

Consular Day in Adelaide 9 November 2026, during which passport applications will be accepted

During the Consular Day it will be possible to lodge passport applications using the mobile passport station.

The address where the Consular Day will be taking place is 334 Glen Osmond Road, Myrtle Bank SA

To express your interest, please complete this form, providing basic personal information, details of your current passport, and, where applicable, information about other documents proving Czech citizenship that may be required as part of the application process.

Applicants who are eligible to apply for a passport will be offered a specific appointment time. Due to enormous interest and limited capacity of the Consular Officer, passport applications during Consular Day are strictly on an appointment only basis.

Applicants who are unable to lodge a passport application at that stage (for example, because they do not possess the necessary documents proving Czech citizenship) will be contacted by the Consulate General to discuss the available options for obtaining the required documents and submitting a passport application at a later date.

In addition, during the Consular Day, already-issued passports can be handed over to applicants who already applied for their passport at the Consulate General of the Czech Republic in Sydney. Please note it is currently not possible to accept applications for “občanské průkazy” using the mobile passport station.

For organisational reasons, the Consular Day will be dedicated first and foremost to passport applications, which can be processed in person only.

We ask all applicants interested consular services other than applying for a passport (e.g. verification of signature and copies of documents, applying for a Czech Criminal Record, registry documents, a Czech Citizenship Certificate or to be included on the Special Voter's List at the Consulate General in Sydney) to contact our office on sydney@mzv.gov.cz for more information.
