

Online Shopping by Andrea Slip

A photo article by Andrea Slip

A non-fiction article about the clothing and lingerie I have bought online since the start of lockdown.

<http://www.software04.uk/>

When I started cross-dressing many years ago, I would go to big chain stores like Littlewoods, C & A, BHS and Marks and Spencer's to buy pretty slips and panties. Many of those stores fell by the wayside and even those left stopped selling slips, except Marks and Spencer. The brown slip and white panties on the left were from M&S. I wore these with suspenders and sheer white stockings in a hotel whilst away on business. The cream half-slip and bra on the right came from BHS. I wore these at home with sheer black nylon stockings. I pulled the slip tight so that you can see how excited I get in nylon lingerie, especially slips.

I bought many pretty slips, panties, suspender belts and hosiery from Marks and Spencers. Their displays were also so pretty, as shown here. I often wanted to buy the whole display of panties, French knickers, bras and camisoles.

This is one of my favourite full-length M&S black slips. It has a very lacy bust with wide straps, it is very comfortable to wear. Perhaps you can tell I was wearing pink Vanity Fair panties underneath the slip?

Then I discovered charity shops. They sometimes had some nice slips. This lovely white full slip came from a local charity shop and cost only about £3. It was in really good condition, a bargain.

Charity shops sometimes even had new old stock stockings, still in the packet, never opened. However, slips gradually fell out of fashion, mainly due to skirts becoming lined, so women were not buying slips from store. Then after maybe five years even slips started disappearing from charity shops.

The saviour for me was online shopping. This is a much easier option for a cross dresser. For some deep in the closet receiving soft squishy parcels may be hard to explain, but it is fine for me in my home life.

This article is about the online shopping I have done since lockdown started last year. I mostly buy from eBay and sometimes from Wish. Wish is based in China. The clothes are very cheap, but sizes can be tricky and sometimes they can take several months to arrive. Something described as size 20 or extra-large (my regular size) can sometimes be a really tight fit or even will not fit at all, but it is cheap, so it is worth the risk. Sizes on eBay are more accurate from UK sellers, but clothes are more expensive.

I am going to show you the online advertisement and then my interpretation of how I style that item. First up is a pair of black seamed stockings with a pretty peacock feathers pattern at the top of the stocking. This came from Wish and was only available for a short while.

I am delighted how these turned out, they are so unusual and so pretty. The green colour goes so well with my green dress and green full slip. You will see these stockings again in some of my other photos.

When I saw this on eBay I thought it was a short flowery skirt and a separate top. I did not realise that it was a dress with a fitted top in black or white.

I was pleased with this dress, it fits well. I wore it with a black full slip, black stockings, and a black chiffon scarf. I have recently been buying shorter dresses that show off my legs clad in sheer hosiery better and of course with a lacy hem of slip peeping out.

I have bought several pairs of boobs over the years. These are the biggest and best looking, a D cup. They are not easy to put on or take off but they do look good. I bought them from Wish, they were much cheaper than from eBay.

I love how realistic they look with just panties, suspenders and stockings

And with a bra. They show some amazing cleavage.

This is a cute short A—shape skirt in grey from eBay.

I decided to wear black sheer M&S tights and a black sheer blouse with the skirt. I love how long my legs look in sheer black nylons and the short skirt.

JETWAYTUNG

This is a six-strap suspender belt from Wish. It is gorgeous, I wear it a lot with my stockings.

It looks really good with a black slip, black panties and black stockings. I love how the lacy pattern, suspender straps and stocking tops frame my stiff clitty. I often wear this suspender belt to work with stockings.

I liked it so much I bought a white version as well to wear with white lingerie.

This delightful sheer top is from Wish. I love that in the advert you can see the model wearing a very pretty, lacy black bra under the blouse, it looks so sexy.

I have worn it the same, a black lacy bra but with a sheer pleated skirt that shows my pink satin French knickers, suspenders, and stocking tops. I do love sheer clothes that show pretty lingerie underneath.

Just like the suspender belt I also bought a white version. I think this is even sheerer than the black version. You can clearly see my lacy white slip and bra.

Back to stockings again, one gets through so many stockings in a season doesn't one? These were from eBay. The main body is shiny tan nylon, the tops and toes are bright blue.

The stockings also have blue seams. I wore them with blue panties, a blue slip, and a blue bra under a blue denim skirt.

The advert on eBay doesn't do this pink dress justice. It is a wrap over style.

I got it to go with my big boobs so that I can show some cleavage. With my black stockings and peeping lacy slip I think this would be a much better advert.

It is a lovely dress and just has to be worn with pink lingerie.

I could only find a tiny thumbnail picture of this pretty pink blouse I bought on eBay as it was more than 3 months since I bought it. It is slightly sheer on the front and very sheer on the back.

This is a better view of the pattern on the front. Make sure you are looking at the blouse not up my skirt at my pink panties and stocking tops.

The back shows I am wearing a slip and bra through the sheer material.

This is a blue denim skirt from eBay.

Here I am wearing the denim skirt with a blue full slip, frilly blue panties, blue suspenders, and sheer barely black stockings. I do love the match the colour of my lingerie with my outer clothes. I also love seeing a woman dressed in a skirt and no blouse, looks so sexy seeing a slip and bra with the skirt.

Here the skirt is worn with a pink blouse, a pink slip, blue heels, and black stockings. My slip is peeping form under the blue denim skirt. I do love to show a peeping slip.

This red blouse came from eBay. It is slightly sheer.

We can see my red slip through the blouse and the lacy hem peeping out from under my skirt. This would be a much better advert than the photo used on eBay.

This was an unusual dress for me to buy, it came from eBay. It is a party dress with some cleavage and is quite long.

However, I do like the way it fits. I sometimes use FaceApp to give my face a more complete feminine appearance. This is how I would like to appear as I was ready to go to a party.

However, this dress was an opportunity to match my French knickers, slip and stockings with the dress to give a sexy view when you look up my skirt.

Now a recent acquisition of matching panties and bra from eBay. For once the advert gives a nice view of the lingerie being modelled. There were three different options for colour. I have many red and black panty and bra sets so I went for the purple.

I wore the panties and bra with purple suspenders, sheer black stockings (with the peacock feather pattern tops) a little purple half-slip and black heels.

The back of the panties are very lacy.

Now a pair of pale blue heels by M&S I bought from eBay. Sophie Silk modelled a similar pair of pale blue heels on Flickr recently, she teamed the heels with a very lacy pink half-slip. I loved the colour combination. Although I have lots of heels I didn't have some in this colour.

As seen earlier, the pale blue heels are teamed with my blue denim skirt, black stockings, a pink blouse and a pink half-slip.

I think that you will be seeing more of these gorgeous heels. Although I often manipulate my images with FaceApp to make me look more feminine I do sometimes like to show you the real me enjoying wearing a skirt, blouse, stockings, two peeping slips and my fabulous new heels.

I liked the swirling pattern of vine leaves on these stockings. I bought the black pair from eBay. I have not bought the white pair, yet!

I wore them with heels, a black full slip and a short black skirt with lovely white bows. I think they make my legs look fabulous.

I wore my sheer white blouse that shows my black slip. The pattern on the blouse almost matches the pattern on the skirt. The stockings are unusual with the pattern on the side, I love how they look. They are actually hold ups but I often wear suspenders with hold ups, just to be secure.

I do have several black dresses, but I really fell for this lacy black dress I saw on eBay, that is sheer at the top.

It looks lovely on and has a slight A shape to it. It is perfect with a black slip, black stockings and black peep-toe high heels. The dress comes with a heavy liner, I sometimes remove the liner of a dress so that my slip can be seen better, I might do that with this dress as well. It is skirt and dress lining that killed slips, I think slips look much prettier under a dress and feel so silky.

The frilly bottom of the dress does make a nice edge to the dress when seen from below, perfect for an upskirt view like this.

This was a flowery skirt from eBay. It is a bit longer than I would usually wear but does have a nice split.

Here I am wearing the skirt with a green slip, a green top and black stockings.

Now we see me wearing the skirt with a sheer lacy blouse that matches some of the blue flowers and a black lacy bra that matches the background of the skirt. As I lean forward you can see the lacy hem of my blue half-slip showing nicely through the split in the skirt. You are probably wondering what panties and hosiery I am wearing under the skirt and slip?

Here we see my black French knickers, my silky blue half-slip, lace top sheer nylon stockings, and strappy high heeled black sandals. All of this gorgeous nylon lingerie is backed by the flowery skirt. I rather like this view, do you?

When I got my bigger boobs, see earlier pictures, I had to get some bigger bras from eBay. I was rather taken with this black bra and pink applique.

This bra fits perfectly with my boobs. I love the sheer panel which reveal lots of my tits.

I wanted a blouse that would reveal new cleavage. I bought this grey one from eBay. I thought that the zip could be fun in allowing me to choose how much I wanted to reveal of my boobs or bra, lots or none.

I wore it with my grey skirt and my new pink / black bra, both of which were seen earlier. I teamed it with a pink half-slip and black stockings.

I wanted a slightly shorter dress, like that worn by Paige Collins in Flickr. I bought the navy blue dress with white polka dots from Wish. Guess what, I liked it so much I bought the white version as well.

When I bought the dress, I thought it was actually black but as you can see from the photo it has a lovely navy-blue sheen to it. I wore it with a white full slip that peeps out over my black stockings.

I am really pleased dress although as with many Wish dresses it is rather tight for what is supposed to be extra-large. I cannot wait to get my white version, but it comes from China so I will just have to hold my horses. Perhaps I can wear it with a black full slip.

I bought these electric blue stockings by Gio, from eBay.

I wore then with blue French knickers, blue suspenders, a blue half-slip, dark blue heels, a black pleated skirt and my sheer lacy blue blouse as seen before. I wore a pale blue bra, which shows through the lacy blouse.

This was a smaller set of boobs I bought from eBay. They are easier to wear than my big boobs, they can just slip in a bra. Not all of my bras or dresses will work with the big boobs so I wanted something smaller.

Being slightly smaller they fit inside many of my bras without showing too much. On the left I m wearing the boobs with a shaped full bra in black and white with matching panties and lacy stocking tops. On the right I am wearing with a slightly sheer black bra that shows the nipples. I have just got back from the office and have taken off my black check office skirt to reveal my black bra, black nylon half-slip and sheer black nylon stockings. I wore a sheer back blouse as well which is hidden behind my skirt.

I recently bought these seamed stockings from eBay, the advert is rather nice showing the seam on the stockings and a dotted pattern. The model also shows she is wearing a black bra, black panties and a black suspender belt. The lingerie is nice but looks rather plain to me.

Although the top of the stockings and the pattern are black the main body of sheer nylon is brown. I decided to wear them with my lacy brown slip and brown Boden dress.

The stockings feel wonderful with my slip and dress, they make me feel so femme and excited.

In this photo you can see the seams nice and clearly, plus my silky brown panties, black suspenders, and brown bra.

Sometimes purchases do not work out as expected. I bought this dress from eBay recently. It is quite short and has a sexy revealing bust. It looked like a nice light summer dress.

When I got the dress, I realised I had made a mistake. I thought the pattern was a light cotton print, but it has glittery material glued on top of a heavy body. Finally, it was advertised as a size 20 but there is no way I can get the dress on, it is way too tight. I might sell it on. This is the only downside to buying online, if I had been in a retail shop, I would have rejected it straight away. Oh well, it was a rare mistake.

And finally, there are things I see, that I would love to wear but I know it is much too small or it is just too expensive. This satin look, purple and yellow slip looks gorgeous. I would love to wear it with my purple panties and bra shown early. However, the slip is a size UK size 8 and almost £40 or best offer. So that is a no, no.

I hope you enjoyed this article about what items look like online and then how they look on me.

The End

*Copyright Andrea Slip
25th April 2021*

*Other photo stories are at: <http://www.software04.uk/>
If you enjoyed this story and want to show your appreciation please use the contact form for comments, positive feed-back, ideas for future stories.*