Mother & Daughter Duo Turn Difficult Time into a Passion of Love

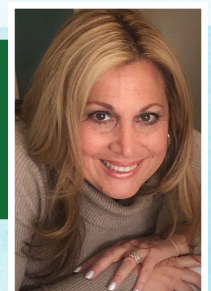

2020 could not have been over soon enough for Mary Lee an 80 something year old great grandmother and her publisher advertising director daughter Monica Lee.

Mary Lee an artist wound up in an assisted living center breaking her ankle during the Covid 19 out-break. The isolation for both mother and daughter during this difficult time turned into a productive creation of their beloved SAMMY B characters all who represent a family member and friends.

"I feel blessed to have such a close relationship with my mother. From our moment of confinement our facetime conversations centered around our project and the concept of putting a smile on children's faces as well as the adult reader," says Monica.

Mary Lee adds, "I think SAMMY B And FRIENDS symbolizes that at any age and any storm in our lives something positive can happen."

Monica is the principal of Eloquent Media Communications, an advertising and marketing firm. She has spent more than two decades in the publishing business. She headed up the Business Connector Radio Talk Show, authored thousands of articles and for a decade hosted The Business Connector Magazine Business Symposium and networking events.
