

A FOUR PART VIRTUAL CONVERSATION
WITH DIARMUID O'MURCHU AND ANNE LUTHER
CONTEMPORARY SPIRITUALITY
AN EVOLVING PROCESS OF WAKING UP

FRIDAYS, 10 A.M. TO 12:30 EST
AUGUST 6, 13, 20, 27

We will begin with conversation between Diarmuid and Anne before moving into groups of 4 or 5 for peer conversation, take a brief break and then engage with the entire gathered virtual community.

FORMAT/PROCESS: In part, this is an invitation into adult-to-adult conversation about what really matters. An opportunity to consider our own individual experience of spirituality, our questions and wonders, where and how we may need to stretch and expand, and to learn from the shared wisdom of an adult community of seekers coming from a variety of backgrounds. All of this within a consciousness of an ever expanding and spirit infused universe inviting our participation into a larger, collective, still being written, story.

FOCUS: Among the topics we hope to explore are: how do we differentiate religion and spirituality? What do we mean by evolution in terms of contemporary spirituality? What does the integration of spirituality and an inherited faith system look like? How does an emerging spirituality change our understanding of Jesus? How do we reconcile the emerging spirituality with denominational affiliation? And, if you, as a perspective participant have other questions, please send them along!
