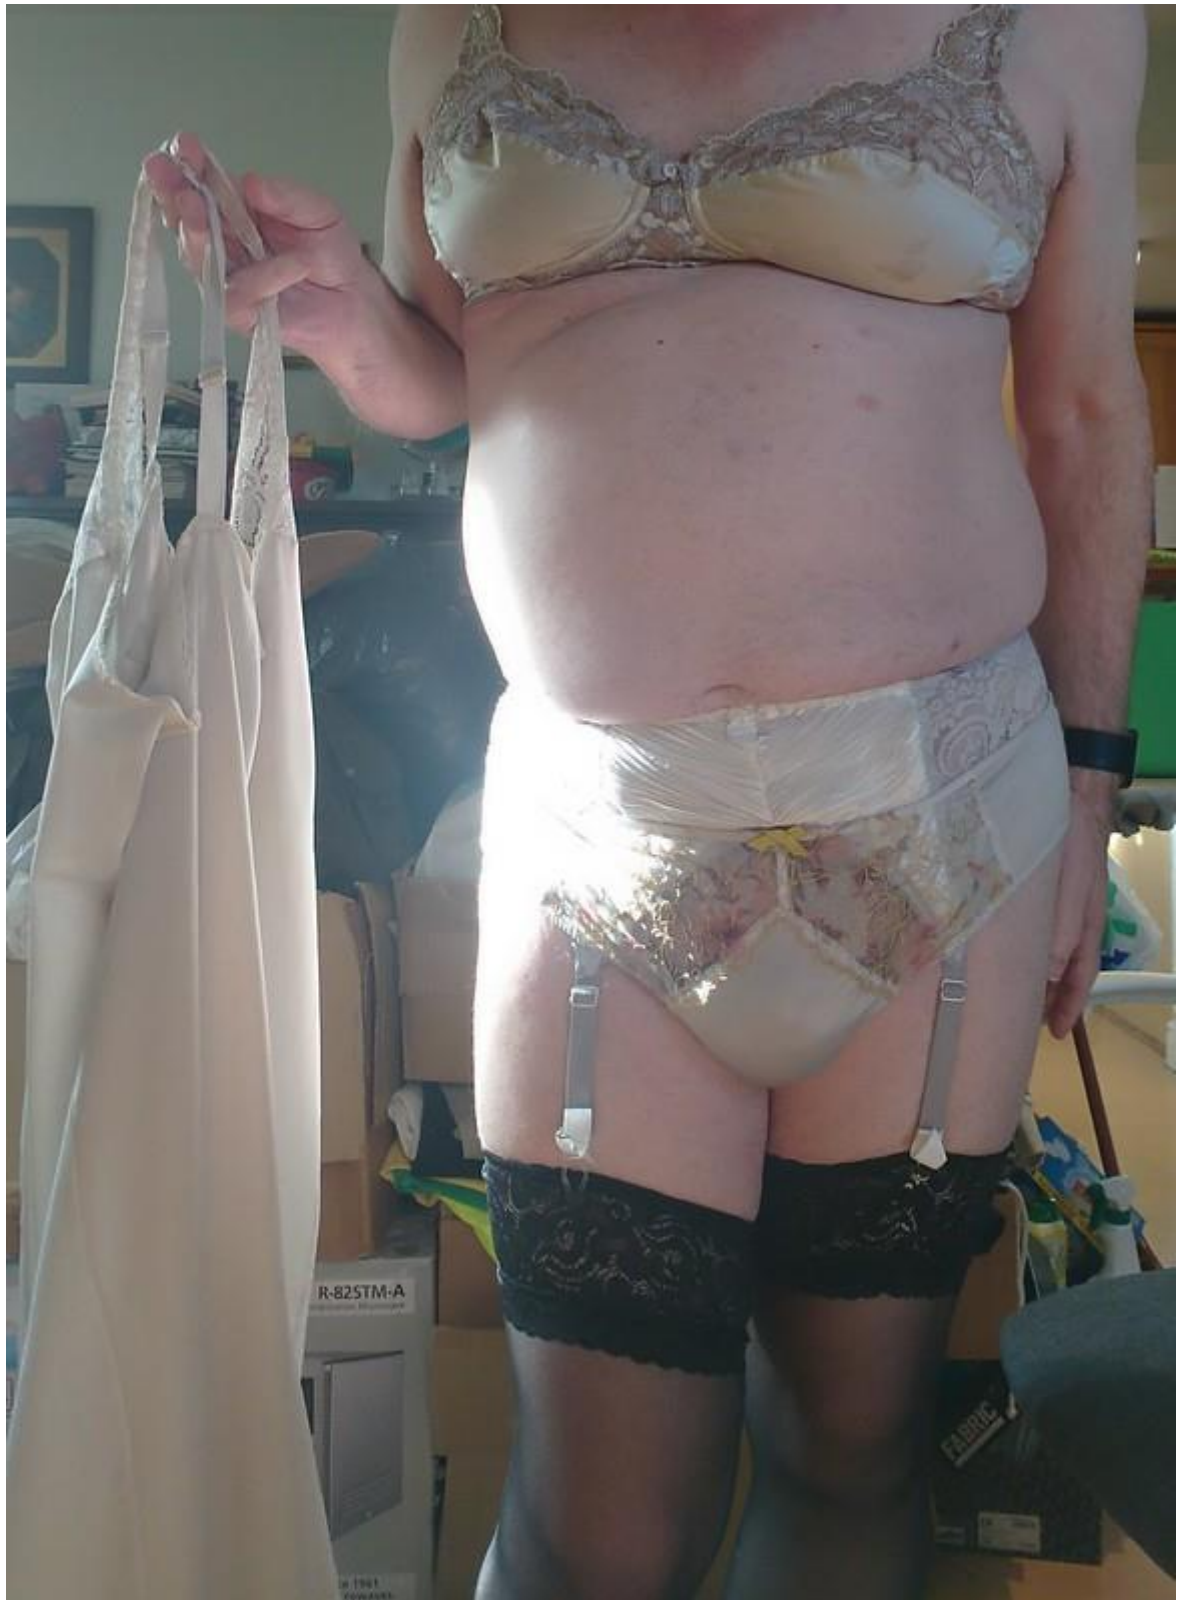

Then she steps into her favourite grey checked office skirt.

This day she chose cream lingerie and brown lace top stockings.

A brown slip, panties, bra and stockings, this day.

Another panties, bra, stockings and slip outfit for the home office

In the home office in a nice sheer blouse, bra and big tits on show.

Another day in pleated skirt and blouse. Andrea likes to show off her cleavage and lacy bra.

And finally, what you hoped to see in the office, Andrea getting her big tits out. Enjoy.

The End
